The talk unfolds as a Ted Talk. From the Changing Education as Anesthesia or Aesthetic, Frank, The Town School, NY Candidate, The Klingenstein Center, Teachers College, Columbia University. The MET is a project that has been working to develop a way for students to engage with their learning in a more meaningful way. The project aims to create a system that will help students to explore their own interests and passions, and to develop a deeper understanding of the world around them. The MET is based on the idea that learning should be a collaborative process that involves both the teacher and the student. The program has been implemented in a number of schools across the United States, and has been met with both support and criticism. The project has been criticized for being too focused on individual student needs, and not enough on the needs of the broader community. The MET has also been criticized for being too time-consuming and not being able to help all students. However, the project has also been praised for its innovative approach to education, and for its emphasis on student-centered learning. The MET is a promising project that has the potential to help students to learn in a more meaningful way.
