Walcha's Open Air Gallery has been named as one of the best public art experiences in the nation, having been shortlisted for the 2020 Australian Street Art Awards' Best Sculpture Park or Trail category.

The winners in all eight Australian Street Art Awards categories will be announced on Tuesday 2 March on Queensland's Sunshine Coast.

Awards Director, Liz Rivers, said "The Awards showcase towns like Walcha that are using outdoor art to transform their appeal, while educating Australians about the magnificent array of publicly-accessible art that can be found in every corner of the country.

"Securing a finalist berth in the prestigious Awards further cements the New England High Country's reputation as bucket list destination for tourists who love to seek out art experiences," Ms Rivers said.

Judging focussed on the way the art has been used to attract visitors and bring the local community together safely under the challenging COVID-19 conditions. "With COVID restrictions on indoor numbers in most states and territories, street and public art is a free gift to every traveller," Ms Rivers said.

The Walcha Open Air Gallery began in 1996 with a fountain piece by local sculptor and grazier Stephen King and has grown impressively to now include 55 sculptures and artworks by renowned local, national and international artists. In addition to many major pieces that have attracted international accolades, local artists and technicians also came together to give Walcha a unique identity through the design and carving of 30+ verandah posts that now adorn shopfronts in the town.

The judges said, "We're impressed with Walcha's commitment to not only growing the gallery but also improving the visitor experience. Most recently this can be witnessed through the development of the Walcha Sculpture Soundtrail - a dynamic, immersive storytelling experience that is a critical element in fully educating and entertaining visitors".

around the traps

By BRUCE RUTHERFORD

It appears summer has gone before it arrived with March just around the corner and very little hot weather since November. After a blast of heat in October and November, we have hardly tested the thermometer at the top end. It has been the mildest of summers, with a very wet December and mild days since. It will be interesting to see how these mild temperatures affect us through autumn and winter. Maybe we are in for a cold one?

Rainfall in the last week has been very heavy along much of the north coast with some local flooding. Once the rainfall reaches the top of the range it dries out quickly on the western side. There have been a few people telling me just how wet they have been on the eastern fall, with rain most days. If only! There has also been plenty of monsoon activity in the north of QLD which is great to see. It would be even better if some of that ventured further south into central and western QLD which does not appear likely at this point. If it did rain in the central west of QLD, it would soak up a lot of cattle.

The livestock business has been busy with sales of cattle and sheep ramping up again since the Christmas break. In fact the livestock interest did not slow down too much over Christmas, but it has ramped up since and there is certainly plenty to do at the moment. Producers are weaning lambs and getting ewes ready for joining. So we are seeing plenty of lambs starting to be sold, some older ewes being classed out and coming on the market. In the cattle side of the business there is also plenty happening with feeder lines in particular. The feedlots have been aggressively chasing anything suitable and there have been a lot of cattle finding their way onto feed. We are not too far away from starting to sell weaners and the few we have sold to date have sold very well. Buying strength is coming from all directions and it never ceases to amaze me just how far the reach of Auctions Plus is when it comes to selling lines of livestock.

In regional saleyards this week, prices have eased slightly for cattle with the latest EYCI number sitting at 864 c/kg which is down from its peak early in February, but still a long way in front of the 709 c/kg for the same week a year ago. Tamworth yarded 1193 cattle on Monday which was a decrease of 157 c/kg on the previous week. Most price variation seemed to be largely breed related, but trends were easier generally. Wagga yarded 2595 cattle on Monday which was similar to last weeks numbers and trends down that way were firm to dearer for most of the feeder cattle, with processors not as strong on the export cattle as the previous week. The heavy steers were quoted up to 10c/kg cheaper and while there were less operators in the cow market, it was fully firm with the top cows selling from 300 to 331 c/kg. Forbes numbers on Monday nearly doubled to 919 head and trends were quoted as dearer throughout.

Most cattle markets are reporting more condition on the cattle, but quality is quoted as mixed. From that I am thinking there are a lot of northern cattle starting to come through. Cattle that were bought in spring or even winter last year that are now finding their way to markets. There are certainly a lot of northern cattle in the Walcha district and I think most people who have had them have been happy with the way they have adjusted to our feed and climate. I am not so sure about how they will do through winter if they are coming in and don't have time to adjust, but past experience tells me they won't be too excited about the cold weather if they arrive in autumn. I know we have been very impressed with some of the northern cattle we have bought and their temperament is far better than I imagined.

