Notice to New Zealand residents

This Offer to New Zealand investors is a regulated offer made under Australian and New Zealand law. In Australia, this is Chapter 8 of the Corporations Act 2001 and Regulations. In New Zealand, this is Part 5 of the Securities Act 1978 and the Securities (Mutual Recognition of Securities Offerings—Australia) Regulations 2008.

This Offer and the content of the offer document are principally governed by Australian rather than New Zealand law. In the main, the Australian Corporations Act 2001 and Regulations (Australia) set out how the Offer must be made.

There are differences in how securities are regulated under Australian law. For example, the disclosure of fees for collective investment schemes is different under the Australian regimes.

The rights, remedies, and compensation arrangements available to New Zealand investors in Australian securities may differ from the rights, remedies, and compensation arrangements for New Zealand securities.

Both the Australian and New Zealand securities regulators have enforcement responsibilities in relation to this Offer. If you need to make a complaint about this Offer, please contact the Financial Markets Authority, Wellington, New Zealand. The Australian and New Zealand regulators will work together to settle your complaint.

The taxation treatment of Australian securities is not the same as for New Zealand securities.

If you are uncertain about whether this investment is appropriate for you, you should seek the advice of an appropriately qualified financial adviser.

The Offer may involve a currency exchange risk. The currency for the securities is not New Zealand dollars. The value of the securities will go up or down according to changes in the exchange rate between that currency and New Zealand dollars. These changes may be significant.

If you expect the securities to pay any amounts in a currency that is not New Zealand dollars, you may incur significant fees in having the funds credited to a bank account in New Zealand in New Zealand dollars.

If the securities are able to be traded on a securities market and you wish to trade the securities through that market, you will have to make arrangements for a participant in that market to sell the securities on your behalf. If the securities market does not operate in New Zealand, the way in which the market operates, the regulation of participants in that market, and the information available to you about the securities and trading may differ from securities markets that operate in New Zealand.

Chairman's Letter

Dear Investor,

On behalf of the Board of Directors it is my pleasure to invite you to become a Shareholder of an innovative Australian company – 1st Available Ltd (Company or 1stAvailable).

1stAvailable was established in 2009 and since April 2012 has been providing a cloud based online search and appointment booking service for participating private healthcare providers such as GPs, dentists, chiropractors, physiotherapists and naturopaths.

Its service offers the following benefits:

- For patients – 1stAvailable's system is a free, convenient, easy to use and stable online healthcare search and appointment booking service. It is a flexible alternative to the traditional inefficient and inconvenient method of booking appointments by making telephone calls which can typically only be done during business hours. 1stAvailable's service enables patients to book their own appointments with participating private practices 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, from any internet-connected device (such as a smartphone, tablet or personal computer).
- For private healthcare providers – for a monthly flat fee, 1stAvailable offers a streamlined appointment booking system that frees up administrative staff from manually managing appointments for patients for more productive activities, can also assist with filling up appointment slots that might otherwise remain unfilled and provides exposure to a larger market for attracting patients.

The Company has also entered into a number of strategic partnership arrangements with various healthcare related companies with the aim of enhancing 1stAvailable's reach and market presence and to promote the adoption of 1stAvailable by their customers. These include companies such as nib Health, one of Australia's largest healthcare insurers, Medical Channel, which provides flat screen TV's into GP practices to deliver medical advertisements to patients, and select vendors of practice management software systems.

Frost & Sullivan, in its Independent Market Report (see Section 3), has concluded that market demand in Australia for online healthcare appointment booking services will increase significantly amongst both patients and healthcare providers.

There are a number of reasons for Frost & Sullivan's conclusion, including that in Australia:

- The healthcare sector is large (currently representing 9.7% of Australia's GDP) and, due to many factors is growing.
- It estimates that there are approximately 323,000 private healthcare providers operating through 140,000 private healthcare practices.
- It estimates that only 2-3% of private healthcare providers are currently offering an online appointment booking system.
- Internet access to broadband and smartphone usage amongst consumers has increased.
- It estimates that the size of the annual addressable online booking services market for private healthcare practices is $256 million (being the estimated subscription fees that would be generated if all private healthcare providers used online appointment booking services and were charged a flat monthly subscription fee based on 1stAvailable's current rates).

On the successful completion of the Offer, the Company will expand its focus beyond private healthcare practices, through the proposed acquisition of three companies with complementary businesses. The Company has entered into Share Purchase Agreements to purchase all of the shares in GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments:

- GObookings (www.gobookings.com.au) provides online healthcare appointment booking services in Australia for government agencies and corporates including companies, universities, hospitals and pharmacy chains. The GObookings online booking service is used, for example, by companies to offer their staff regular flu vaccinations and GObookings has developed booking systems for government agencies to offer breast screening services. In addition, 1stAvailable will seek to integrate some of the advantageous functional aspects of the GObookings platform into 1stAvailable's platform.
- Clinic Connect (www.clinicconnect.com.au) uses the GObookings platform to deliver online healthcare appointment booking services for patients of private healthcare providers including GPs, specialists, optometrists and veterinarians. It is intended that over time Clinic Connect's subscribers and registered patients will migrate to the 1stAvailable platform.

- DocAppointments (www.docappointments.com.au) has developed its own mobile app and website supporting larger GP clinics to offer online appointments to their patients and has developed some innovative functionality like "self check-in" for patients when they arrive at a GP clinic. 1stAvailable intends to incorporate these additional capabilities into its own platform over time and to migrate the DocAppointments subscribers and registered patients to the 1stAvailable platform.

Combined, 1stAvailable, GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments (Merged Group) had as at 28 February 2015:

- over 2,100 participating private healthcare providers using their online appointment booking services;
- over 100 corporate and government clients; and
- over 72,000 appointments being made through their services on average per month for the previous 3 months.

In the future, the Merged Group's potential revenue sources may include paid advertising directed at patients and subscribers of the Merged Group's services, patient communications (such as SMS alerts), consulting services and "big data" analytics (using depersonalised data collected from the making of appointments).

1stAvailable will use the net proceeds from the Offer to fund the cash component of the purchase price of the GObookings and DocAppointments acquisitions, to enable the Company to hire sales and implementation staff and to undertake its advertising campaigns to practitioners and consumers of its services. Depending upon the amount of funds raised, 1stAvailable may make further acquisitions of complementary online healthcare appointment booking companies (for cash, Shares or a combination of cash and Shares).

This Prospectus contains detailed information about the Offer, the industry in which the Company operates (see the Independent Market Report by Frost & Sullivan in Section 3) and the Company's operations.

1stAvailable is subject to a range of risks and investment in 1stAvailable must be considered speculative. Some of those risks are specific to 1stAvailable's business activities and others apply to the online booking and healthcare markets more generally. The risks include increased competition, the risk of not gaining sufficiently widespread acceptance amongst private healthcare providers and patients, the risk that 1stAvailable may remain unprofitable, further capital may be required and it may be difficult to raise and dilute existing Shareholders' interests, and the risk that the security or integrity of 1stAvailable's online booking system might fail or be compromised.

Details of these and other risks are set out in Section 5 of this Prospectus, which I encourage you to read carefully. If any of these risks eventuate, it may adversely impact on 1stAvailable's financial performance, position and prospects and potentially the value of your investment.

Although investment in the Company involves risk, the Directors consider that the market in Australia for online healthcare appointment booking services offers a significant commercial opportunity.

On behalf of the Board, I look forward to welcoming you as a fellow Shareholder.

Yours faithfully,

Trevor Matthews
Chairman

1.2 Growth of online appointment booking systems

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
What are the market drivers for online appointment booking services?	Frost & Sullivan (see its Independent Market Report in Section 3) considers that there are a number of factors that will stimulate adoption of online healthcare appointment booking services by patients. These factors include growing internet usage, especially by older age groups, faster internet speeds, which provide a better online experience, and increased usage of smartphones. The percentage of internet subscriptions per household in Australia was 107% in 2014 (some households maintain more than one internet subscription). Usage of smartphones has also increased strongly in Australia, with an estimated 87% of adults aged 15–64 now using a smartphone. Online searching is a frequent activity on smartphones, with over 60% of adults now searching at least once per day on their device. Smartphone users are also using more mobile apps, with an average of 33 apps installed per smartphone (Source: Frost & Sullivan).	Section 3
How has the online search and booking services industry grown?	Online booking services have become pervasive in industries such as travel (with companies such as Expedia.com, Travelocity.com, Orbitz.com, AirBnB and others) and are now responsible for a significant proportion of travel bookings. Major players in the Australian travel and accommodation online booking services industry (that is, outside of healthcare) include Wotif.com, Webjet.com.au, Ticketek.com, Ticketmaster.com.au, Lastminute.com.au, Stayz.com.au, Qantas.com, Jetstar.com and VirginAustralia.com.au. There are obvious differences in various online bookings industries. For example, in respect of the travel and accommodation industry the online appointment bookings platforms offer price competition between suppliers which may be considered to be a driving factor in the success of some of those industry participants. While these differences exist (as the 1stAvailable service does not offer price competition), the Directors nonetheless believe that a common theme across these online booking systems is that they offer “convenience” as an important benefit and attraction to consumers. 1stAvailable provides a convenient, easy to use, online healthcare search and appointment booking service.

1.3 Key features of the online healthcare appointment booking system market in Australia

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
Frost & Sullivan Independent Market Report	This Prospectus includes an Independent Market Report on the online healthcare appointment booking system market in Australia prepared by Frost & Sullivan, who: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • report that the healthcare market in Australia represents almost 9.67% of GDP; • estimate that there are approximately 323,000 private healthcare providers operating through 140,000 private healthcare practices; • estimate that only 2-3% of private healthcare providers are currently using an online search and appointment booking system; • reported that in over 70% of the private healthcare practices they surveyed, administration staff spent over 25% of their work time scheduling appointments; • report that from 2007 internet access to broadband has grown strongly, as has smartphone usage from at least 2011; • found that of those surveyed, the most important aspect of practice management was to improve the productivity of administration staff to allow them more time to provide better service; • concluded that market demand for online healthcare appointment booking services will increase significantly amongst both consumers and private healthcare providers; and • estimated that the value of the annual addressable market is $256 million, being the estimated subscription fees that would be generated if all private healthcare providers used online booking services and were charged on a flat monthly subscription fee basis at 1stAvailable's current rates. 	Section 3
What problems exist with traditional appointment booking systems?	Problem 1 – Appointment booking and practice management inefficiencies There are inherent inefficiencies in the traditional method of booking appointments by telephone during business hours: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • healthcare providers generate revenue by selling services provided during appointments. Filling up available appointment times is therefore important in maximising revenue. Conversely, “no-shows” and cancelled appointments may result in lost revenue; and • taking telephone bookings wastes the time of administrative staff and removes their availability to service patients in the practice. Frost & Sullivan report that in over 70% of the private healthcare practices they surveyed, administrative staff spent over 25% of their time scheduling appointments and that the most important aspect of practice management was to improve the productivity of administrative staff. Time spent managing appointments over the telephone means less time for face-to-face patient service.

1.3 Key features of the online healthcare appointment booking system market in Australia continued

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
What problems exist with traditional appointment booking systems?	Solution to Problem 1 1stAvailable's online appointment booking system offers private healthcare practices an efficient and very cost effective solution to these problems. It provides a means of publicising available appointments in realtime and reduces the time required by administrative staff to manage appointments. Problem 2 – Patient difficulty in booking healthcare services Patients are commonly faced with the problem of finding an available healthcare service they need at a time convenient to them and within a reasonable distance of their location. Patients may experience the frustration of trying to find healthcare services by contacting individual healthcare providers by telephone during working hours, only to find that they are unable to make any appointment without waiting for weeks to obtain the services they desire. Solution to Problem 2 1stAvailable's online booking service operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and offers to patients a free service displaying, in real-time, the actual available appointments with participating healthcare providers. Patients simply enter their search criteria (location, time/date, type of healthcare service needed, and even their preferred provider) and are immediately provided with the first available appointments that best meet their search criteria. Changing appointments is equally as easy. Problem 3 – Private healthcare practice marketing Sophisticated and large healthcare practices may have access to marketing resources and may have developed marketing strategies. However, smaller private healthcare providers may struggle with marketing their services to patients and find their current marketing efforts are comparatively costly and inefficient, with results difficult to track. Solution to Problem 3 1stAvailable's online appointment booking platform offers an efficient, targeted and inexpensive solution to marketing a private healthcare practice to both existing patients and new patients. By active marketing of the 1stAvailable service by healthcare providers to existing patients, they may benefit through: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • seeing existing patients more frequently as improved convenience may make it easier for their patients to make appointments more regularly; and • stronger referral business if existing registered patients of a practice recommend booking through the 1stAvailable service for that practice to their family, friends or colleagues. A participating private healthcare practice may also benefit from exposure to a larger market of patients, being potentially any person who uses the 1stAvailable system to search for available appointment times.

1.4 Key features of 1stAvailable’s business model

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
Revenue model is simple to understand	1stAvailable’s primary revenue source consists of a flat monthly subscription fee charged to a private healthcare practice per participating healthcare provider. Currently the standard flat monthly fee per healthcare provider ranges from $30 to $125 for fulltime providers and varies depending upon a number of factors including the type of private healthcare provider. However, reduced fees will apply for healthcare providers that do not work on a full time basis, and in the past 1stAvailable has applied a discount (or free service) for some healthcare providers which it may do so on a case-by-case basis going forward. In the opinion of the Directors, these fees are roughly comparable to the fees derived by the healthcare provider from one new appointment per month. No fees are charged by 1stAvailable to patients for bookings made through its portal (website) or mobile apps. Potential other revenue opportunities may include paid advertising directed at patients including patient communications (such as SMS alerts) and consulting services. The Company has also been capturing all search history and booking details (free of sensitive patient or practice data) since launch. This may support future product opportunities using big data for thematic mapping and other insights into healthcare use by suburb/region, demographic or healthcare type.	Section 2
What are 1stAvailable’s sales strategies?	1stAvailable has both a direct and indirect sales strategy. Direct sales The Company’s direct sales team is principally focused on sales to private healthcare practices with an emphasis on GP subscribers. However, the Company’s technology platform can be used for healthcare providers from different disciplines. Accordingly, the Company intends to grow non-GP practice subscribers (such as dentists, specialists, allied healthcare, veterinarians and natural medicines and therapies). Part of the proceeds of the Offer will be used to expand the Company’s direct sales team. The direct sales strategies also include online search engine optimisation to improve the likelihood of 1stAvailable appearing in healthcare related internet searches and to encourage patients to download the 1stAvailable mobile app. The Company will also continue to adopt a direct sales approach for the services provided by GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments. Indirect sales 1stAvailable’s indirect sales strategies include encouraging and training participating healthcare providers to promote the 1stAvailable mobile app and services to their own patients and indirect marketing through strategic partnering relationships.	Section 2

1.4 Key features of 1stAvailable's business model continued

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
Strategic partnering relationships	1stAvailable has a number of strategic partnering arrangements with healthcare related companies including with: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • nib Health, one of Australia's largest healthcare insurers; • Medical Channel, which provides flat screen TV's into GP practices to deliver medical advertisements to patients; and • select vendors of practice management software systems (PMS systems). These partners have a range of commercial relationships with 1stAvailable through which 1stAvailable seeks to be promoted to their customers and consumers.	Section 2
Integration with practice management software systems (PMS systems)	1stAvailable's portal interfaces with supported PMS systems used by many healthcare providers, allowing access to the appointment booking system of the healthcare practice. 1stAvailable's portal can be used with many of the PMS systems currently in use in Australia. PMS system integration with supported 1stAvailable portal reduces the workload of the subscriber's administrative staff and streamlines appointment booking by their patients. For practices that use a PMS system, integrating their PMS system with 1stAvailable's portal is a critical first step before patients can make online appointment bookings. However, even if a healthcare provider does not have their own PMS system, they can still have the convenience of utilising 1stAvailable's online appointment booking system.	Section 2
Promoting good healthcare outcomes	The Board believes that the Company's adoption of two Guiding Principles provides benefits for healthcare providers and patients and, ultimately, will benefit the Company. Guiding Principle #1 – continuity of care 1stAvailable seeks to promote the maintenance of the existing patient/healthcare provider relationship, not to disrupt it: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 1stAvailable's flat monthly subscription fee does not incentivise the Company to encourage patients to change their healthcare providers. (Some online healthcare booking services charge higher fees for new patient bookings as compared to existing patients); and • patients can nominate their preferred healthcare providers and limit online searches to appointments available with them. These features promote continuity of care of a patient which may improve the health of patients and provide recurring revenue for healthcare practices. Guiding Principle #2 – facilitating good choices 1stAvailable seeks to display search results in a neutral manner and without bias to any given private healthcare practice when a patient has opted to search for a new provider. This may promote decision-making by patients based on information rather than on marketing appeal or how results are presented.

