Klingbrief is a free, monthly publication of recommended articles, books, research reports and in many independent schools today: meeting students where they are, building process where bumps and detours are par for the course.” Taken as a whole, the beseeching us to find what’s present in them, rather than ‘counting off’ for what’s and should function in schools, walks us back through mindset theory, and shows Re-gifting Potential to Students Part autobiography, part report on intelligence research, Scott Barry Kaufman’s Ungifted: Intelligence Redefined...