

Immediation Panel Member

Paul Sills

A domestic and international arbitrator, mediator and barrister who draws on over 25 years of commercial and legal experience, Paul specialises in the early resolution of disputes both nationally and internationally for the benefit of all parties involved.

Paul has extensive experience in sports law and has represented individuals at an international level in cycling, squash, motor racing and rugby (including All Blacks).

He is the chairperson of the appeals committee for Netball NZ and was an age group adjudicator for Triathlon NZ. Paul has also lectured in sports law at UNITEC Institute of Technology.

In December 2020 Paul was awarded the NZ Mediator of the Year award at the Law Awards.