1.5 Key opportunities

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
Demand for online booking services	Online appointment booking services for travel, accommodation and entertainment are well developed and readily accessible. The market for healthcare online booking services in Australia is, by comparison, immature. Frost & Sullivan (see Section 3) have estimated that only 2–3% of Australian private healthcare providers are currently using an online appointment booking system. For a variety of reasons Frost & Sullivan have concluded that the market demand in Australia for online healthcare appointment booking services will increase significantly amongst both consumers and private healthcare providers.	Section 3
Large and growing healthcare sector	The healthcare sector is large and has been growing: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> it generated 9.67% of Australia’s GDP in 2014 and this is forecast by the Australian Bureau of Statistics to reach between 16%–20% by 2045; and between 2008 and 2013 the total number of Medicare services provided grew from 278.7 million in 2008 to 343.6 million in 2013 at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.3%. 	Section 3
Large addressable market	Frost & Sullivan have estimated that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> there are approximately 323,000 private healthcare providers in Australia operating through 140,000 private healthcare practices; and the size of the annual addressable market is $256 million (being the estimated subscription fees that would be generated if all private healthcare providers used online appointment booking services and were charged on a flat monthly subscription fee based on 1stAvailable’s current rates). 	Section 3
1stAvailable’s technology platform is proven and stable	1stAvailable’s existing technology platform has been in operation since 2012 and provides a proven and stable service.	Section 2
1stAvailable’s online service is convenient and easy and free to use for patients	1stAvailable’s online healthcare search and appointment booking service is convenient and easy to use. It enables patients to book their appointments with participating private healthcare practices, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week from any internet-connected device (such as a smartphone, tablet or personal computer). It is also free for patients to use.	Section 2

PMS system integration	1stAvailable's online service has already been integrated with many Australian PMS systems as well as being available for use as a stand-alone service by private healthcare practices that do not use a PMS system.	Section 2

1.6 Key risks

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
System and content integrity	The performance of the Company's website is vitally important to the reputation of the Company's business, its ability to attract subscribers and patients. Any system failure that causes interruption to the website or loss of security could materially and adversely affect the Company's business and financial performance. System failures, if prolonged, could reduce the attractiveness of the 1stAvailable website to consumers, hinder the Company's ability to make sales to private healthcare providers and damage its business reputation and brand name.	Section 5
Breach of confidentiality	System failures which result in the publication of, or making accessible, confidential information of patients would be likely to materially and adversely affect 1stAvailable's business.	Section 5
1stAvailable is currently loss-making	The Company has a history of net losses and has not yet made a profit. There is no guarantee that it will be successful in achieving sufficiently widespread acceptance amongst private healthcare providers and patients to become profitable.	Section 5
Decline in revenue for financial year ended 30 June 2014	1stAvailable has not achieved year on year revenue growth. For the financial year ended 30 June 2013 1stAvailable had revenue of $165,246, which declined to $99,229 for the financial year ended 30 June 2014. For the eight months ended 28 February 2015, 1stAvailable had revenue of $105,030. There is no guarantee that 1stAvailable will be successful in achieving sufficiently widespread acceptance amongst healthcare providers and patients in order to drive up its revenue and become profitable.	Section 5
New Shareholders will only hold an aggregate minority interest in 1stAvailable	The Existing Shareholders are expected to hold approximately 77.43% of the total Shares on issue assuming that the Minimum Subscription is raised, 64.53% based on the Maximum Subscription being raised and 60.50% if $2,000,000 in Oversubscriptions are accepted. This means that (in aggregate) the persons that apply under this Prospectus will hold a minority interest in 1stAvailable. There is no guarantee that there will be an active or liquid market in 1stAvailable Shares on the ASX. Further, as disclosed in Section 7.7, the Directors, and the founder of the Company, Dr Luu (and their controlled entities) have agreed to voluntarily escrow their 11,646,046 Shares for 12 months. The Directors also estimate that up to 7,000,000 Shares may be subject to mandatory escrow under the ASX Listing Rules. This may cause a liquidity risk for the Shares given that these Shares may not be traded for the period of the escrow restrictions (which will be 12 months for the voluntary escrowed Shares and up to 24 months for the mandatory ASX escrowed Shares).	Section 5

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
Decline in rate of internet penetration	Growth in e-Commerce is underpinned by a range of factors including, in the case of 1stAvailable, migration from more traditional forms of appointment making methods. Whilst increased internet penetration has occurred over recent years, there can be no guarantee that the rate of penetration and migration will continue to remain high or grow in the future.	Section 5
Competitors	Internet businesses have low barriers to entry. Current or new competitors may or may attempt to adopt certain aspects of 1stAvailable's business model, thereby reducing the Company's ability to differentiate its services. Competitors may be better resourced than 1stAvailable or offer a better service. Competition may arise from a number of sources including from overseas online booking service providers. Any significant competition may adversely affect the Company's ability to meet its objectives (including by adversely impacting on the margins that the Company is able to achieve).	Section 5
Reliance on key management personnel	1stAvailable's success depends to a significant extent on key personnel and the senior management team. 1stAvailable may not be able to attract and retain key staff or be able to find effective replacements in a timely manner. The loss of key personnel may have an adverse effect on the future financial performance of the business.	Section 5
Relatively new business and changing environment	The Company has a relatively short operating history and operates in a business sector that is evolving. The Company may not be able to adapt to changing circumstances quickly enough.	Section 5
Acquisition of business and integration issues	There may also be integration issues arising from the transitioning of clients from GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments and not all of these clients may be successfully transitioned to the Company's platform. The Company has entered into the Share Purchase Agreements and undertaken enquiries relating to the business of GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments but there may be liabilities or risks in relation to the acquisitions of which the Company is unaware and which may adversely impact on the value of the businesses being acquired.
Sufficiency of funding	The Directors believe that, on completion of the Offer, the Company will have sufficient working capital to carry out its stated objectives. Nevertheless, there can be no assurance that such objectives can be met or that no further funding will be required. Additional funds may be difficult to raise or may be dilutionary to the then existing Shareholders.	Section 5

Topic	Summary	Where to find more information
New technology substitution	The number of people who access information through smartphones and tablets, as compared to accessing it through personal computers, has greatly increased in recent years. If the Company is unable to increase the existing level of visits to the Company's or the Merged Group's websites due to alternative device usage or if it is significantly slower than its competitors to adapt to technological change, this will have an adverse effect on the Company's ability to attract new subscribers and retain its existing customer base.	Section 5
Other risks	A number of other risks are included in Section 5, and investors should review those risks and consider their own personal circumstances, investment objectives, financial situation and particular needs carefully and seek professional advice before making an investment decision. 2. Business Overview

2.1 Background

1stAvailable provides a convenient, easy to use, online healthcare search and appointment booking service. This enables patients to book their healthcare appointments with any participating private healthcare provider through 1stAvailable's service online, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week from any internet-connected device such as a smartphone, tablet or personal computer.

The service is cloud based and modelled on the successful online booking agencies that have come to dominate industries such as travel, accommodation and entertainment.

Subscribing private healthcare providers are able to display their available appointments in real time. Existing and new patients can free of charge search for and book available appointments online that suit both their own calendar and the healthcare provider's availability.

Initially the Company focussed on targeting GPs and dentists but this has been broadened to include the booking of specialist and allied healthcare services, such as occupational therapy services.

The Company's vision is to become the digital solutions provider of choice to the healthcare industry ultimately being responsible for private healthcare practice websites, online advertising, SMS marketing campaigns, providing access to video health services and online transactions and services, and delivering a seamless experience to patients and healthcare practices.

Frost & Sullivan considers that there are a number of factors that will stimulate the adoption of online booking by consumers in Australia seeking to make an appointment with a healthcare provider. These factors include growing internet usage, especially by older age groups, faster internet speeds which provide a better online experience and increased usage of smartphones. The percentage of internet subscriptions per household in Australia was at 107% in 2014 (some households maintain more than one internet subscription).

Usage of smartphones has also increased strongly in Australia, with an estimated 87% of adults aged 15-64 now using a smartphone. Online searching is a frequent activity on smartphones, with over 60% of adults now searching at least once per day on their device. Smartphone users are also using more mobile apps, with an average of 33 mobile apps installed per smartphone (Source: Frost & Sullivan).

2.2 Overview of the business

Business activities

Consumers have rapidly gravitated towards the use of online services to make reservations. Highly successful examples of this business proposition exist in such diverse markets as travel, accommodation, sports, events, entertainment and dining.

Online search and appointment booking in the healthcare sector has been proven as commercially viable in a variety of geographic markets, particularly in the United States of America.

According to Frost & Sullivan, only 2-3% of Australian private healthcare providers are using an online appointment booking system, leaving a large remaining opportunity and significant room for growth. With a single exception, new market entrants in the healthcare online appointment booking market focus on one type of service provider (typically GPs) rather than the wide range of healthcare service providers supported by 1stAvailable.

The Company believes that:

- the tendency of new market entrants to limit the range of services they support is likely due to the costs and complexities of building integrations with the wide range of practice management software systems (PMS systems) that are required to support this broader market; and
- it will have a competitive advantage if its service provides patients with access to a broad range of healthcare services through a single platform.

1stAvailable's website and mobile app are free to use for patients. The Company derives its revenue through subscription fees charged to private healthcare practices who offer online appointment booking to patients through the 1stAvailable portal. The subscription fees per private healthcare practice are based on the number of healthcare providers in the practice, and by the type of practice.

These subscription fees are typically charged on a per healthcare provider basis, so a single practice may connect the calendars of several individual healthcare providers to the 1stAvailable system.

The 1stAvailable portal interfaces with supported PMS systems used by healthcare providers, allowing seamless access to the appointment booking system of a healthcare practice. The portal also enables providers who do not have a PMS system, to have a readily available online appointment booking system.

Online booking portals can reduce staff costs for healthcare practices, improve staff productivity and act as a marketing and promotional vehicle for their services.

The Company will aim also to generate revenue from consulting services, the online advertising market, additional new products and big data analytics.

1stAvailable has been developing its proprietary online search and appointment booking system for the private healthcare practice market over the past five years. It is now fully operational and in use by patients and private healthcare practices. Its design is scalable so as to support large scale use. The system is cloud based software as a service (SaaS) meaning that the service is available on demand via the internet. 1stAvailable's service is composed of:

- a core proprietary booking program capable of being integrated with a wide range of PMS systems;
- a front end website that is directly accessible by patients using a PC, tablet or smartphone; and
- smartphone apps for both Apple and Android operating systems.

1stAvailable's application services are delivered via an independent hosting provider across two physical datacentres with separate server instances for web, application, cache and database roles. Each role has multiple server instances to provide fast response times and instance and role redundancy. Server instances are virtualised and are provided on shared infrastructure. All servers are secured by a segmented network design and security policies. The web, application and database servers are designed to ensure a fast response to customer and user queries. The servers are housed in a secure cloud based datacentre located in Australia.

Business strategy

1stAvailable's strategy is to:

- become the online booking service of choice to the healthcare industry;
- provide a value-added and outstanding service to private healthcare providers and their patients with a results focussed outcome;
- promote existing patient/healthcare provider relationships through its system design and pricing model;
- facilitate good decision making by patients through making relevant information about healthcare providers more freely available;
- continue to build its national footprint of private healthcare practices who subscribe to the Company's portal through both direct and indirect with its industry partners sales strategies;
- potentially pursue growth opportunities through strategic acquisitions; and
- develop other revenue streams from online advertising new products and services and big data analytics.

The Company's objective is to become profitable and enable dividends to be paid to shareholders. Shareholders should note that the Directors do not currently envisage that the Company will make profits as to enable the payment of dividends in the foreseeable future.

The Company initially targeted the private healthcare practice market that comprises GPs, dentists, chiropractors, physiotherapists, naturopaths and other healthcare providers, and is now expanding this market following entering into the Share Purchase Agreements with the vendors of the shares in three complementary companies, GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments. All three purchases are subject to the successful completion of the Offer.

2. Business Overview continued

GObookings

GObookings was founded in 2000 and is a market leader in the provision of online appointment booking services for corporate and government entities in Australia. It is used, for example, by companies to allow their employees to book flu vaccinations and has developed booking systems for government agencies to provide breast screening services.

GObookings has approximately 134 clients that include government agencies, companies, universities, hospitals and pharmacy chains. GObookings derives its primary revenue from recurring monthly subscription fees but it has also earned some additional revenue from the provision of consulting services.

The GObookings online booking system has been developed over fifteen years and is a proven and stable platform. Similar to the 1stAvailable system, the GObookings system is cloud based, having a proprietary booking program. The system can be accessed through internet connected devices with a browser, personal computer, tablet or smartphone, and has been refined and developed over several years using feedback from both corporate and government subscribers and from consumer users.

GObookings' business applications are maintained by independent hosting providers with all data stored within Australia. Its network infrastructure and server environment has been designed to provide backup capacity in the event of failure of the primary server and fast response times.

Clinic Connect

Clinic Connect was founded in 2009 and offers an online healthcare and veterinarian booking service. Patients or pet owners of participating healthcare providers can make appointments online using the system. Clinic Connect derives its primary revenue from recurring monthly subscription fees.

Clinic Connect's business uses the GObookings platform. Clinic Connect has approximately 600 active practitioner members in Australia across the GP, psychology, optometry, specialist and veterinary markets.

DocAppointments

DocAppointments was first developed by Dr Calin Pava to bring online appointments to his own medical clinic in Devonport, Tasmania around 10 years ago. Five years ago DocAppointments was made available to other healthcare practices and has since developed an online appointment booking product complete with Android and Apple apps which also enable patients to self check-in at the practice on arrival.

DocAppointments has over 600 active participating GP's across 77 GP clinics around Australia.

Revenue model

No fees are charged to patients by the Company for bookings made with private healthcare practices or providers through the Company's websites or mobile apps.

1stAvailable currently only derives its revenues from subscription fees, but other revenue opportunities may include paid advertising directed at consumers and subscribers of the Company's services, SMS alerts, consulting services and big data analytics. In relation to big data analytics, the Company has been capturing all search and booking details (free of sensitive patient or practice data) since launch. This may support future product opportunities in big data providing thematic mapping and other insights into healthcare use by suburb/region, demographic or healthcare type.

Fees charged are a flat monthly subscription fee per appointment book, setup and installation fees, customisation and development fees and, if preferred by the client for specific requirements, a per-booking fee.

Integration with PMS systems

Of the 323,000 private healthcare providers estimated by Frost & Sullivan to be in Australia, the Company estimates that about 60% to 70% currently use some form of PMS system, although there is no firm data available to confirm this level of PMS system market adoption.

The Company, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments have independently worked to develop integration software (synchronisers) with a variety of these PMS systems to enable their systems to access in real-time, the available appointment slots of a healthcare service provider from their PMS system and to enable those available slots to be published online for access by patients. Through these integrations appointments selected by patients can then be sent in real time to the PMS system software to update the private healthcare practice's PMS system calendars with details of the appointments that were made online. Integration reduces the workload of reception personnel and streamlines use and adoption of the online booking system.

The Company, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments have completed PMS system integrations with the following PMS systems:

PMS System	1stAvailable	Clinic Connect	DocAppointments
GP market:
Best Practice (major GP)	API Sync	Plug-in	Plug-in
Pracsoft (major GP)	API Sync	Plug-in	Plug-in
Zedmed (major GP)	API Sync	Plug-in	Plug-in

Notes

API Sync = Integration through the official Application Programming Interface

Custom = Integration through a custom built interface by a PMS system vendor

Plug-in = Integration through the development of a direct plug-in

Further integrations with additional PMS systems other than those listed above are currently under development.