Tamworth yarded 5100 sheep and lambs on Monday, with the autumn lamb show and sale as part of the day. It was a good quality yarding and prices were quoted as firm to dearer throughout. Restocker interest was strong on suitable lines and the processors stepped up to the plate for the heavier trade and export types. Mutton also sold well at Tamworth with 1700 on offer and some good runs of heavier sheep on offer. Restockers continue to drive prices for the younger ewe portion of the offering. Dubbo yarded 10,700 sheep and lambs this Monday which was 2200 less than the previous week. Once gain trends were stronger and prices for most trade and heavy lambs were up to $10 dearer. Mutton prices at Dubbo took off with most prices quoted $18 to $22 dearer. There would be some terrific sheep coming through some of these southern and western markets now after such a great season. Restockers are also very active on anything else they can see a twist in.

Council welcomes Interim GM

Being a part of a smaller community appealed to Chris Weber when he accepted the position of our Interim General Manager for the next three to four months.

Chris grew up in Tamworth and then moved away to complete University studies before taking up a position with Macquarie Bank in Sydney. He also travelled abroad with the bank, working in four countries. "I was really keen to get back to the country when I had a family and Tamworth was a great place to come back to," he said.

That was ten years ago now, and Chris has been employed by Tamworth Regional Council in a range of roles including IT, service review and organisational improvement, and for the past four years as the Director of Corporate Services.

Chris is looking forward to being in Walcha, and recalls playing rugby here in his younger days in very miserable conditions. "Councils make towns better places to live, and I hope to be able to help Council make a difference in my time here in Walcha," he said.

Mayor Eric Noakes said "Walcha Council is looking forward to working with Chris over the coming months".

COVID-19 vaccination ready to roll in rural and remote Australia

Federal Regional Health Minister, Mark Coulton said the Australian Government is committed to providing safe and effective COVID-19 vaccines free to everyone in Australia – no matter where they live.

“We are ready to roll out COVID-19 vaccines with hundreds of distribution points nationwide,” Minister Coulton said.

“Further sites will be finalised in the coming weeks and will include rural, regional and remote based GP-led Respiratory Clinics, GPs, community pharmacies, state and territory vaccination clinics and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community-Controlled Health Organisation clinics.

“The Government’s call out to GPs and community pharmacies will strengthen the rollout and will allow people living in regional, rural and remote communities to access COVID-19 vaccinations side by side with the rest of the nation.”

Minister Coulton said thousands of aged care residents, including many in regional Australia, will receive their first COVID-19 vaccine dose next week.

Residents and staff in 134 regional and rural aged care facilities – almost 44 per cent of the initial vaccination locations - will be among those who get their first COVID-19 vaccine next week.

“Protecting the most vulnerable citizens in our regions is an absolute priority.

“We are fortunate to have in AstraZeneca a vaccine that is well suited to be deployed right across the vast expanses of the country.

“We have also been working hard to ensure the unique storage requirements of the Pfizer vaccine are not a barrier for our regional areas.”

Both vaccines demonstrate they will stop people becoming very sick – keeping them off ventilators and out of hospital.

“The Federal Government will continue to work closely with state and territory governments and key stakeholders to ensure communities in regional, rural and remote Australia are informed about the rollout.”

Find out more about the rollout and priority groups at: aus.gov.au.

Hain bound for Sydney after win in Armidale

Instead of being in the spectator stands at Sydney Royal Easter Show this year, 17 year old Hain van Eyk will be out on the mat judging, having qualified recently at the Northern Merino Ram Breeders' Association junior judging competition in Armidale.

Hain had to withstand some tough competition, with 60 students from Armidale, Uralla, Inverell and Tamworth competing, as well as his sister Abi who came out on top last year when she was runner up. The duo took home both broad ribbons this year, with Hain being named champion, and Abi Reserve Champion.

As a warm-up for his appearance at the Sydney Royal, Hain has been invited to be an Associate Judge at a Ewe Competition in southern NSW by a representative of the NSW Stud Merino Breeders Association.

"I've always wanted to go to Sydney to judge Merino sheep," Hain said.

Growing up in the industry, the pair have a keen interest in the wool industry. "They have been heavily exposed to the wool industry since they were babies so they grew up going to shows and the Sydney Show, helping with sheep all their lives, so they have just picked up little things along the way," Hain's father, Joe van Eyk said.

Leptospirosis warning as wet weather attracts rodents

Hunter New England Health is urging Walcha residents to take precautions against leptospirosis, following an increase in rats and mice due to the wet weather.

Hunter New England Public Health Physician, Dr David Durrheim, said leptospirosis is a disease spread from animals to humans, caused by bacteria found in infected animal urine and tissues.

"Outbreaks of the disease usually occur following exposure to water, soil and mud that has been contaminated with infected animal urine, especially rodent urine. The bacteria can enter the body through skin cuts or abrasions, the lining of the mouth, nose, and eyes – and in rare cases through contaminated food and water."

Symptoms typically develop five to 14 days following infection and can include fever, severe headache, sore muscles, chills, vomiting and red eyes. Diagnosis can be difficult as symptoms can mimic other diseases such as influenza. Often, people with leptospirosis do not develop all the symptoms.

