

Aaron's Bio

Aaron Tilton is the Chief Executive Officer of SmartFi, which he co-founded with a vision to empower users by explaining the confusing nature of cryptocurrencies to a broad audience and making the modern tools of wealth generation accessible to all.

Aaron is also the President and CEO of Blue Castle Holdings and Power Block Coin. As co-founder in 2007, Aaron has chief responsibility to oversee the development of the leading new nuclear plant project in the Western US.

Previously Aaron developed and negotiated equity positions and power purchase agreements with municipal and investor owned utilities throughout the Southwest. Aaron led these activities for two new power projects in the region.

Aaron had also advised a venture capital firm on state regulatory matters for an online pharmacy that utilized an online medical consultation. Aaron has broad experience in pharmacy automation software and hardware solutions.

Aaron is a former Utah State Representative, having originally been appointed to the seat by Governor Walker when it was prematurely vacated. He was formally elected to the position in 2004, and again re-elected in 2006.

Aaron is a Utah native where he lives with his family. He is active in his church and loves to ride Motocross with his son.