1stAvailable also offers a multi-function stand-alone online appointment book for those private healthcare practices which do not currently use a PMS system. This 1stAvailable online appointment book can be used by these practices to manage the practice's appointments, including those received via the telephone and those booked from within the practice itself.

The Company estimates that the PMS system integrations already completed, combined with the stand-alone version of 1stAvailable for those private practices that do not use a PMS system, enable the Company to provide online booking services for a substantial part of the private healthcare practice market.

Note

1. Average monthly bookings for 12 month period ended 28 February 2015.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

Monthly recurring revenue is recurring revenue attributable to the Merged Group's subscription business. It excludes one-off and variable fees such as consulting.

2.7 Sales and marketing

1stAvailable has both a direct and indirect sales strategy:

- its direct sales team is principally focused on sales to the private healthcare practice market with emphasis on the GP sector. The Company plans to establish a separate direct sales team focusing on corporate and government clients; and
- indirect sales are promoted through strategic partnering arrangements which are focused on sales to the specialist, allied and dental private practice markets.

Following completion of the Offer, the Company intends to hire additional sales and implementation staff and to undertake sales and marketing campaigns, the primary objective of which will be to increase monthly revenues through subscription sales to corporate, government and private healthcare practices.

The Company's three key planned initiatives are:

- to continue its current practice of training participating private healthcare practices on how to improve efficiency in their practices by encouraging their own patients to book their appointments through the 1stAvailable service;
- to exploit and extend its strategic partnering arrangements with companies, such as nib Health, seeking to broaden consumer awareness, interest and utilisation of the Company's services; and
- to continue to make selective investments in search optimisation initiatives designed to increase the probability that a consumer searching for a healthcare provider online will be prompted to visit the Company's website to complete their search and book their appointment.

1stAvailable has a number of strategic partnering arrangements with companies such as:

- nib Health, one of Australia's largest healthcare insurers;
- Medical Channel, that provides flat screen TV's into GP practices to deliver medical advertisements to patients, and
- select vendors of PMS systems to promote the adoption of 1stAvailable by their customers.

These partners have a range of commercial relationships with 1stAvailable through which 1stAvailable seeks to be promoted to private healthcare providers and patients.

The Company's strategic partnering agreement with nib Health, Australia's fourth largest health insurer and New Zealand's second largest, is aimed at integrating nib's Whitecoat.com.au portal website with the 1stAvailable portal, to enable online appointments to be made on the Whitecoat.com.au website with practitioners who appear on both platforms. Whitecoat.com.au is Australia's largest healthcare provider directory and moderated customer review website. The agreement also provides for all 1stAvailable private healthcare practices (except those who opt out) to be presented on the Whitecoat site as having appointments capable of being booked online, thereby enhancing the opportunity for them to attract new patients.

The Company intends to:

- continue its practice of generating sales leads through a combination of in-field sales calls, telesales, inbound lead generation marketing and sponsorship of strategic events;
- continue to develop sales partnerships with other vendors who sell directly to private healthcare practices including PMS systems and other software vendors;
- work together with nib Health to generate sales leads from amongst the insurer's provider network in response to the joint marketing plans agreed between the Company and nib Health;
- have the Merged Group develop reseller agreements with third parties who sell products and services to corporations and government agencies and will offer both branded and white labeled versions of its corporate booking solutions to facilitate such sales;
- collaborate closely with various industry consultants, bloggers and other individuals and firms that operate in the healthcare industry, encouraging them to promote the Company's products and services to their established client networks and, where appropriate, to provide economic incentives to these affiliates for successful sales initiatives; and
- continue to collaborate with healthcare industry associations such as the Australian Association of Practice Management (AAPM) to introduce the Company's products and services to their membership through joint marketing campaigns and through sponsorship and presentations at key industry events.

The Company has in the past chosen to focus its consumer marketing efforts on patients by working closely with its subscriber clients to promote its online appointment booking services actively through these clients to their own patients. 1stAvailable provides a comprehensive set of marketing aids to enable practices to market the service to their existing patients and integrate the 1stAvailable service across all of their existing marketing programs.

To date, therefore, patients may have been more likely to become aware of the 1stAvailable online appointment booking system from their own healthcare provider or healthcare practice who has adopted the Company's service and wishes to improve the practice's efficiency by converting their patients to online booking.

1stAvailable intends to promote the use of the 1stAvailable portal through a range of online digital advertising, paid search and search engine optimisation techniques that will be designed to promote 1stAvailable and its website as search results, so as to improve online exposure to patients.

2.8 Competition

Online appointment booking competitors

Competitors within the Australian online healthcare booking markets include HotDoc.com.au (for GP appointments), Appointuit.com.au (which has a smartphone app used by GP practices to enable their existing patients to book with them online), OzDocsonline.com.au (for GP appointments) and HealthEngine.com.au.

The Directors believe that the Merged Group, following the Company's purchase of GObookings, DocAppointments and Clinic Connect, will have a number of advantages over its current competitors in Australia. The Merged Group will offer:

- an online healthcare appointment booking service that will address not only the private healthcare practice market, but also corporate and government markets providing a broader offering to the healthcare industry and consumers;
- a range of direct integrations with PMS systems in Australia for a wide range of healthcare service types;
- a stand-alone online appointment book for those healthcare providers who do not use a PMS system;
- a map based instant search and location display of a comprehensive list directory of healthcare services (including healthcare services who are not subscribers to the online bookings services of the Merged Group), and also display those online appointments that can be instantly booked 24/7 with participating healthcare practices;
- a subscription based pricing model rather than a transaction based pricing model which the Company believes not only keeps the charging model simple but also removes the risk of monthly reconciliation friction and conflicts with customers due to "no-shows";
- an integrated web, mobile and practice website solution that enables patients to search, find and book an appointment by service type (such as a doctor or dentist) or a specific practice (for example, ABC Dental) or their specific or preferred provider in a specific practice (for example, Dr Smith at ABC Dental);
- a range of functionality to address complex business rules and appointment booking requirements for corporate and government clients; and
- advanced waitlist functionality enabling greater efficiency and convenience in circumstances where constraints in resource availability apply.

2.9 Intellectual property

The Company, GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments have invested significant financial and human resources into the design and development of their technology platforms and business models. The Merged Group will own the following intellectual property:

- proprietary software for online booking services, portals and cloud based technology platforms;
- certain registered logo's and trademarks; and
- a portfolio of Australian and international domain names.

The Company intends to continue to upgrade and enhance the features of the 1stAvailable and GObookings systems in the ordinary course of business.

Dear Directors,

Independent Market Report on the Online Healthcare Booking Portal Market in Australia

Introduction

This Independent Market Report (IMR or Report) on the Online Healthcare Booking Portal Market in Australia has been prepared by Frost & Sullivan (Australia) Pty Limited (Frost & Sullivan) at the request of the Directors of 1st Available Ltd (1stAvailable or the Company) for inclusion in a prospectus to be lodged with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission on or around 29 April 2015 (Prospectus) in connection with its proposed initial public offering (IPO) and associated listing on the Australian Securities Exchange.

Overview of 1stAvailable

1stAvailable provides an online booking portal that enables appointments to be made with healthcare practitioners in private practice, such as GPs, medical specialists, dentists, physiotherapists and other providers of ancillary healthcare services, as well as potentially with non-human healthcare practitioners such as vets.

Online booking portals can reduce staff costs for healthcare practitioners, improve their productive time and act as a marketing and promotional vehicle for their services. They are similar in concept to the multi-vendor booking portals used in other industries, such as travel and accommodation.

1stAvailable's online search and booking portal allows consumers to search for and make appointments with participating healthcare practitioners in private practice over the internet or through a mobile phone network. 1stAvailable's portal is accessible through both a website and an app, making it usable through any connected device (such as laptops, PCs, tablets and smartphones).

1stAvailable's system has been designed to operate in conjunction with or independently of, any practice management system used by the healthcare practitioner. 1stAvailable's portal interfaces with the practice management systems used by participating healthcare practitioners, allowing seamless access to the appointment booking system of the healthcare practice. 1stAvailable's portal can be integrated with most practice management systems currently in use in Australia, and has completed integrations with systems such as PPMP, Front Desk, Genie, Dental 4 Windows, Best Practice, ZedMed and Pracsoft. 1stAvailable's system also provides a stand-alone solution that enables practitioners who do not have a practice management system to have a readily available online appointment booking system.

1stAvailable also intends to generate revenues from a number of secondary sources including paid advertising directed at consumers and practitioners, SMS alerts to consumers and from "Big Data".¹ 1stAvailable is building a data warehouse that has been capturing all search and booking details (free of sensitive patient or practice data). This is intended to support future product opportunities providing thematic mapping and other insights into healthcare consumption.

Frost & Sullivan considers that the use of online booking portals in the healthcare sector is most advanced in the United States, where the leading booking portal is ZocDoc (www.zocdoc.com). ZocDoc was established in 2007, and supports patients in booking 1,800 different types of procedures across more than 50 specialties.² ZocDoc is estimated to be used by 5 million Americans, and has 550 employees in offices in the USA and India.³ ZocDoc is a privately-owned company and its financial information is not published, however a 2014 share raising valued ZocDoc at US$1.6 billion.⁴

About Frost & Sullivan

Frost & Sullivan is an independent market research and consulting group operating in over 30 countries globally of which Frost & Sullivan Australia Pty Ltd (Frost & Sullivan) is a member. Founded in New York in 1961, the Frost & Sullivan group now employs over 1,500 staff globally.

Frost & Sullivan has undertaken a number of market studies in the digital media and e-Commerce sector on behalf of market participants and financial institutions, as well as producing a number of multi-client reports on the digital media and e-Commerce industries.

In preparing this report, Frost & Sullivan has relied on information derived from reputable publicly available sources and industry publications. This was supplemented with a survey by Frost & Sullivan of 31 healthcare practitioners in Australia. Healthcare practitioners were selected at random from industry databases, and were interviewed by telephone to understand their current practice management challenges, and their current adoption of or attitudes towards online booking portals. This research was undertaken in the months of November and December 2014.

All effort has been made by Frost & Sullivan to ensure that information in this report is accurate and appropriate at the time of writing. Conclusions, and assumptions attached to those conclusions, are based on Frost & Sullivan's investigations and analyses of the facts as they are known as at the date of this report and Frost & Sullivan is of the opinion that the conclusions and underlying assumptions are reasonable.

Key Findings of the Report

Frost & Sullivan considers that the market opportunity for 1stAvailable is being driven by a number of macro trends, including:

- Growing demand for healthcare services being stimulated by the ageing population and increased incidence of chronic disease;
- Increased focus on the primary healthcare sector by governments;
- A growing number of healthcare practitioners to meet the increasing demand, with the number of healthcare practitioners forecast to increase at over double the rate of population growth;
- Rapid increases in internet usage, including amongst older age cohorts who are likely to be a significant market for healthcare services;
- Rapid increase in smartphone usage;
- Strong growth in online advertising expenditure as more and more advertisers use the online and mobile channels to advertise their services; and
- The strategic importance of owning search and booking details (free of sensitive patient or practice data) which is able to provide third parties with thematic mapping and other insights into healthcare consumption.

Frost & Sullivan estimates that there are approximately 323,000 healthcare practitioners active in private practice in the sectors relevant to 1stAvailable in 2014, approximately 82% of all registered healthcare practitioners. The balance of 18% is estimated to be not operating in private practice. The number of active healthcare practitioners is forecast to increase at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.8% to reach 396,000 by 2018.

The total number of individual practices is estimated at 140,000 in 2014 and to increase to 169,000 by 2018. This represents the total number of individual "buying points" for 1stAvailable, as a decision to use an online booking system is generally made at the practice level.

Based on 1stAvailable's current subscription fees, Frost & Sullivan estimates the total addressable target market at $256 million in 2014, rising to $312 million by 2018 (assuming no changes in subscription charges and assuming that all subscribers work full-time). This estimate excludes revenue from secondary sources such as paid advertising directed at consumers and practitioners, SMS alerts to consumers and from "Big Data", and from 1stAvailable's intended acquisition of GObookings Systems Pty Limited (GObookings) which is addressed elsewhere in this Report.

The most significant practice management challenge facing healthcare practitioners is improving the productivity of practice administration staff, and this challenge has become more acute over the past 12 months for almost 90% of healthcare practitioners. According to respondents to Frost & Sullivan's survey, in 70% of practices, administration staff are currently spending over 25% of their time in scheduling appointments, and in 35% of practices it is over 50%.

An estimated 2% - 3% of healthcare practitioners are currently using an online booking system. However, amongst healthcare practitioners not using such a system, over 80% of respondents believed that some changes to current appointment scheduling and booking processes and systems are needed, and 64% stated that they are likely to start using an online booking system.

The main perceived benefits of online booking systems for consumers, healthcare practice administration staff and healthcare practitioners respectively are as follows:

- Consumers - greater convenience in making appointments (avoids necessity to make multiple calls, appointments can be made outside working hours, etc); ability to identify available practitioners with empty appointment slots;
- Healthcare practice administration staff - freeing up time from scheduling thereby increasing productivity; and
- Healthcare practitioners - reduction in practice administration costs and greater revenue potential through being able to serve more consumers/patients.

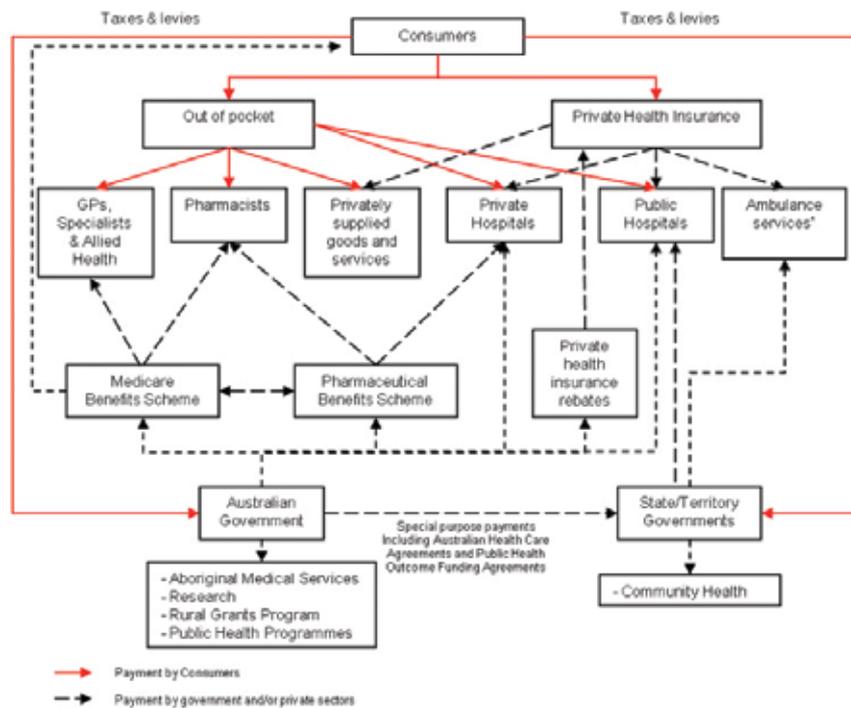

Frost & Sullivan anticipates that these factors will stimulate the take-up of online booking systems. Based on Frost & Sullivan's survey, there is significant pent-up demand for online booking systems amongst healthcare practitioners, with over 60% of practitioners that are not using such a system likely to do so. However, many practitioners feel that they do not have sufficient information to make an informed decision, and have concerns over the detrimental impact on their practice of choosing the wrong solution. Frost & Sullivan is of the opinion that 1stAvailable's online healthcare appointment booking portal could satisfy this concern.

Australian Healthcare Overview

Healthcare Structure

A schematic representation of Australia’s healthcare system is provided in Figure 1.