"Some people may require hospitalisation if they experience kidney failure, jaundice, haemorrhaging of the skin and mucous membranes, meningitis or bleeding in the lungs," Dr Durrheim said.

People with certain occupations are at increased risk of contracting the disease, including farmers, veterinarians and abattoir workers. There is also a higher risk for those who enjoy outdoor recreational activities such as camping, gardening, bushwalking and water sports.

Get cooking for the Walcha Show

From Vic McIvor, Chief Stewardess

We have been very lucky that the Show Society have agreed to go ahead with the show this year due to COVID 19.

Entry into the pavilion to deliver your entries may be different this year, so watch for details in the coming weeks. Please be patient as this is a going to be a bit more difficult for us all.

The schedules are out and we have altered the Cooking section again this year so read carefully. Remember, the entries have to be at the pavilion by 10.30am on 11 March and will be judged at 11am. Late entries will only be displayed, not judged.

Children are encouraged to participate in their appropriate sections, and if any person needs advice we are happy to help.

Please use the recipes provided as that makes the competition equal. Your cooking has to be marked off before being collected.

The pavilion will close at 5pm Saturday for unpacking displays and will re-open at 5.30pm for collection. Any goods remaining after 6pm will be donated to the Anglican Church auction being held on Sunday.

Brad Fittler, Gus Worland and the team talked to students about the importance of building mental fitness and resilience, and how 'getting the simple things in life right' – being able to breathe through stressful

After a short Q&A, the Hogs gave a football to every student, with many students (and adults) then lining up for autographs.

Quota Club 2020 President's Report

From Lynette Smith

This report was presented at the Quota Club of Walcha Installation Dinner last Wednesday at the Bowling Club. Eric and Sheree, Lions Club president Ian Bird and Julie, and Rotary Club president Dan Micallef and Aggie attended, along with 21 Quotarians and their guests, totalling 41 people.

It is with pleasure that I present the President's Report for 2020. It has been a challenging year for the club and members.

After a vote taken by all members of Quota International in March, the international structure was disbanded on 30 September 2020 on a motion from members. Clubs were now independent, and we needed to write a new constitution, bylaws, and procedures. We also changed our name replacing international with club. We decided not to have zoom type meetings during lockdown so our AGM in April this year was held by email. We did not meet in April, May and June. Our final Region 11 Meeting in May which was to be held in Walcha was cancelled. Regions were dissolved in June. A big change was the changing our financial year to the calendar year.

With COVID-19 restrictions we decided the meet once a month at the Bowling Club for a dinner/business meeting in July. This was a radical departure from the previous 45 years of meeting twice a month with separate business and dinner meetings. This has been a great success, well attended by members. Thank you to Diane Byrne, and the Bowling catering team, for their cooperation with the meals during this year.

In September two new members, June Dangar and Veronica Jamieson, were inducted. We sadly farewelled Dulcie Holt in March after being a member of Quota in Walcha for 23 years. We have now a total of 28 members.

We were able to finish our project 'Sound Trails'. Mary Hoare led this project to completion. Congratulations Mary on a job well done. The launch was held in September, invitees were reduced from 100 to 20, the number allowed to gather outside. We used the carpark of the Walcha Motel for social distancing. Thank you to Andy for allowing us to use his premises. The internet was now fired up by the Walcha Information Centre and hits on the site and downloads increase enormously. Large road signs were ordered, and Walcha Council hung them at the four entrances to town with smaller ones on the fence at the Walcha Historical Society and the fence at the Caravan Park. They will be hung soon at Ginger's Creek and we are waiting permission from Great Lakes Council to put one at Carson's Lookout.

It was a relief to be able to do one of our projects, providing 26 Christmas boxes to The Samaritans Purse project 'Operation Christmas Child'. Disadvantaged children were provided with gifts to bring joy to their lives.

We also provided funds to buy craft materials for the residents at Walcha Hospital's Elizabeth Crosse Wing.

We started working on the 15th edition of the Walcha and District Callers Guide in October. We are aiming to have it on sale in May 2021.

Quota Park is still maintained beautifully by Coral Westfold. Thank you, Coral. We also provide funds for new plants, mowing, repairs to the watering system and fertiliser. Walcha Council helps with mulch and larger jobs.

Our World Service Dinner, Northern NSW Deaf Camp, Book Fair and Market Day were cancelled for this year. We had one fund raiser, a monster street stall which raised $1,510. Thanks to all members who contributed in any way to this successful activity. The club received a donation from the Women's Gathering which was gratefully accepted.

The club was fortunate to have funds left in our service account for this year. We were able to assist: youth by donating to local schools and Youth Off the Street - $ 1,000; cancer projects - $300; hearing and speech - $1,750; disadvantaged women and children - $1,225. Other donations were to the Fred Hollows Foundation - $250, Westpac Rescue Helicopter - $300, Just For U back packs - $ 200.

