If you disable cookies, certain features may not function.

Clear GIFs, pixel tags and other technologies. Clear GIFs are tiny graphics with a unique identifier, similar in function to cookies. We may use clear GIFs (also referred to as web beacons, web bugs or pixel tags), in connection with our Services to, among other things, track the activities users of our Services, help us manage content, and compile statistics about usage of our Services. We and our service providers also use clear GIFs in HTML emails to our customers, to help us track email response rates and identify when our emails are viewed or forwarded.

The information is used to target our campaigns, not those of others.

As noted above, you may also control how Facebook and other third parties display certain ads to you, as explained further in their respective privacy policies and ad preferences pages. You can also obtain more information about targeted advertising, and how to opt-out of such ads from many third-party ad networks (including Facebook and Google), through www.aboutads.info/choices. You may also continue to receive targeted ads on other websites, from companies that do not participate in the above programs. Many opt-out mechanisms are cookie based. So, if you delete cookies, block cookies or use another device, your opt-out will no longer be effective.

These third party sites may set cookies to enable the Widgets to function properly and they may collect your IP address browsing history.