Source: Department of Health; Frost & Sullivan

In Australia, universal healthcare access is available via privately provided primary care services under Medicare, which is funded by the Australian Government, with co-payments by users. This gives the majority of the population that is covered by Medicare access to primary healthcare practitioners (such as GPs) at no cost at point of delivery, or at a subsidised cost. In 2013-14, 77% of Medicare services were bulk-billed by the practitioner, involving no cost to the patient at point of delivery. This has increased from 67.5% in 2003-04.⁵

⁵ Source: Department of Health, annual Medicare statistics. Bulk billing involves the provider billing Medicare directly for any medical or allied health service that the patient receives.

3. Independent Market Report continued

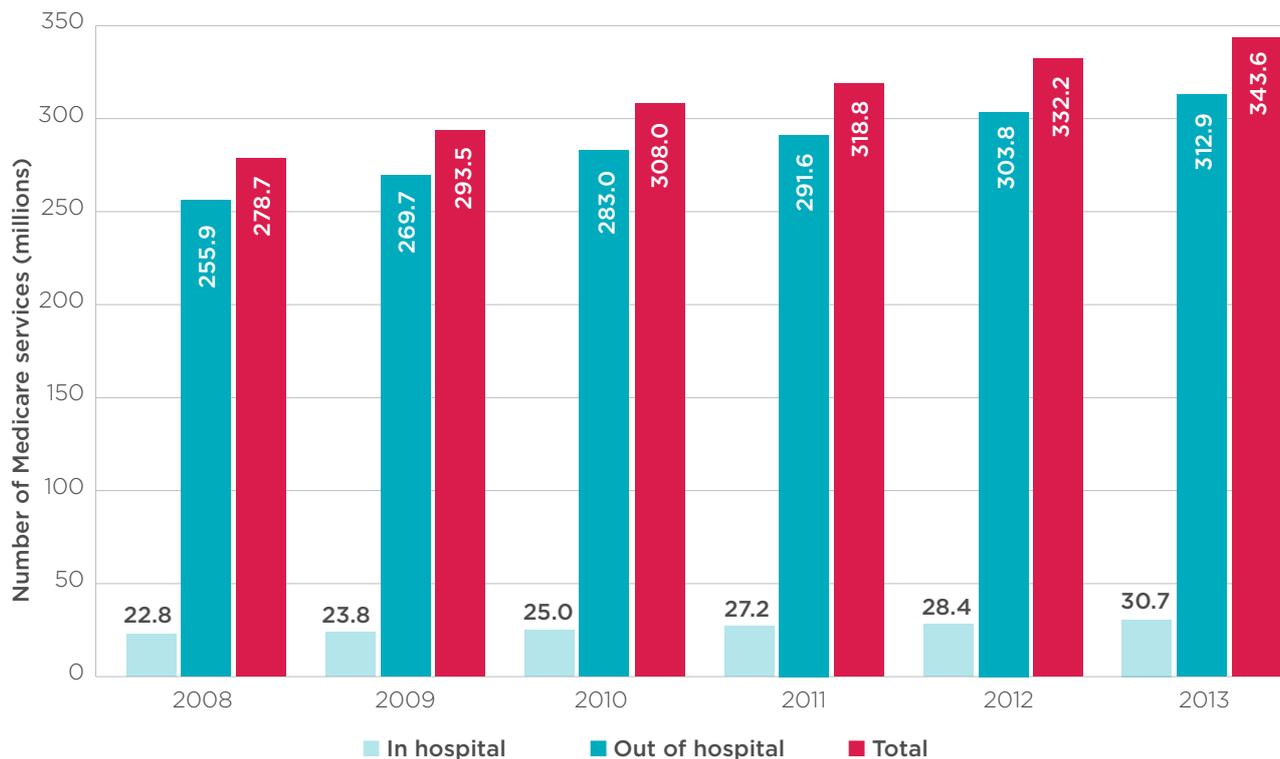

Public hospital services, which are provided free at the point of service, are funded jointly by the states, territories and the Commonwealth Government. Private hospital services are largely funded by private health insurance, which, in turn, is subsidised by the Commonwealth Government through the rebates in premiums paid to private health insurers. Private healthcare insurance covers members for much of the cost involved in undertaking treatment in a private hospital.

Private health insurance may also provide rebates to the patient for ancillary primary health services that are not covered under Medicare, such as physiotherapy, dental services and remedial massage. In September 2014, 55% of the Australian population was covered under a general healthcare policy covering ancillary services, a small increase from 54% in 2012. In the year ended September 2014, a total of 83.6 million general treatment services were provided under a private healthcare policy, an increase of 4.7% from the previous 12 month period.⁶

Growing Demand for Healthcare Services

Over recent years, the demand for healthcare services in Australia has grown strongly as illustrated in Figure 2. Between 2008 and 2013 the total number of Medicare services provided grew from 278.7 million in 2008 to 343.6 million in 2013 at a CAGR of 4.3%.

Source: Medicare statistics and 'Health Care Delivery and Financing' published by the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS)

⁶ Source: Australian Government, Private Healthcare Insurance Administration Council, quarterly statistics

This growing demand for healthcare services is being stimulated by a number of factors, including an ageing population and growing incidence of chronic diseases. The proportion of population aged 65 years and over is estimated by the ABS to increase from 13.0% in 2007 to 24.0% in 2056.⁷ This is driving a substantial increase in healthcare demand, with consultations for people aged 65 years and over growing from 35.3 million in 2010 to 40.4 million in 2013 at a CAGR of 4.6%, which was significantly higher than the CAGR of the total number of GP consultations (1.4%) in the same period. The number of Medicare services for people aged 65 years and over grew from 83.1 million in 2008 to 112.4 million in 2013 at a CAGR of 6.2%, which was higher than the CAGR of the total number of Medicare services (4.3%) in the same period.⁸

Chronic diseases are accounting for an increasing proportion of the healthcare burden, with the ageing population and lifestyle factors driving increased incidence of many chronic diseases.⁹ Around 56% of all GP consultations originate from patients suffering from a chronic condition. The number of GP consultations related to chronic diseases grew from 68.8 million in 2010 to 73.7 million in 2013 at a CAGR of around 2.3%, which was higher than the CAGR of the total number of GP consultations (1.4%) in the same period.¹⁰

Frost & Sullivan considers that the continued growth in the ageing population and the increased incidence of chronic diseases will drive an ongoing increase in demand for healthcare services well ahead of population growth. The Commonwealth Government is responding to the increased burden of demand on healthcare services by increasing the role of primary healthcare.

Increased Role of Primary Healthcare

The Commonwealth Government is aiming to shift the burden of healthcare services from hospitals to primary healthcare clinics under the National Healthcare Reform, due to the increasing burden of chronic diseases, the ageing population, the need to minimise the number of people admitted into hospitals and to encourage patients to spend less time in hospital by providing clinically appropriate care in the primary healthcare setting.

The Commonwealth Government has worked with state and territory governments to develop the National Primary Health Care Strategic Framework, which sets out a mutually agreed approach for creating a stronger and more robust primary healthcare system in Australia. Under the primary healthcare reforms, the Commonwealth Government has been making major investments in GP and primary healthcare to improve access to GP services, reduce the pressure on the hospitals systems and improve healthcare delivery in the community. The Commonwealth Government is aiming to deliver the following through the reforms:

- Upgrade and extend around 425 existing general practices, primary care and community health services;
- Improve access to primary healthcare services for the ageing population;
- Train more doctors including GPs;
- Provide support for a broader and more flexible role for practice nurses; and
- Establish primary healthcare organisations known as “Medicare Locals” to better connect health services so that healthcare professionals are supported to deliver coordinated primary healthcare in their local area.

Overall, Frost & Sullivan anticipates that there will be continued strong growth in demand for primary healthcare services in Australia, driven by demand and supply side factors. Demand side factors include the ageing population and growing incidence of chronic disease, whilst supply side factors include Government investment in the primary healthcare sector, and the growing use of bulk billing which encourages healthcare demand by patients, as well as growing membership of private health insurance (which subsidises access to primary healthcare services not covered by Medicare).

Market Drivers for Online Booking

Frost & Sullivan considers that there are a number of factors that will stimulate adoption of online booking by consumers seeking to make an appointment with a healthcare or related service practitioner. These factors include growing internet usage, especially amongst older age cohorts, faster internet speeds which provide a better online experience, and increased usage of smartphones.

As indicated in Figure 3, the proportion of the Australian population over 15 that uses the internet has increased from 69% in 2006-07 to 86% in 2013-14. The increase in usage of the over-65 age cohort has been more significant, rising from 23% in 2006-07 to 50% in 2013-14.

Source: ABS, Household use of Information Technology

Virtually all households in Australia now have internet access; with internet penetration at 107% in 2014 (some households maintain more than one internet subscription).¹¹ Almost 80% of households now have a broadband connection (see Figure 4), and the number of households with an advertised download speed of less than 1.5 Mps has declined from 45% in 2009 to less than 5% by December 2013, and 55% of broadband customers have an average connection speed above 4Mbps.¹² The speed and reliability of internet in Australia is likely to be further stimulated by the roll-out of the NBN (National Broadband Network) which is sold in five speed tiers with download speeds ranging from 12Mbps to 100Mbps.

¹² Source: ABS Internet Activity

Usage of smartphones has also increased strongly in Australia, with an estimated 87% of adults aged 15-64 now using a smartphone.¹³ Online search is a frequent activity on smartphones, with over 60% of adults now searching at least once per day on their device (see Figure 5).

Smartphone users are also using more apps, with an average of 33 apps installed per smartphone (see Figure 6).

The rapid increase in internet usage in Australia has led to substantial growth in the use of the internet as a marketing and communications channel by product and service vendors. Approximately 30% of all advertising expenditure is now online, placing Australia fourth behind the UK (40%), Netherlands (35%) and Sweden (32%). However, in terms of per capita online advertising expenditure per annum, Australia at $189 per head, is the largest market in the world.¹⁴

Between 2014 and 2019 online advertising expenditure in Australia is forecast by Frost & Sullivan to grow at a CAGR of 11.5% to reach $7.6 billion in 2019. Online search advertising is the largest segment of online advertising at 45%, and is forecast by Frost & Sullivan to grow at a CAGR of 12.2% from 2014 to 2019 (see Figure 7).

Addressable Market Opportunity

Frost & Sullivan has assumed that online booking portals will be appropriate for use by consumers in identifying and making appointments with a range of healthcare and animal health service practitioners, including:

- Primary healthcare practitioners (GPs);
- Secondary healthcare practitioners (medical specialists operating in private practice);
- Ancillary healthcare practitioners operating in private practice (such as dentists, chiropractors, physiotherapists and natural medicine providers);
- Animal health practitioners (vets); and
- Fitness professionals (personal trainers, etc).

As the revenue from 1stAvailable's subscription model is dependent on the number of individual subscriber practitioners, the total addressable market is therefore comprised of the number of active practitioners in the relevant categories operating in private practice who accept appointments from patients. Some medical practitioners do not operate in private practice and are therefore unlikely to form part of the addressable market opportunity for an online booking system for consumers (this includes practitioners operating only in research or teaching, for example, or practitioners whose specialty does not lend itself to direct booking by consumers, such as anesthetists).

In many cases, data on the number of active healthcare practitioners is provided by the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA). AHPRA's operations are governed by the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law, as in force in each state and territory (the National Law), which came into effect on 1 July 2010. This law means that for the first time in Australia, 14 health professions are regulated by nationally consistent legislation under the National Registration and Accreditation Scheme.

In estimating the addressable market, Frost & Sullivan referred to the AHPRA annual report 2013-14 for data on the number of healthcare practitioners registered with AHPRA. For healthcare practitioners that are not registered with AHPRA, Frost & Sullivan referred to other sources such as the 'Australian Association of Massage Therapists', the 'Australian Veterinary Association', etc. Estimates on the number of healthcare practitioners employed in private practices were made based on the data in reports such as 'Allied Health Workforce' published by the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare (AIHW) and 'Australia's Health Workforce Series' published by Health Workforce Australia.

Healthcare practitioners who are not employed in a private practice work in other work settings such as community health services, public and private hospitals, educational facilities, other government agencies, etc.

3. Independent Market Report continued

As indicated in Table 1, Frost & Sullivan estimates the total number of practitioners in categories relevant to 1stAvailable was approximately 392,000 in 2014, of which an estimated 82%, or 323,000 practitioners, work in private practice.

Note

1. The Veterinary industry will be relevant to 1stAvailable following completion of the Clinic Connect acquisition as Clinic Connect has a number of veterinary clients.

Frost & Sullivan estimates that by 2018, the number of practitioners employed in private practice will increase to 396,000 at a CAGR of 5.2%, and the number of individual practices will increase from 140,000 in 2014 to 169,000 in 2018 (see Table 2).¹⁵

¹⁵ Frost & Sullivan has projected the growth in the number of healthcare practitioners in the period 2015-18 on the basis of historical growth rates. For healthcare practitioners that are registered with AHPRA, Frost & Sullivan referred to the data on number of registrants in 2012 and 2014, which is published on the website of the respective boards, to calculate the historical growth rates in the number of registered practitioners. For allied healthcare practitioners that are not registered with AHPRA, the historical growth rate was assumed to be in line with the growth in the allied health workforce in Australia, which is based on data published in AIHW reports on the allied health workforce. Frost & Sullivan referred to the 'Australian veterinary workforce survey 2013' and 'Fitness industry workforce report' for historical growth rates in the number of veterinarians and fitness professionals respectively.

In calculating the size of the addressable market for 1s Available in dollar terms, Frost & Sullivan has used 1stAvailable’s current subscription charges of $35/month (massage therapists), $50/month (GPs and fitness professionals), $75/month (medical specialists, vets and other ancillary healthcare providers), and $125/month (dentists). Using these subscription rates, the total addressable market (i.e. assuming all relevant healthcare practitioners subscribed and all relevant healthcare practitioners are charged on a full-time equivalent basis) is $256 million in 2014, increasing to $312 million in 2018 at a CAGR of 5.2% (assuming no increase in subscription charges). This is indicated in Table 3 below.

Customer Analysis

To better understand the current and potential adoption of online booking portals by healthcare practitioners, as well as the main practice management challenges that they are facing, Frost & Sullivan undertook a statistically valid survey of 31 interviews with healthcare practitioners, including GPs, medical specialists and ancillary healthcare service providers. Respondents were selected at random from industry databases to avoid any sample bias. None of the interviewees are current subscribers to 1stAvailable’s booking portal.

Most Important Factors in Practice Management

The most important aspects of practice management for healthcare practitioners are improving the productivity of practice administration staff, followed by freeing up practice administration staff to better serve healthcare professionals and patients (see Figure 8).

Source: Frost & Sullivan, Survey of 31 healthcare practitioners

For a significant majority of healthcare practitioners surveyed, these factors have increased in importance over the past year (see Figure 9).

Source: Frost & Sullivan, Survey of 31 healthcare practitioners

Time spent by practice administration staff on scheduling appointments with patients is often significant. In over 70% of the practices surveyed, administration staff spend over 25% of their time in scheduling appointments, including 35% of practices where it is over 50% (see Figure 10).

Attitudes Towards Online Booking Portals

Based on available information about the current client bases of providers of online booking portals, Frost & Sullivan estimates that around 2% – 3% of addressable healthcare practitioners are currently using such systems, i.e. an estimated 7,000 – 10,000 individual practitioners.¹⁶ However, amongst the surveyed practitioners that are currently not using an online booking portal, less than 20% are fully satisfied with their existing appointment scheduling / booking systems and processes, with over 80% believing that some changes are required (see Figure 11). The main areas of dissatisfaction expressed include lack of convenience for patients, practice administration staff spending too much time scheduling appointments and too many empty appointment slots.¹⁷

Figure 11:
Satisfaction with Current
Appointment Scheduling
System / Process

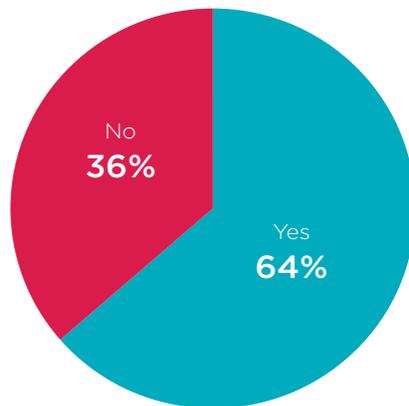

Source: Frost & Sullivan, Survey of 31 healthcare practitioners

Almost two-thirds of the healthcare practitioners surveyed that are not currently using an online booking system indicate that they are likely to start using an online booking system, the majority within the next 12 months (see Figure 12).

