MISSOURI FARMING COMPANY

Agriculture

HOME ABOUT TEAM CONTACT

WELCOME TO MISSOURI: A LAND MADE FOR HEMP. MISSOURI FARMING COMPANY REPRESENTS A FARMING GROUP BASED OUT OF NW MISSOURI WITH A FOCUS IN THE CULTIVATION AND PROCESSING OF THE HEMP PLANT.

WE'RE VETERAN FARMERS AND AGRICULTURALISTS WITH DEEP FAMILY ROOTS IN THE MOST HISTORICALLY SIGNIFICANT HEMP PRODUCTION SITE IN THE COUNTRY, AND WE'RE APPLYING THAT HERITAGE AND EXPERTISE TO THE EMERGENT HEMP PRODUCTION INDUSTRY AS IT RETURNS TO OUR STATE AFTER THE REPEAL OF PROHIBITION.

WE GROW, RESEARCH AND PROCESS THE HEMP PLANT, APPLYING OUR MANY-GENERATIONAL LEGACY OF AGRICULTURAL EXPERIENCE IN THE REGION TO DEVELOP THE LOCAL HEMP INDUSTRY IN A WAY THAT BENEFITS THE FARMERS AND THE PEOPLE OF MISSOURI.

WE ARE MISSOURI FARMING COMPANY... A FARMER PARTNERSHIP INVESTED IN GROWING HEMP AND REESTABLISHING THE LOCAL HEMP PRODUCTION INDUSTRY IN A WAY THAT BENEFITS THE FARMERS AND THE PEOPLE OF OUR STATE.

OUR HERITAGE

Our farm is tucked away in a quiet, sun-drenched corner of Buchanan County not far from the banks of the Missouri River. That puts us in the Missouri Alluvial Valley, where high concentrations of nutrient-rich loess topsoil marks one of the most fertile agricultural regions on the planet.

The ideal nature of that geography is evident in the history of our region. In 1875, the rich black earth we share with neighboring Platte County yielded more hemp per acre than any other soil on the planet. The conditions we enjoy are so perfectly suited to the hemp plant that, prior to prohibition, NW Missouri was considered the nation's industry leader in hemp production.

Having farmed this land for over 100 consecutive years, with four generations calling NW Missouri 'home', we're no strangers to that fact. We know all too well the sly feel of loess under our fingertips, and we've seen with our own eyes how tobacco prospers in our fields. The history of this land is our history, too, and we're proud to reclaim our heritage as one of the finest sources of high-quality hemp the world will ever know.

SUSTAINABILITY

IT'S IMPORTANT TO US THAT WE PRACTICE FARMING WHICH IS SUSTAINABLE, BOTH FOR OUR LOCAL ENVIRONMENT AND FOR THE WORLD WE ALL LIVE IN. TO THAT END, WE UTILIZE A NUMBER OF SUSTAINABLE AGRICULTURAL PRACTICES.

As part of a precision agriculture strategy, we implement variable rate application across all areas of our farming. Our seed, fertilizer, nitrogen and phosphate—everything is measured and applied at precise ratios that minimize waste.

That includes soil testing and yield analysis to ensure efficiency. We grid sample all of our soil over every 2.5 acres, using the data we gather to improve all of our sustainable practices.

In order to protect and enrich our soil over the long-term, over the last 6 years we've implemented cover crops: today, we grow cover crops on 100% of our row crop acres as a tried and true means to reduce soil compaction and minimize the application of unnecessary herbicides.

To preserve our high-quality soil, we've long practiced no-till farming—in fact, we've been no-till for over 32 years. More recently, we've begun the process of converting to organic fertilizer, including chicken and turkey litter, and we reuse manure from our cattle feed lots as fertilizer.

WE'RE INVESTED IN SUSTAINABLE FARMING PRACTICES, AND WE'RE ALWAYS LOOKING INTO NEW WAYS TO EXPAND OUR ENVIRONMENTALLY-FRIENDLY APPROACH.

OUR MISSION

Through Missouri Farming Company, we can partner together and develop a path toward achieving that vision of a thriving hemp landscape to an extent that goes beyond the capabilities of individual farmers acting on their own.

Even as we prepare for our first grow season in 2020, we've already begun that collaborative process. We know full well that agriculture in this day and age requires developing infrastructure, coordinating with regulators, collaborating within the industry, and so on.

Missouri Farming Company is ultimately about using our perspective and our voice as Missouri farmers to develop a local hemp production

OUR ORGANIZATION

Anticipating deregulation, we founded Missouri Farming Company with the purpose of bringing together our fellow farmers of NW Missouri to reestablish our region as the hemp capital of the country.

We are the ongoing recipients of a grant through the Missouri Agricultural and Small Business Development Authority to conduct a feasibility study regarding the viability of hemp production in Missouri, alongside a market study regarding the production, cultivation and sale of hemp.

As part of that grant we are developing a report establishing the knowledge Missouri farmers ought to have as they prepare to grow the