We have a very comprehensive pictorial history comprising folders. On December 31 we closed off this history and archived the folders. They are open to anyone wishing to view them. The history will now be collected and stored in a folder per year following the club activities month by month.

I am looking forward to resuming our regular club activities including the Book Fair in April, Mother's Day raffle in May, Daffodil Day in August and the Quota Christmas Markets in November. We hope to work with CWA and host a dinner featuring the country studied by them.

Thank you to my Secretary Karen Brown who became my indispensable right-hand woman this year. Thank you to Aurora for taking on the treasurer's job and doing it so diligently. The finances are in good hands. Thank you to the members of the board who steered the club through a challenging year. Thanks must also go the Pam Makeham and Diane Bazeley who have helped me enormously with re-writing our information fold, constitution, bylaws and club procedures and roles statements. Lastly, thank you to all our members. Without your support the club would not be in the good position we are in now both financially and as a service club in the Walcha community.

The winner with a score of 74 was Julie Presnell, with sweepstakes going to Jenny Lisle on 76, Ross King 77 on a count-back from Bruce Rutherford 77, Cheryl McDonald 78, Barb Mulligan 81 on a countback from Doug McDonald on 81. Lorraine also gave trophies for second shots on 18 and 7. Julie Presnell was the winner on 18 and Vicki Heffernan on 7. NTP went to Jeanette Wark on Hole 3. Ross King was the sharpest shooter with the putter knocking up 24 putts.

The monthly mugs went to Julie Presnell A Grade, Barb Mulligan B Grade and Pauline Carter C Grade.

Wednesday 3 March is scheduled for a Graham Betts Stableford playing for Lorraine Walshe's trophy.

At the 19th

Defending Walcha Golf Club Champion Andrew Bowden opened his 2021 campaign by carding a one over par 71 in the opening round of this years Championships last Sunday. He currently leads Lee Fletcher by five shots, with two rounds remaining as he strives towards winning his fourth title in succession.

In B Grade Mitch Crawford produced the third best score off the stick, 81, which equated to a 64 nett and entitled him to a trophy donated by Captain Willy Brennan for best overall nett score. Defending B Grade Champion Jamie Bowden is four shots off the pace on 85 while Brian Lynch is on top of the C Grade leaderboard on 90, four strokes clear of junior Nixon Bird on 94.

Sweepstakes went to Andrew Bowden 67, Brian Lynch 69, Lee Fletcher 70, Lachie Fletcher 72, Jamie Bowden 72, Will Brennan, Jenny Lisle, Mark Hogan and Ross King all on 73 after they counted out Andrew Robertson. Sharpest shooters at the pins were Bill Heazlett (3) and Mark Stackman (18). Best scratch score was registered by Andrew Bowden while his father Jamie took out the putting competition with 22. The coveted 'Pink Shirt' was claimed by John McCormack for a fourth time and there is a whisper if he wins it one more time he gets to keep it, no doubt something John is thrilled about. In matchplay Nixon Bird defeated club President Allan Green 4 and 3, whereas Jamie Bowden downed Dion Bird 3 and 2.

Last Saturday Howie Warhurst accumulated 17 stableford points to win the weekly 9 hole competition from runner-up David Dunn on 15. Ladies winner was Vicki Heffernan on 12 pts just ahead of Jenny Lisle on 11.

This Sunday is the second round of the Club Championship for a prize supplied by Club Secretary Jenny Lisle.

Cricket

Round Swamp defeated Kentucky in the elimination final on a damp Peter Fenwicke Oval pitch and have advanced to the Grand Final this Saturday where they take on Minor Premiers Uralla at the same venue. Batting first Kentucky were in more strife than Speed Gordon having lost their five top order batsmen with just 13 runs on the board.

Swamp opener Lachie Fletcher was responsible for the carnage snaring all five victims and at one stage had 3/0 off his first seven deliveries before finishing with 5/8 off five overs. All rounder Gavin White claimed the next two wickets to fall and finished with 2/25 whereas Ben France mopped up the tail capturing 3/11.

In their 11th over Kentucky were 7/28 before Michael Boyd and Justin Gibson put on 20 run eighth wicket partnership. Three Kentucky batsmen reached double figures, Gibson 16, Boyd 13 and Stephen Haslem who remained 11 not out. In reply Swamp lost three wickets before passing their assignment after White hit a game high 30 batting at number four, including five boundaries and remained unbeaten. Opening the bowling Haslem took 2/26 and his off-sider Peter Mooney picked up the other wicket to fall. Reigning premiers Round Swamp are looking to win their third Walcha News Cup in four seasons, while Uralla will be hoping to claim their third major premiership in five seasons.