¹⁶ Source: Frost & Sullivan estimates

¹⁷ Source: Frost & Sullivan survey of 31 healthcare providers

Figure 12:
Intention to start using an Online Booking System

Source: Frost & Sullivan, Survey of 31 healthcare practitioners

The main perceived benefits of an online booking system to the surveyed healthcare practitioners are greater convenience for patients, freeing up administration staff for other tasks and reducing practice administration costs (see Figure 13).

Source: Frost & Sullivan, Survey of 31 healthcare practitioners

However, many of the surveyed healthcare practitioners feel that they do not have sufficient information to confidently select the most appropriate online booking system for their needs, and 70% currently believe that they do not have sufficient information to make a decision.¹⁸ Additional market education and marketing efforts are therefore needed by portal vendors to convert a significant pent-up demand for online booking systems.

Other - GObookings

Frost & Sullivan is aware that 1stAvailable entered into an agreement on 28 December 2014 to purchase GObookings Systems Pty Ltd (GObookings) which provides a cloud-based enterprise level, rules-based appointment and resource booking systems with 24/7 internet access to its customers, who include small-to-medium enterprises (SMEs), corporations, Commonwealth and state government agencies, pharmacy chains, healthcare service providers and hospitals for staff internal healthcare assessments. This acquisition will enable 1stAvailable to service not only the needs of the private practice market, but also the Corporate and Government markets.

Frost & Sullivan anticipates that from a consumer perspective, this agreement will over time provide 1stAvailable with the opportunity to provide a seamless platform for consumers (patients) to not only book an appointment to see a GP or other healthcare practitioner, but by using the same credentials potentially book their day surgery, breast screening or other appointment with their pharmacy or other service provider.

¹⁸ Source: Frost & Sullivan survey of 31 healthcare providers

3. Independent Market Report continued

We understand that GObookings can be used as a solution by medium to large businesses for the following:¹⁹

- Booking and management of appointments from external sources;
- Bookings and management of internal appointments;
- Booking / registrations for training classes;
- Booking and management of home service vehicles / teams;
- Booking and management of resources;
- Booking and management of meeting rooms;
- Booking and management of small events such as tours;
- Registrations for workshops, seminars and conferences;
- Booking of recurring events with or without a payment;
- Booking with a payment; and
- Mobile booking solution for externally operating staff.

We have not been instructed to prepare an Independent Market Report on the size of the addressable online healthcare portal market for GObookings and, accordingly, when including such an addressable market, the overall addressable market for 1stAvailable (inclusive of GObookings, once acquired), will be significantly larger than the estimated size of the online healthcare appointment portal business in private practice for the existing business conducted by 1stAvailable as identified in this report.

Disclosure

This is an independent report prepared by Frost & Sullivan. Save for the preparation of this report and services rendered in connection with this report for which normal professional fees will be received, Frost & Sullivan has no interest in 1stAvailable and no interest in the outcome of the IPO. Payment of these fees to Frost & Sullivan is not contingent on the outcome of the IPO. Frost & Sullivan has not and will not receive any other benefits (including any commissions) and there are no factors which may reasonably be assumed to have influenced the contents of this report nor which may be assumed to have provided bias or influence. Frost & Sullivan consents to the inclusion of this report in the Prospectus in the form and context in which it is included. As at the date of this report, this consent has not been withdrawn. Frost & Sullivan does not hold a dealer's license or Financial Services License. This report does not constitute advice in respect of the IPO.

Conclusion

Frost & Sullivan estimates that there are approximately 323,000 healthcare practitioners active in private practice in Australia in the categories relevant to 1stAvailable, representing the total addressable market for online healthcare booking portals. Frost & Sullivan has estimated that this will grow to 396,000 by 2018 as a result of increasing demand for healthcare services driven by factors such as the ageing population and increasing incidence of chronic diseases, as well as greater focus on and investment in the primary healthcare by governments.

Based on 1stAvailable's current subscription fees and assuming that all relevant healthcare practitioners are charged on a full-time equivalent basis, Frost & Sullivan estimates the total value of the addressable market for the Company's online appointment booking services at $256 million in 2014, increasing to $312 million in 2018 at a CAGR of 5.2%. This estimate excludes revenue from secondary sources such as paid advertising directed at consumers and practitioners, SMS alerts to consumers and from "Big Data", and from 1stAvailable's intended acquisition of GObookings.

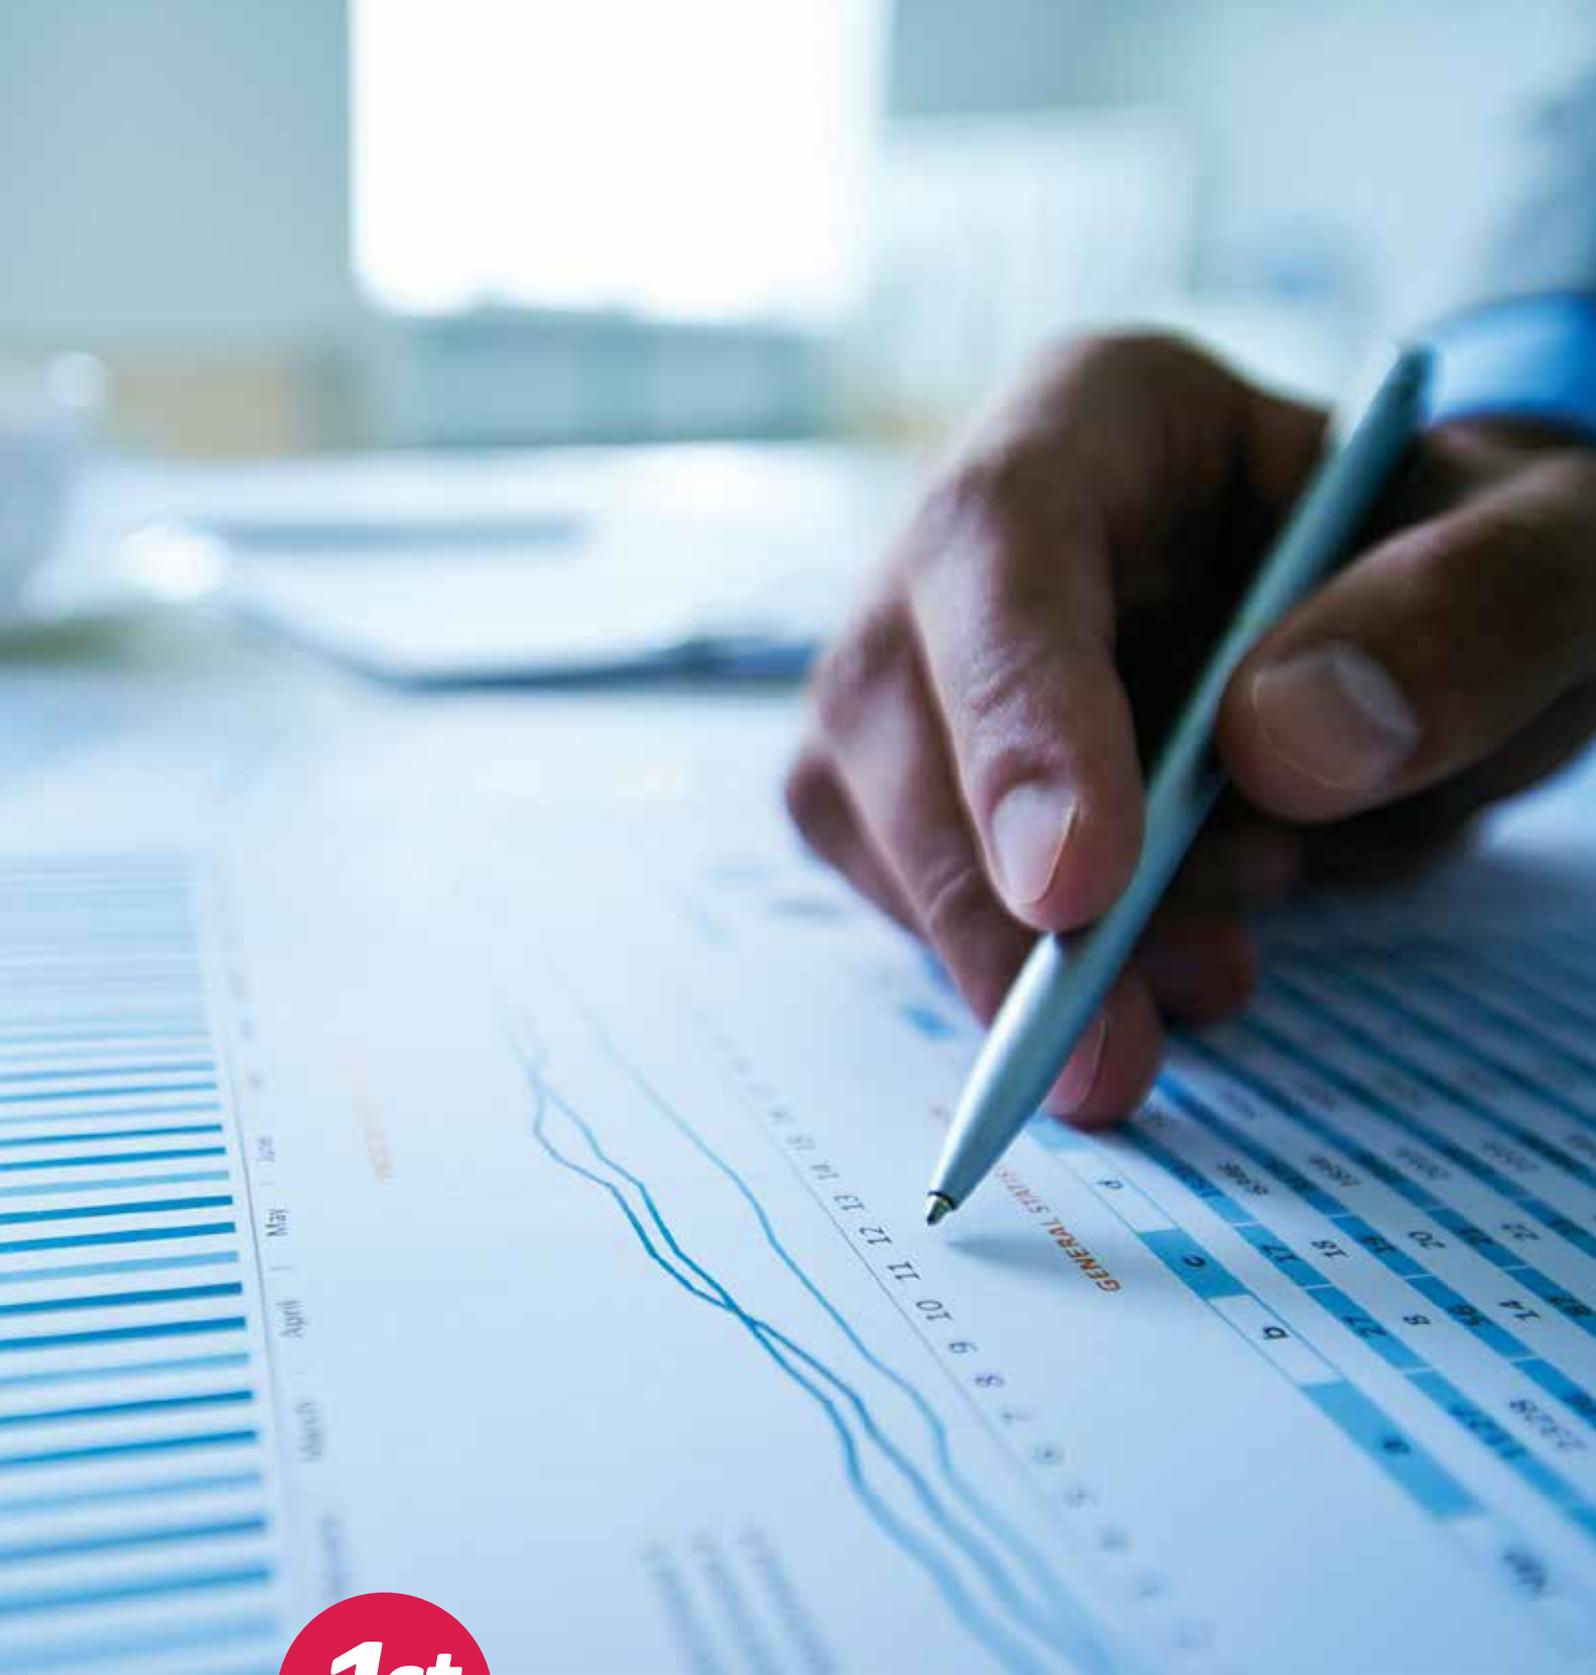

Frost & Sullivan anticipates that market demand for online booking will increase significantly amongst both consumers and healthcare practitioners. Consumer demand will be stimulated by factors such as growing internet usage, increasing broadband penetration and faster and more reliable internet connections, as well as increasing use of smartphones by consumers.

Yours sincerely,

Mark Dougan

Appendix 3 – Notes to and Forming Part of the Financial Statements

1. Summary of significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the measurement and recognition (but not the disclosure) requirements of Australian Accounting Standards, Australian Accounting Interpretations and the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth).

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis, are based on historical cost and except where stated do not take into account changing money values or current valuations of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities. Cost is based on the fair values of the consideration given in exchange for assets.

The preparation of the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income and Consolidated Statement of Financial Position requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates and assumptions. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Company's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income and Consolidated Statement of Financial Position are disclosed where appropriate.

The financial information has been prepared on the basis of a going concern which contemplates continuity of normal business activities and the realisation of assets and settlement of liabilities in the ordinary course of business.

The Statement of Comprehensive Income for the eight month period ended 28 February 2015 and the Statement of Financial Position as at 28 February 2015 are in accordance with the Company's reviewed financial position at that date. The Proforma Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income for the year ended 30 June 2014 and eight month period ended 28 February 2015 and the Proforma consolidated Statement of Financial Position as at 30 June 2014 and 28 February 2015 represents the reviewed financial result and position and adjusted for the transactions discussed in Note 2 to this report. The Proforma Consolidated Statement of Comprehensive Income and Proforma Consolidated Statement of Financial Position should be read in conjunction with the notes set out in this report.

(b) Principles of Consolidation

Subsidiaries

The Proforma Consolidated financial statements incorporate the assets and liabilities of all subsidiaries of the Company as at 28 February 2015 and the results of all subsidiaries for the period then ended on the assumption that GObookings Systems Pty Limited, Clinic Connect Pty Limited and DocAppointments.com.au Pty Limited were acquired on 28 February 2015. The Company and its subsidiaries together are referred to in this report as the Group or the consolidated entity.

Subsidiaries are all entities (including special purpose entities) over which the Group has the power to govern the financial and operating policies, generally accompanying a shareholding of more than one-half of the voting rights. The existence and effect of potential voting rights that are currently exercisable or convertible are considered when assessing whether the Group controls another entity.

Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date on which control is transferred to the Group. They are de-consolidated from the date that control ceases.

The acquisition method of accounting is used to account for business combinations by the Group.

Intercompany transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between Group companies are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of the impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of subsidiaries have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the Group.

4. Investigating Accountant's Report continued

Non-controlling interests in the results and equity of subsidiaries are shown separately in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of financial position respectively.

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost in the individual financial statements of 1st Available.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and bank overdrafts.

(d) Revenue and Other Income

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable.

Interest revenue is recognised on a time proportionate basis that takes into account the effective yield on the financial asset.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).

(e) Income Tax

The income tax expense or revenue for the period is the tax payable on the current period's taxable income based on the applicable income tax rate for each jurisdiction adjusted by changes in deferred tax assets and liabilities attributable to temporary differences and to unused tax losses.

