The Environmental Policy of Eurovent is to ensure, so far as it is reasonably practicable, that its operations will be carried out with a commitment to protecting and enhancing the environment.

Eurovent therefore seeks to comply with all relevant environmental legislation and regulation. It also aims to establish higher standards of environmental performance where these are practicable and appropriate.

Employees of Eurovent also have legal and moral obligations to carry out their duties with concern for the environment. It is a condition of employment that all staff comply with this Policy.

We will communicate with our clients on aspects of our environmental performance, and will engage any concerns or interests they express in our environmental improvement programme.

Eurovent actively supports the principles of pollution prevention, to reduce the adverse environmental impacts of our operations within reasonably practicable levels.

Through a programme of continual environmental improvement, we will demonstrate our commitment to:

- Complying fully with relevant environmental legislation.
- Optimising efficient use of raw materials and non-renewable resources.
- Improving efficiency of operations
- Minimising production of wastes at source
- Improving energy usage and energy reduction
- Specifying and using products which minimise their environmental impacts in production, use and disposal
- Providing all employees with an understanding of this environmental policy, and their responsibilities in controlling and improving environmental performance.

In the event of an environmental accident or incident at work, it is a company requirement that the details are promptly and properly reported to the Management, who will investigate and take prompt action to make good and avoid recurrence.

All contractors working on behalf of Eurovent are required to adopt environmental standards fully consistent with those of the Company and they are expected to achieve comparable levels of performance as a condition of their contract

The management team of Eurovent, who take prime responsibility for the delivery of its aspirations, have also reviewed this Environment Policy.
