Neighborhood Planning Unit FAQ

Q: What is a Neighborhood Planning Unit? What is the NPU System?

A: The City of Atlanta is divided into twenty-five Neighborhood Planning Units (NPUs), which are citizen advisory councils that make recommendations to the Mayor and City Council on zoning, land use, and other planning-related matters. The NPU system was established in 1974 by the late Mayor Maynard Jackson to provide an opportunity for all residents to actively participate in the Comprehensive Development Plan, which is the official citywide vision for growth over the next five, ten, and fifteen years.
Since then, the NPU system has evolved into what it is today: the official avenue for residents to express concerns and provide input in developing plans to address the needs of each neighborhood, as well as to receive updates from City government

Q: Which NPU do I live in?

A: If you know your address: Input your address and press enter on our interactive Property Info map (which contains a property's neighborhood, NPU, zoning classification, land use code, and more), linked here: gis.atlantaga.gov/propinfo
If you know your neighborhood: Browse our alphabetical list of neighborhoods with their corresponding NPU listed alongside, linked here: NPU by Neighborhood page
If you know your NPU: Browse our Neighborhood Directory, organized by NPU, to view all the contacts for your NPU and its associated neighborhood organizations, linked here: Neighborhood & NPU Contacts page
A brief note: per Legislation 17-O-1423 (signed by the Mayor on 12/13/17), the boundaries of NPU-F have expanded due to annexation. Please see the most recent NPU-F map here