The current income tax charge is calculated on the basis of the tax laws enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period in the countries where the Company's subsidiaries and associated entities operate and generate taxable income. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulation is subject to interpretation. It establishes provisions where appropriate on the basis of amounts expected to be paid to the tax authorities.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the consolidated financial statements. However, the deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects either accounting or taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantially enacted by the reporting date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realised or the deferred income tax liability is settled.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for deductible temporary differences and unused tax losses only if it is probable that future taxable amounts will be available to utilise those temporary differences and losses.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are not recognised for temporary differences between the carrying amount and tax bases of investments in controlled entities where the parent entity is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets and liabilities and when the deferred tax balances relate to the same taxation authority. Current tax assets and tax liabilities are offset where the entity has a legally enforceable right to offset and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity. In this case, the tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

(f) Impairment of Assets

At each reporting date, the Company reviews the carrying values of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is expensed to the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Impairment testing is performed annually for goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

(g) Trade Creditors

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of the financial year and which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within 30 days of recognition.

(h) Contributed Equity

Ordinary shares are classified as equity.

Costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(i) Employee Benefits

(i) Wages and salaries, annual leave and sick leave

Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits, annual leave and accumulating sick leave expected to be settled within 12 months of the reporting date are recognised in other payables in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

(ii) Long service leave

The liability for long service leave is recognised in the provision for employee benefits and measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date using the projected unit credit method. Consideration is given to the expected future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service. Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at the reporting date on national government bonds with terms to maturity and currency that match, as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows.

(j) Provisions

Provisions for legal claims, service warranties and make good obligations are recognised when the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events, it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount has been reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses.

Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the reporting date. The discount rate used to determine the present value reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as interest expense.

4. Investigating Accountant's Report continued

(k) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST except:

- Where the GST incurred on the purchase of goods and services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item as applicable; and
- Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST.

5. Risk Factors

5. Risk Factors

The e-Commerce sector is subject to numerous risk factors both of a general nature and risks which are specific to the Company's business activities (including, following successful close of the Offer Merged Group). The potential effect of these risk factors, either individually or in combination, may have an adverse effect on the future financial (including potential profits and losses) and operating performance of the Company, its assets and liabilities, financial position and prospects and the value of the Shares. In this Section 5, references to the Company includes (unless the context otherwise requires) a reference to the Company and the Merged Group after the successful close of the Offer and acquisition of GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments by the Company.

This Section 5 describes what the Company considers to be the key risks associated with investing in the Company. You should carefully consider these risk factors in light of your personal circumstances and seek professional advice from your stockbroker, accountant, lawyer or other professional adviser before deciding whether to invest. Investment in the Company should be considered as being speculative.

This Section 5 should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of every possible risk associated with an investment in the Company. The types of risks the Company is exposed to can change over time and vary with changes in economic, technological and regulatory conditions both generally and within the healthcare industry and e-Commerce sector specifically.

Before making any decision to invest in the Company, potential investors should read this Prospectus in full. In particular, potential investors should be aware that there is no certainty that the Company will achieve its stated objectives or that any forward-looking statement will occur. Any investment in the Company should only be considered in light of these risks, as the occurrence of any of the risks set out in this Section 5 either individually or in combination could have a material adverse impact on the Company's operating performance and profits.

5.1 Risks specific to an investment in 1stAvailable

System and content integrity

The performance of the Merged Group's websites will be vitally important to the reputation of the Company's business, its ability to attract subscribers and consumers.

The Company will rely on telecommunications operators, data centres and other third parties for key aspects of the process of maintaining the website and selling its products and services to subscribers. The Company's influence over these third parties is limited. Any system that causes the interruption to the website could materially affect its business and financial performance. System failures, if prolonged, could reduce the attractiveness of the website to visitors and hinder the Company's ability to make sales to subscribers, and would damage its business reputation and brand name.

Although the Company's systems have been designed around industry-standard architectures, they remain vulnerable to damage or interruption from earthquakes, floods, fires, power loss, telecommunication failures, hacking, terrorist attacks, computer viruses or similar events. The Company's disaster recovery planning cannot account for all eventualities. The website has experienced system failures in the past and may do so in the future.

If frequent or persistent significant system failures are experienced on the website, the Company may need to take steps to increase the reliability of its systems and invest in further or improved back-up systems. This could be expensive, reduce operating margins and may not be successful in reducing the frequency or duration of unscheduled downtime. It would also negatively impact the Company's financial performance, financial position, business reputation and brand name.

The Company's response to any disaster or serious disruption of services may be too slow, expensive or inadequate. There is no guarantee that the Company will recover from such a disaster or interruption.

Breach of confidentiality

System failures or hacking which result in the publication of, or making accessible, confidential information of patients would be likely to materially and adversely affect the Company's business.

Loss making

1stAvailable is currently loss-making. The Company has a history of net losses and has not yet made a profit. There is no guarantee that it will achieve sufficiently widespread acceptance amongst private healthcare providers and patients to become profitable.

Decline in revenue since the end of the 2013 financial year

Since the conclusion of the financial year ended 30 June 2013 1stAvailable has experienced a decline in revenue. Specifically, for the financial year ended 30 June 2013 1stAvailable had revenue of $165,246, which declined to $99,229 for the financial year ended 30 June 2014 and, for the eight months ended 28 February 2015, 1stAvailable had revenue of $105,030. There is no guarantee that 1stAvailable will be successful in achieving sufficiently widespread acceptance amongst healthcare providers and patients in order to drive up its revenue and become profitable.

New Shareholders will only hold an aggregate minority interest in 1stAvailable

The Existing Shareholders are expected to hold approximately 77.43% of the total Shares on issue assuming that the Minimum Subscription is raised, 64.53% based on the Maximum Subscription being raised and 60.50% if $2,000,000 in Oversubscriptions are accepted.

This means that (in aggregate) the persons that apply under this Prospectus will hold a minority interest in 1stAvailable. There can be no assurance that there will be an ongoing and liquid market on ASX for 1stAvailable Shares once 1stAvailable is admitted to the Official List of the ASX. Further, as disclosed in Section 7.7, the Directors, and the founder of the Company, Dr Luu (and their controlled entities) have agreed to voluntarily escrow their 11,646,046 Shares for 12 months. The Directors estimate that up to 7,000,000 Shares may be subject to mandatory escrow under the ASX Listing Rules. This may cause a liquidity risk for the Shares given that these Shares may not be traded for the period of the escrow restrictions (which will be 12 months for the voluntary escrowed Shares and up to 24 months for the mandatory ASX escrowed Shares).

Competition

Internet businesses have low barriers to entry. Any significant competition may adversely affect the Company's ability to meet its business objectives.

Competition may arise from a number of sources including global e-Commerce companies with developed processes, systems and technology, and who also have greater capital resources and depth of expertise. Subscribers may also choose to establish their own online search and appointment booking sites rather than utilising the Company's services.

Competition may result in a reduction of the Company's margins.

Current or new competitors may adopt certain aspects of the Company's business model thereby reducing the Company's ability to differentiate its services.

Decline in the rate of growth of internet penetration and rate of migration online

Internet penetration has been growing. However, there can be no guarantee that this growth will continue in the future. In addition, growth in e-Commerce is underpinned by a range of factors including migration from more traditional forms of retail sales. While increased internet penetration and a migration of retail sales to digital platforms has occurred over recent years, there can be no guarantee that the rate of penetration and migration will continue in the future, which may have an adverse effect on the Company's financial position and performance.

More generally, e-Commerce is subject to many factors outside the control of the Company. Growth may slow or there may be declines in the markets in which the Merged Group operates.

5. Risk Factors continued

Corruption of the Company's database

The database developed by the Company is a valuable asset, and is subject to risks associated with computer viruses, physical or electronic break-ins, loss of data from physical damage or from failures in third party service providers or operating systems and similar disruptions, as well as to damage from the inadvertent introduction onto its systems of incorrect programming language by its employees. An irrecoverable loss of the database would be expensive to remedy, would have a material adverse effect on the Company's operations and financial position and performance, and would damage its business reputation and brand name.

The database is maintained by third party host providers upon which the Company relies.

Relatively new business

The Company has a relatively short operating history and operates in a business sector that is evolving.

Managing growth

The Company is experiencing rapid growth in the scope of its operating activities. This growth has resulted in an increased level of responsibility for both existing and new personnel. Whilst the Company believes that the management team have the requisite experience to successfully manage this challenge, there can be no guarantee that revenue will increase in response to the forecast increases in expenditure. If the Company is unable to manage any growth successfully, including through the successful recruitment, training, integration and management of the staff required to support such growth, it may not be able to take advantage of market opportunities, satisfy customer requirements, execute its business plan or respond to competitive pressure.

Key personnel

The Company's success will be dependent on the retention of key employees in senior management, relationships management and technology. Such key employees are subject to service contracts, but the Company does not have key person life insurance policies for any of its executive officers or key employees. Competition for qualified employees in the industry could become intense, and the loss of a substantial number of qualified employees, or an inability to attract, retain and motivate additional highly-skilled employees required for the anticipated expansion of the Company's activities, could adversely affect its business, results of operations and financial performance or position.

Sufficiency of funding

There can be no assurance that the Company will meet its objectives without further funding. Additional funds may be difficult to raise or dilutionary to the then existing shareholders.

New technology substitution

The number of people who access information through devices other than personal computers, including smartphones, has increased in recent years. If the Company is unable to increase the level of visits to the Company's website due to alternative device usage or if it is significantly slower than its competitors to adopt to technological change, this will have an adverse effect on the Company's ability to attract new subscribers and retain its existing customer base.

Hacking

The Company's business may be adversely affected by hacking and malicious third party applications that interfere with, or exploit, security flaws in the Company's websites or platform. Viruses, worms and other malicious software programs could, amongst other things, jeopardise the security of information stored in the subscriber's computer or in the Company's computer systems or attempt to change the internet experience of users by interfering with the Company's ability to connect with its users.

If the Company's efforts to combat hacking or these malicious applications are unsuccessful, or if the website has actual or perceived vulnerabilities, the Company's business reputation and brand name may be harmed and user traffic could decline, which may result in a material adverse effect on the Company's operations and financial position and performance.

Dependence on internet infrastructure

The Company's online business is dependent on the ongoing maintenance of the global, regional and local internet infrastructure to provide the necessary data speed, capacity and security to allow it to offer viable services. The internet has experienced significant growth in the number of users and amount of traffic. To the extent that the internet continues to experience increased number of users, there can be no assurance that the internet infrastructure will continue to be able to support the demands placed on it by continued growth.

Viruses, worms and similar programs, as well as problems with providers of telecommunications infrastructure supporting the network and power cuts, may also harm the performance of the internet. Any ongoing or serious disruptions to the performance of the internet will adversely affect the Company's operations and would have a material adverse impact on the Company's operations, financial position and financial performance.

The Company is dependent upon the host providers who own and operate the servers and related infrastructure used in providing the Company's service. Failure of such host providers to continue to operate efficiently and effectively may have a material and adverse impact on the Company's business.

Display of inappropriate content

The Company has processes that allow it to monitor and remove inappropriate content placed on its website, whether deliberately or inadvertently. However, the Company will not have the ability to guarantee that all content displayed on its website is appropriate at all times. This includes the presentation of photographs accepted by the Company in good faith. The Company cannot guarantee that such material is not obscene, offensive or otherwise damaging to its business reputation and brand name, or the reputation of any third party.

Unauthorised use of intellectual property or independent development of technology

The Company regards substantial elements of its website, software tools, applications and underlying technology as proprietary. Despite precautionary measures, third parties may copy or otherwise obtain and use the Company's proprietary information without authorisation or may develop similar technology independently. In addition, competitors may be able to design around the Company's technology or develop competing technology substantially similar to the Company's without any infringement of the Company's proprietary rights. Any legal action that the Company may bring to protect its proprietary information could be unsuccessful and expensive and would divert management's attention from other business concerns.

It is possible that certain purported intellectual property rights on which the Company relies may not prove to be enforceable, whether because they infringe third party rights or otherwise. The Company does not consider that it misuses the intellectual property of any third party (and no third party has alleged any such misuse). However, if any third party were to allege that the Company infringes intellectual property owned by that third party, then clarifying and (if appropriate) defending the Company's position could be costly and divert management's resources and attention from other business concerns. It could also require the Company to cease using the intellectual property in question (which might cause interruptions to the business and increase costs), or to enter into a licence of that intellectual property (which might be available on commercially onerous terms) or to pay damages to a third party.

Retention of existing subscribers and patients

An important component of the success of the Company is its ability to maintain its existing (including those of GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments after those acquisitions are complete), and to grow new, relationships with subscribers and to increase the number of registered patients. The Company's ability to retain subscribers will depend, in part, on its ability to continue to attract patients to its website and to demonstrate a high level of usage of the website that creates value for its subscribers by generating enquiries about making appointments.

In addition, the Company's success, including its ability to increase revenues from existing subscribers, will depend on its ability to enhance its existing services and respond to technological advances, emerging industry standards and practices in a timely manner and on a cost-effective basis. If the Company's website ceases to generate enough enquiries for its subscribers, or other levels of service sufficient to justify the subscription or advertising fee, or the Company does not maintain adequate technical support level and the ease of use, functionality and features of its website to attract users, or it fails to keep pace with technology and healthcare market developments, its subscribers may choose not to renew contracts for the Company's products and services.

Attracting new subscribers and patients

The growth of the Company depends on increasing the number of private healthcare provider, corporate and government subscribers and patients. The market is finite. The Company's ability to increase subscriptions and registered patients is not guaranteed and is likely to be subject to limits.

New acquisitions

The Company may make acquisitions in circumstances where the Directors believe that those acquisitions support the Company's growth strategy. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to identify, complete and integrate suitable acquisitions successfully. Acquiring new businesses can place significant strain on management, employees, systems and resources. Acquired businesses may not perform in line with expectations and it may not prove possible to achieve the desired synergies on the integration of new businesses.

The acquisitions made or to be made by the Company may expose it to business risks or liability, including liability which is not fully indemnified.

There may also be integration issues arising from the transitioning of clients from GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments and not all of these clients may be successfully transitioned to the Company's platform. The Company has entered into the Share Purchase Agreements and undertaken enquiries relating to the business of GObookings, Clinic Connect and DocAppointments but there may be liabilities or risks in relation to the acquisitions of which the Company is unaware and which may adversely impact on the value of the business being acquired.

Tax risk

The Company currently operates solely in Australia and is subject to its tax regime. While the Company is not aware of any changes in its current tax position, changes in tax laws and regulations or their interpretation or application could adversely affect the tax liabilities of the Company. There is no assurance that the current research and development concessions or incentives or exemptions will be renewed upon their expiration date.

Government regulation and legal

From time to time, changes and / or implementation of the laws and regulations may require the Company to obtain additional approvals and / or licences and / or incur additional costs. Should such events take place, the Company's ongoing business costs may rise.

Changes in or extensions of laws and regulations affecting either the healthcare industry or internet business operations, and the rules of industry organisations could restrict or complicate the Company's activities and significantly increase its compliance costs. Such cost increases may have an adverse effect on the financial performance or position of the Company.

5.2 General risks related to the Shares

Share price and stock market fluctuations

Once the Company becomes a publicly listed company on the ASX, investment in the Shares will be subject to general risks applicable to all securities listed on a stock exchange. This may result in fluctuations in the Share price that are not explained by the performance of the Company.

The price at which Shares are quoted on the ASX, and the value of the Shares, may increase or decrease due to a number of factors. These factors may cause the Shares to trade at prices below the Offer Price. There is no assurance that the price of the Shares will increase following quotation on the ASX, even if the Company's earnings increase.

The market may be influenced by factors unrelated to the operating performance of the Company, such as economic conditions (including any recession), investor sentiments, regional and international stock market conditions, changes in regional and international industrial, fiscal, monetary or regulatory policy, international conflicts and changes in interest rates and the rate of inflation.

Market for Shares

The Company's Share price may be volatile due to a wide range of factors, including the risk factors identified in this Section, many of which are beyond the Company's control. The Company cannot predict the extent to which a trading market will develop in the Shares or how liquid that market may become. The Offer Price might not be indicative of prices that will prevail in the trading market and investors may not be able to resell the Shares at or above the price they paid.

