Local Water Testing Scam

East Wenatchee, WA – Chelan-Douglas Health District (CDHD) received a message regarding a potential scam that involves two male individuals who introduce themselves as “U.S. Public Health Service” representatives. These individuals are not public health representatives. They appear to be promoting a company called “Apolloteck International”, which sells water filtration systems.

Public health representatives do not go door-to-door promoting expensive water processing systems.
