• Do you want to activate your staff to adopt more sustainable business behaviors?

• Do you want to go beyond single informational presentations and adopt meaningful change?

• Do you need help in adopting new waste reduction measures at work?

WE CAN HELP.

We have run hundreds of recycling and waste prevention workshops with businesses and community groups. However, we want to activate individuals and businesses to move forward with new initiatives. We have created a new 90-day challenge to help companies achieve several goals, including some of the following:

1. Remove 1, 2, or 3 single-use items from your office space...move beyond switching from single-use plastics to compostables. Become a ‘throw-away free’ environment.

2. Increase your recycling rate by 20% and improve the quality of your recycling.

3. Organise Reuse and Repair events in your office.

4. Energise or establish your Green Team.

5. Create internal comms channel to share ideas

We have many other initiatives we can help you to adopt.

We find that getting definite and measurable wins in one area will motivate your team and lead to other initiatives that will point your business towards more sustainable practices such as energy and water efficiency measures, better travel policies, more conscious food consumption and management.