A public perception that the Company is an internet, e-Commerce or technology company may result in the price of the Shares moving in line with other shares in companies of this nature. Traditionally, the share prices of internet, e-Commerce or technology companies have tended to be more volatile than share prices in companies operating in other industries.

No trading history

The Shares have not previously been listed. Consequently, there is no trading history in the Shares and no historical data showing how the Shares have traded in the secondary market or the liquidity of that market.

6.5 Company Secretary's consultancy agreement

Andrew Whitten has been engaged as the Company Secretary of the Company through a consultancy agreement between the Company and Whittens, of which Mr Whitten is a principal.

The consultancy agreement can be terminated by either party at any time by the giving of 3 months' notice, except in the case of failure to pay for services that have been provided, in which case 7 days' notice of an intention to terminate the agreement may be given by Whittens.

6.6 Incentive arrangements

In addition to the remuneration paid to the Directors and the Company's executives, the Company has issued options under the Company's Option Plan. See Section 8.5 for further details of the terms of the Options.

The Company is keen to retain its senior executive team and to grow it over time. An important element of recruiting suitable experienced personnel is to offer incentive packages that align the interests of management with those of the Company. For this reason it is anticipated that the Company will issue options in the future to new senior management appointments.

6.8 Directors' interests and remuneration

Directors' remuneration

Mr Bartosch's executive service agreement is summarised in Section 6.3. In respect of the other Directors, under the Constitution, the Directors may decide the total amount paid to all Directors as remuneration for their services as a Director. However, under the ASX Listing Rules, the total amount paid to all Directors for their services must not exceed in aggregate in any financial year the amount fixed by the Company in general meeting. This amount has been fixed by the Company up to a maximum of $500,000. The Company does not intend to utilise that full amount this year.

For the remainder of the financial year ending 30 June 2015, it is expected that the fees payable to the current Directors will not exceed $100,000 in aggregate.

Annual Directors' fees currently agreed to be paid by the Company are $60,000 to the Chairman and $40,000 for non-executive Directors which is exclusive of statutory superannuation.

In addition to their annual remuneration, the Directors may also be reimbursed for expenses properly incurred by the Directors in connection with the affairs of the Company including travel and other expenses. Non-executive Directors may be paid such additional or special remuneration as the Directors decide is appropriate where a Director performs extra work or services which are not in the capacity as Director. Directors are not currently entitled to any additional remuneration for time spent in connection with acting as a member of any committee of the Board.

There are no retirement benefit schemes for Directors, other than statutory superannuation contributions.

The seven year period can be extended where certain proceedings or investigations commence before the seven year period expires.

6.9 Corporate governance – overview

This Section 6.9 explains how the Board intends to manage the Company's business.

The Board is responsible for the overall corporate governance of the Company. The Board monitors the operational and financial position and performance of the Company and oversees its business strategy including approving the strategic goals of the Company. The Board is committed to maximising performance, generating appropriate levels of Shareholder value and financial return.

In conducting business with these objectives, the Board is concerned to ensure that the Company is properly managed to protect and enhance Shareholder interests, and that the Company, its Directors, officers and employees operate in an appropriate environment of corporate governance. Accordingly, the Board has created a framework for managing the Company including adopting relevant internal controls, risk management processes and corporate governance policies and practices which it believes are appropriate for the Company's business and which are designed to promote the responsible management and conduct of the Company.

The main policies and practices adopted by the Company are summarised below. In addition, many governance elements are contained in the Constitution. The Company's Code of Conduct outlines how the Company expects Directors and employees to behave and conduct business in a range of circumstances. Details of the Company's key policies and practices and the charters for the Board and each of its committees are available at www.1stavailable.com.au.

The ASX Corporate Governance Council has developed and released corporate governance recommendations for Australian listed entities (ASX Recommendations) in order to promote investor confidence and to assist listed companies to meet stakeholder expectations. The recommendations are not mandatory, but rather are guidelines. However, under the Listing Rules, the Company will be required to provide a statement in its annual report disclosing the extent to which it has followed the ASX Recommendations in the reporting period. Where the Company does not follow a recommendation, it must identify the recommendation that has not been followed and give reasons for not complying with the recommendation.

The Board does not anticipate that it will depart from the ASX Recommendations although the Company may depart from recommendations in the future if the Board considers that such a departure would be reasonable.

Board of Directors and its committees

The Board is comprised of three non-executive Directors and one executive Director. The Board consists of:

- Trevor Matthews;
- Klaus Bartosch;
- Richard Arnold; and
- Garry Charny.

Detailed biographies of the Directors are provided above in Section 6.1.

All non-executive Directors have confirmed to the Company that they anticipate being available to perform their duties as non-executive Directors without constraint from other commitments.

The Board considers an independent Director to be a non-executive Director who is not a member of the Company's management and who is free of any business or other relationship that could materially interfere with or reasonably be perceived to interfere with the independent exercise of their judgement. The Board will consider the materiality of any given relationship on a case-by-case basis and has adopted guidelines to assist it in this regard. The Board reviews the independence of each Director in light of interests disclosed to the Board from time to time. The Board Charter sets out guidelines and thresholds of materiality for the purposes of determining the independence of Directors in accordance with the ASX Recommendations. For this purpose, a Director will (among others) not be considered to be independent if the Director:

- is a substantial shareholder of 1stAvailable or an officer of, or otherwise associated directly with, a substantial shareholder of 1stAvailable;
- is employed, or has previously been employed in an executive capacity by 1stAvailable, and there has not been a period of at least three years between ceasing that employment and serving on the Board;
- is, or has within the last three years been a partner, director or senior employee of a provider of material professional services to 1stAvailable;
- is, or has been within the last three years, in a material business relationship (e.g. as a supplier or customer) with 1stAvailable, or an officer of, or otherwise associated directly or indirectly with, someone with such a relationship;
- has a material contractual relationship with 1stAvailable other than as a director of 1stAvailable;
- has close family ties with any person who falls within any of the categories described above; or
- has been a director of 1stAvailable for such period that his or her independence may have been compromised.

In each case, the Board will consider whether there are any factors or considerations which may mean that the Director's interest, business or relationship could, or could reasonably be perceived to, materially interfere with the Director's ability to act in the best interests of the Company.

The Board considers that Trevor Matthews, Richard Arnold and Garry Charny are free from any business or other relationship that could materially interfere with, or reasonably be perceived to interfere with the independent exercise of their judgement and are able to fulfil the role of independent Director for the purposes of the ASX Recommendations.

The Board believes that each of the non-executive Directors brings objective and independent judgement to the Board's deliberations, and that each of the non-executive Directors makes valuable contributions to the Company.

Board Charter

The Board has adopted a written Charter to provide a framework for the effective operation of the Board, which sets out:

- the Board's composition;
- the Board's role and responsibilities;
- the relationship and interaction between the Board and management; and
- the authority delegated by the Board to management and Board committees.

The Board's role is to:

- represent and serve the interests of Shareholders by overseeing and appraising the Company's strategies, policies and performance;
- protect and optimise the Company's performance and build value for Shareholders;
- set, review and facilitate compliance with the Company's values and governance framework; and
- ensure Shareholders are kept informed of the Company's performance and major developments.

Matters which are specifically reserved for the Board or its committees include:

- appointment of a chair;
- appointment and removal of the Chief Executive Officer;
- appointment of Directors to fill a vacancy or as an additional Director;
- establishment of Board committees, their membership and delegated authorities;
- approval of dividends;
- approval of major capital expenditure, acquisitions and divestitures in excess of authority levels delegated to management;
- calling of meetings of Shareholders; and
- any other specific matters nominated by the Board from time to time.

The management function is conducted by, or under the supervision of the Chief Executive Officer as directed by the Board. Management must supply the Board with information in a form, timeframe and quality that will enable the Board to discharge its duties effectively.

Directors are entitled to request additional information at any time they consider it appropriate. The Board collectively, and individual Directors, may seek independent professional advice at the Company's expense, subject to the approval of the Chairman or the Board as a whole.

Performance evaluation

The Company will adopt a performance evaluation process in relation to the Board and its committees. The Remuneration and Nomination Committee will implement a formal process in relation to the performance of the Board and its Committees. Each Committee of the Board will also be required to provide feedback in terms of a review of its own performance.

Where appropriate to facilitate the review process, assistance may be obtained from third party advisers.

Given that the Company has not yet become listed on the ASX, a performance evaluation by the Board, its Committees and the senior executives has not yet taken place in accordance with this process.

Board committees

The Board may from time to time establish appropriate committees to assist in the discharge of its responsibilities. The Board has established the Audit and Risk Committee and the Remuneration and Nomination Committee.

Other Committees may be established by the Board as and when required. Membership of Board committees will be based on the needs of the Company, relevant legislative and other requirements and the skills and experience of individual directors.

Under the Board's Charter, Board committee performance evaluations will occur in accordance with processes established by the Board.

Audit and Risk Committee

The role of the Audit and Risk Committee is to assist the Board to meet its oversight responsibilities in relation to the Company's financial reporting systems, the systems of internal control and risk management and audit functions. In fulfilling these roles, the Audit and Risk Committee is responsible for maintaining effective communication between the Board, itself, management and auditors.

The Audit and Risk Committee provides advice to the Board and reports on the status and management of the risks to the Company. The purpose of the Committee's risk management process is to assist the Board in relation to risk management policies, procedures and systems and ensure that risks are identified, assessed and appropriately managed.

The Board has adopted a policy regarding the services that the Company may obtain from its auditor. It is the policy of the Company that its external auditor must:

- lack any current or past connection or association with the Company or with any member of senior management which could in any way impair, or be seen to carry with it the risk of impairing, the independent external review the external auditor is required to take in relation to the Company;
- have a general reputation for independence and probity and professional standing within the business community; and
- possess knowledge of the industry within which the Company operates.

The Audit and Risk Committee Charter provides that the committee will comprise at least two members whilst the Company has four or less Directors and otherwise three members each of whom, are non-executive Directors and a majority of whom are independent. The chair of the committee shall be an independent Non-Executive Director who does not chair the Board.

The Audit and Risk Committee will meet as often as is required by the Audit and Risk Committee Charter or other policy approved by the Board to govern the operations of the Audit and Risk Committee. The Audit and Risk Committee may seek advice from external advisers and invite the external auditor, any internal auditor, and any other non-executive director, executive or employee of the Company and any other person to be present at the meetings of the Audit and Risk Committee. The Audit and Risk Committee will regularly report to the Board about committee activities, issues and related recommendations.

The Committee currently comprises Richard Arnold (Chair), Trevor Matthews and Garry Charny. The Board acknowledges ASX Recommendation 4.1 that a majority of the members of an audit committee should be independent directors. All three members are independent, non-executive Directors.

The Board believes that the current members of the Committee are the most appropriate to achieve its objectives (having regard to their experience and skills) and that each member will bring independent judgement to the Audit and Risk Committee's deliberations.

Remuneration and Nomination Committee

The role of the Remuneration and Nomination Committee is to review and make recommendations to the Board on remuneration packages and policies related to the Directors and senior executives, and to ensure that the remuneration policies and practices are consistent with the Company's strategic goals and human resources objectives. The Remuneration and Nomination Committee is also responsible for reviewing and making recommendations in relation to the composition and performance of the Board and its committees and ensuring that adequate succession plans are in place (including for the recruitment and appointment of Directors and senior management). Independent advice will be sought where appropriate.

The Remuneration and Nomination Committee will meet as often as is required by the Remuneration and Nomination Committee Charter or other policy approved by the Board to govern the operation of the Remuneration and Nomination Committee. At each meeting, the Remuneration and Nomination Committee will consider whether any significant matters should be brought to the attention of the Board and the Remuneration and Nomination Committee will endeavour to raise these matters in a form and timeframe that assists the Board to discharge its duties effectively.

6. Key People, Interests and Benefits continued

The Committee currently consists of Garry Charny (Chair) and Richard Arnold. The Board acknowledges ASX Recommendation 8.1 that a majority of the members of a remuneration committee should be independent directors. Both Directors on the Remuneration and Nomination Committee are classified as independent, non-executive Directors.

The Board believes that the current members of the Committee are the most appropriate to achieve its objectives (having regard to their experience and skills) and that each member will bring independent judgement to the Remuneration and Nomination Committee's deliberations.

6.10 Corporate governance policies

Code of Conduct

The Board recognises the need to observe the high standards of corporate practice and business conduct. Accordingly, the Board has adopted a formal Code of Conduct, which sets out the way the Company intends to conduct business. The Company intends to carry on business honestly and fairly, acting in ways that reflect well on the Company in strict compliance with all laws and regulations.

The policy document outlines the employees' obligations of compliance with the Code of Conduct, and explains how the code interacts with the Company's other corporate governance policies.

Responsibilities include the using of the Company's resources in an appropriate manner, protecting confidential information and avoiding conflicts of interest.

Securities Trading Policy

The Company has adopted a written policy for dealing in securities. The policy is intended to explain the prohibited type of conduct in relation to dealings in securities under the Corporations Act, and to establish a best practice procedure in relation to Directors', management's and employees' dealings in Shares.

The policy applies to Directors, officers, key management personnel and other persons designated from the Board from time to time (Designated Persons), who must not deal in Shares while they are in possession of material price sensitive information. Furthermore, Designated Persons must not deal in Shares during 'black-out periods', which include the following:

- full year results: the period from the close of trading on the ASX on 31 December each year, until the day following the announcement to ASX of 1stAvailable's annual results;
- half year results: the period from the close of trading on 30 June, until the day following the announcement to ASX of the half-yearly results; and
- any other period that the Board specifies from time to time.

Advance notification to the Company is required if Directors and their Designated Persons intend to deal in the Company's securities.

Shareholder Communications Policy

The Board's aim is to ensure that Shareholders are provided with sufficient information to assess the performance of the Company and that they are informed of all major developments affecting the state of affairs of the Company relevant to Shareholders in accordance with all applicable laws. The Company has a communications strategy which aims to promote effective communication with Shareholders and encourage effective participation at general meetings.

Information will be communicated to Shareholders through the lodgement of all relevant financial and other information with ASX and publishing information on the Company's website, www.1stavailable.com.au.

In particular, the Company's website will contain information about it, including media releases, key policies and the terms of reference of its Board committees. All relevant announcements made to ASX and any other relevant information will be posted on the Company's website as soon as they have been released to ASX.

Continuous Disclosure Policy

Once listed on ASX, the Company will be required to comply with the continuous disclosure requirements of the Listing Rules and the Corporations Act. Subject to the exceptions contained in the Listing Rules, the Company will be required to disclose to the ASX any information concerning the Company which is not generally available and which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of the Shares.

The Company is committed to observing its disclosure obligations under the Listing Rules and the Corporations Act. The Company has adopted a Disclosure and Communication Policy which establishes procedures which are aimed at ensuring that Directors and management are aware of and fulfil their obligations in relation to the timely disclosure of material price-sensitive information.

The policy sets out principles relating to disclosure of material information, including that the Company:

- will not provide analysts or other select groups of market participants with any material price sensitive non-public information at any time before it is disclosed to ASX;
- will not generally respond to market rumours and speculation, except when ASX formally requests disclosure on the matter or the Board considers it appropriate to make a disclosure under the circumstances; and
- will only allow the Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer or another person expressly authorised in writing by the Board, Chairman or Chief Executive Officer to make public statements on behalf of the Company.

This policy emphasises a proactive approach to continuous disclosure. The objective is to create a culture of openness, which is conducive to the fulfilment of the Company's disclosure obligations.

Risk Management Policy

The identification and proper management of the Company's risks an important for the Board.

The Board is responsible for overseeing and approving risk management strategy and policies. The Board, in conjunction with the Audit and Risk Committee, has responsibility for identifying major risk areas and implementing risk management systems. The Audit and Risk Committee is responsible for establishing and monitoring procedures which seek to provide assurance that major business risks are identified, consistently assessed and appropriately addressed.

The Company will regularly undertake reviews of its risk management procedures to ensure that it complies with its legal obligations, including to assist the Chief Executive Officer or Chief Financial Officer to provide their declaration under section 295A of the Corporations Act.

