

Where can I use my National Assistance Card?

Your Card can be used in everyday or emergency situations where you need assistance or support. This includes:

- Shops, cafes, hotels and cinemas
- Government departments and banks
- Buses, trains, trams, taxis, Ubers and airports
- With first responders, such as police, ambulance, fire

People can read your Card and scan your QR code to learn more about how they can assist you

A personalised card to assist people with brain injury in the community

Important

- The National Assistance Card explains the impacts of a cardholder's brain injury, it does not make a cardholder exempt from the law.
- The National Assistance Card is a community service, not a legal document.