Diversity Policy

The Board will also have primary responsibility for implementation of the Company's Diversity Policy, which sets out the Company's vision for diversity, incorporating a number of different factors including gender, ethnicity, age and other areas. After it has become listed, the Company will report on measurable objectives for achieving gender diversity and progress made towards achieving those objectives, as well as reporting on the proportion of women in various roles within the Company in its first annual report.

Escrow arrangements

ASX restriction agreements

A number of shareholders in the Company will be subject to restrictions on disposing of Shares (in other words the Shares will be escrowed) pursuant to restriction agreements entered into, or to be entered into, by the relevant shareholders. Some of these agreements have been voluntarily entered into and others will be required by ASX as a condition of Listing.

The restriction on disposing of Shares is broadly defined, and includes, among other things, selling, assigning, transferring or otherwise disposing of any interest in the Shares, encumbering or granting a security interest over the Shares, doing, or omitting to do, any act if the act or omission would have the effect of transferring effective ownership or control of any of the Shares or agreeing to do any of those things.

All of the Directors, and the founder of the Company, Dr Luu (and their controlled entities), have agreed to voluntarily escrow their 11,646,046 Shares for 12 months.

It is likely that the ASX will impose escrow for up to 24 months from Listing on those Shares as well as on the 8,193,455 Options held by the Directors.

The Company estimates that up to a further 7,000,000 Shares may be subject to ASX imposed escrow.

The 3,099,130 Options held by persons who are not Directors will also be escrowed for up to 24 months, with the majority escrowed for 12 months.

7. Details of the Offer continued

Those shareholders who enter into restriction agreements (Escrowed Shareholders) may be released early from their escrow obligations to enable:

- the Escrowed Shareholder to accept an offer under a takeover bid in relation to its Shares and holders of at least half of the Shares the subject of the bid that are not held by the Escrowed Shareholders have accepted the takeover bid; or
- the Shares held by the Escrowed Shareholders to be transferred or cancelled as part of a merger by a scheme of arrangement under Part 5.1 of the Corporations Act.

During the restriction period, the Escrowed Shareholders whose Shares are subject to escrow may deal in any of the Shares to the extent the dealing is required by applicable law (including under an order of a court of competent jurisdiction).

Voluntary escrow

The Directors and Dr Rick Luu have voluntarily agreed not to sell their Shares for a period of 12 months from the date of the Company's admission to the Official List.

The voluntary escrow agreement prohibits the disposal or encumbrance of the Shares during the escrow period, except in certain specific circumstances such as a takeover bid for the Company that has been accepted by 50% of Shareholders, a scheme of arrangement involving the Company or a disposal that is required by law.

7.8 ASX Listing, registers and holding statements

ASX Listing

The Company has applied to ASX for admission to the Official List of ASX and for its Shares (other than Restricted Securities) to be granted official quotation by ASX. The Company is not currently seeking a listing of its Shares on any financial market other than ASX.

The fact that ASX may admit the Company to the Official List and grant official quotation of the Shares is not to be taken in any way as an indication of the merits of the Company or the Shares offered for issue under the Offer. ASX takes no responsibility for the contents of this Prospectus. Normal settlement trading in the Shares, if quotation is granted, will commence as soon as practicable after the issue of holding statements to successful Applicants.

It is the responsibility of the Applicants to determine their allocation prior to trading in the Shares. Applicants who sell their Shares before they receive confirmation of their allotment will do so at their own risk.

If ASX does not grant permission for the Shares (other than Restricted Securities) to be quoted, the Shares will not be issued and all Application Monies will be refunded (without interest) as soon as practicable.

CHES and holding statements

The Company will apply for the Shares to participate in the ASX's Clearing House Electronic Sub-register System (CHES) and will comply with the ASX Listing Rules and the ASX Settlement Operating Rules. CHES is an electronic transfer and settlements system for transactions in securities quoted on the ASX under which transfers are effected in electronic form.

When the Shares become approved financial products (as defined in the ASX Settlement Operating Rules), holdings will be registered in one of two subregisters, being an electronic CHES subregister or an issued sponsored subregister.

For all successful Applicants, the Shares of a Shareholder who is participating in CHES or a Shareholder sponsored by a participant in CHES will be registered on the CHES subregister. All other Shares will be registered on the issuer sponsored subregister.

Following completion of the Offer, Shareholders will be sent a holding statement that sets out the number of Shares that have been allotted to them. This statement also provides details of a Shareholder's Holder Identification Number for CHESS holders or, where applicable, the Securityholder Reference Number of issuer sponsored holders. Shareholders will subsequently receive statements showing any changes to their Shareholdings. Certificates will not be issued.

Shareholders will receive subsequent statements during the first week of the following month if there has been a change to their holdings on the register and as otherwise required under the ASX Listing Rules and the Corporations Act. Additional statements may be requested at any other time either directly through the Shareholder's sponsoring broker in the case of a holding on the CHESS subregister or through the Share Registry in the case of a holding on the issuer sponsored subregister. The Company reserves the right to charge a fee for these additional issuer sponsored statements.

7.9 Restriction on distribution

No action has been taken to register or qualify this Prospectus, the Shares or the Offer or otherwise to permit a public offering of the Shares in any jurisdiction outside Australia or New Zealand.

This Prospectus does not constitute an offer or invitation to subscribe for Shares in any jurisdiction in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer or invitation or issue under this Prospectus.

This Prospectus may not be released or distributed in the United States or to or for the account or benefit of US persons, and may only be distributed to persons to whom the Offer may lawfully be made in accordance with the laws of any applicable jurisdiction.

The Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (US Securities Act), and may not be offered, sold or resold in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of US persons (as defined in Regulation S of the US Securities Act) except to Qualified Institutional Buyers in transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the US Securities Act provided by Rule 144A thereunder and applicable United States state securities laws.

If you are a nominee applying for Shares on behalf of overseas residents, you are responsible for ensuring that the Application does not breach any regulation applicable to any overseas resident.

Each Applicant will be taken to have represented, warranted and agreed as follows:

- it understands that the Shares have not been, and will not be, registered under the US Securities Act 1933 or the securities law of any state of the United States and may not be offered, sold or resold in the United States, or to or for the account or benefit of US persons, except in a transaction exempt from, or not subject to, registration under the US Securities Act 1933 and any other applicable securities laws;
- it is not in the United States or a US person, and is not acting for the account or benefit of a US Person;
- it has not and will not send the Prospectus or any other material relating to the Offer to any person in the United States or to any person that is, or is acting for the account or benefit of, a US person; and
- it will not offer or sell the Shares in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any US person or in any other jurisdiction outside Australia except in transactions exempt from, or not subject to, registration under the US Securities Act 1933 and in compliance with all applicable laws in the jurisdiction in which Shares are offered and sold.

Any offer, sale or resale of Shares in the United States by a dealer (whether or not participating in the Offer) may violate the registration requirements of the US Securities Act 1933 if made prior to 40 days after the date on which the Offer Price is determined and the Shares are allocated under the Offer or if such Shares were purchased by a dealer under the Offer.

Lodgement of Application Forms accompanied by the relevant Application Monies will be taken by the Company to constitute a representation from you that no breaches of any such regulations have occurred. Applicants who are nominees, or persons proposing to act as nominees, should seek independent advice as to how they should proceed.

7.10 What are the taxation considerations for investors

The comments below provide a general summary of Australian tax issues for Australian tax resident individual Shareholders who acquire Shares under this Prospectus and hold their Shares on capital account for Australian income tax purposes.

These comments do not apply to Shareholders that hold their Shares on revenue account or as trading stock, or to Shareholders that are not tax resident in Australia. They also do not apply to Shareholders that are banks, insurance companies or taxpayers that carry on a business of trading in Shares. These comments may also not cover tax consequences for Shareholders who are subject to the Taxation of Financial Arrangements (TOFA) rules governed under tax legislation. These Shareholders should seek their own professional advice.

Tax laws are complex. The comments below are based on the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (Cth), Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (Cth), the A New Tax System (Goods and Services Tax) Act 1999 (Cth), relevant stamp duty legislation, applicable case law and published Australian Taxation Office and State / Territory Revenue Authority rulings, determinations and statements of administrative practice at the date of this Prospectus. The tax consequences discussed below may alter if there is a change to the tax law after the date of this Prospectus. They do not take into account the tax law of countries other than Australia.

This summary is general in nature and is not intended to be an authoritative or complete statement of the applicable law. The Company and its advisers disclaim all liability to any Shareholder or other party for all costs, loss, damage and liability that the Shareholder or other party may suffer or incur arising from, relating to or in any way connected with the contents of this summary or the provision of this summary to the Shareholder or other party or the reliance on this summary by the Shareholder or other party.

Shareholders should seek professional advice on the taxation implications of holding the Shares, taking into account their specific circumstances.

Dividends from a Share for Australian tax resident Shareholders

Dividends distributed by the Company on a Share will constitute assessable income of an Australian tax resident Shareholder. Australian tax resident Shareholders should include in their assessable income the dividend actually received, together with any franking credits attached to that dividend.

Where a franking credit is included in the Shareholder's assessable income, the Shareholder will generally be entitled to a corresponding franking credit tax offset against tax payable by the Shareholder. To be eligible for the franking credit tax offset, a Shareholder must satisfy the "holding period" rule and "related payments" rule. This requires that a Shareholder holds the Shares "at risk" for a continuous period of not less than 45 days (excluding the days of acquisition and disposal) and that the benefit of the dividend is not passed on within 45 days. Shareholders should seek professional advice to determine if these requirements, as they apply to them, have been satisfied. The holding period rules will not apply to a Shareholder who is an individual whose tax offset entitlement (for all franked distributions received in the income year) does not exceed $5,000.

Where a Shareholder is an individual or a complying superannuation entity, the Shareholder will generally be entitled to a refund of tax to the extent that the franking credit tax offset exceeds the Shareholder's income tax liability for the income year.

Where a Shareholder is a company, the Shareholder will generally be entitled to claim a carried forward loss calculated by reference to any excess of the franking credit attached to the Shareholder's dividends over the Shareholder's tax liability for the income year. Shareholders that are companies should seek specific advice regarding the tax consequences of dividends received in respect of the Shares they hold and the calculation of carry forward tax losses arising from excess franking credit tax offsets.

Franked dividends received by a corporate Shareholder will generally give rise to a franking credit in the Shareholder's franking account (subject to the Shareholder satisfying the rules outlined above for claiming a franking credit tax offset). Special rules apply to Shareholders that are trustees (other than trustees of complying superannuation entities) or partnerships. These Shareholders should seek specific advice regarding the tax consequences of dividends received in respect of Shares held.

Disposal of Shares by Australian tax resident Shareholders

The disposal of a Share by a Shareholder will be a capital gains tax (CGT) event where the Shareholder holds their Share on capital account. The Shareholder will make a capital gain where the capital proceeds received on the disposal of the Share exceeds the cost base of the Share, and will make a capital loss where the reduced cost base of the Share exceeds the capital proceeds from the disposal of that Share. Capital losses may only be offset against capital gains made by the Shareholder in the same year of income or future income years. Broadly, the cost base and reduced cost base of a Share will be equal to the amount paid to acquire the Share (including certain other costs, such as incidental costs of acquisition and disposal).

Generally, all capital gains and losses made by a Shareholder for an income year, plus any net capital losses carried forward from an earlier income year, will need to be aggregated to determine whether the Shareholder has made a net capital gain or net income loss for that year. A net capital gain is included in a Shareholder's assessable income whereas a net capital loss is carried forward and may be available to be offset against capital gains of later years (subject to the satisfaction of any applicable loss recoupment rules).

If a Shareholder is an individual or complying superannuation entity and has held the Share for at least 12 months or more before disposal of the Share, the Shareholder will generally be entitled to a "CGT discount" for any capital gain made on the disposal of the Share. Where the CGT discount applies, any capital gain arising (after applying any capital losses) may be reduced by 50% in the case of individuals and by one-third in the case of complying superannuation entities. Shareholders that are companies are not entitled to a CGT discount.

Where the Shareholder is a trustee of a trust that has held the Share for at least 12 months or more before disposal, the CGT discount may flow through to the beneficiaries of that trust if those beneficiaries are not companies. Shareholders that are trustees should seek specific advice regarding the tax consequences of distributions to beneficiaries who may qualify for discounted capital gains after offsetting current year or prior year capital losses.

Tax file numbers

A Shareholder is not required to quote their tax file number (TFN) to the Company. However, if TFN or exemption details are not provided, the Company may be required to deduct Australian tax from certain distributions (other than fully franked dividends) at the maximum marginal tax rate plus the Medicare levy. A Shareholder that holds Shares as part of an enterprise may quote their Australian Business Number instead of their TFN.

Goods and services tax

Investors should not be liable for GST in respect of their acquisition or disposal of Shares. No GST should be payable by Shareholders on receiving dividends distributed by the Company.

Stamp duty

No Australian stamp duty should be payable by Shareholders in respect of their acquisition or disposal of their Shares. Individual Shareholders should obtain their own independent advice on their individual circumstances.

7.11 Agreement with Joint Lead Managers

The Company entered into an agreement with the Joint Lead Managers on 24 November 2014 under which it engaged the Joint Lead Managers to undertake a range of initiatives to transform the Company into one suitable for listing and to manage the Offer.

Under the Joint Lead Managers Agreement, the Joint Lead Managers have agreed to use their reasonable endeavours to procure Applications for the Minimum Subscription under the Offer. A summary of certain terms of the agreement including the termination provisions is set out in Section 8.

The principal rights, liabilities and obligations attaching to the Shares are summarised below. This summary is not intended to be exhaustive.

Voting at a general meeting

At a general meeting of the Company, every Shareholder present in person or by proxy, representative or attorney, has one vote on a show of hands and, on a poll, one vote for each Share held.

Meetings of members

Each Shareholder is entitled to receive a notice of, attend and vote at general meetings of the Company and receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be sent to Shareholders under the Constitution, the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

Transfer of Shares

Subject to the Constitution, Shares may be transferred by a proper transfer effected in accordance with ASX Settlement Operating Rules, by a written instrument of transfer which complies with the Constitution or by any other method permitted by the Corporations Act, Listing Rules or ASX Settlement Operating Rules.

The Board may refuse to register a transfer of Shares where the transfer is not in registrable form. The Company has a lien over any shares transferred, and where otherwise permitted to do so under the Corporations Act, Listing Rules or ASX Settlement Operating Rules. The Board to register a transfer of Shares when required by the Corporations Act, Listing Rules or ASX Settlement Operating Rules.

Issue of further shares

Subject to the Corporations Act, Listing Rules and ASX Settlement Operating Rules and any rights and restrictions attached to a class of shares, the Company may issue, or grant options in respect of further shares on such terms and conditions as the Directors resolve.

Winding Up

If the Company is wound up, then subject to any rights or restrictions attached to a class of shares, any surplus must be divided amongst the Company's members in proportion to the number of shares held by them. The amount unpaid on shares held by a member is to be deducted from the amount that would otherwise be distributed to that member.

Unmarketable parcels

Subject to the Corporations Act, Listing Rules and ASX Settlement Operating Rules, the Company may sell the Shares of a Shareholder who holds less than a marketable parcel of Shares.

Share buy-backs

Subject to the Corporations Act, Listing Rules and ASX Settlement Operating Rules, the Company may buy back Shares in itself on terms and at times determined by the Board.

Variation of class rights

At present, Shares, being the Company's only class of shares on issue, are ordinary shares. Subject to the Corporations Act and the terms of issue of a class of shares, the rights attaching to any class of shares may be varied or cancelled:

- with the consent in writing of holders of 75% of the issued shares included in that class; or
- by a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of those shares.

In either case, the holders of not less than 10% of the votes in the class of shares, the rights of which have been varied or cancelled, may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction to exercise its discretion to set aside such a variation or cancellation.

Dividend reinvestment plan

The Constitution authorises the Directors, on any terms and at their discretion, to establish a dividend reinvestment plan (under which any member may elect that the dividend payable by the Company be reinvested by a subscription of securities). The Company currently has no dividend reinvestment plan.

Directors – appointment and removal

Under the Constitution, the minimum number of Directors that may comprise the Board is three and the maximum is fixed by the Directors but may not be more than nine unless the Shareholders pass a resolution varying that number. Directors are elected at an annual general meeting of the Company. Retirement will occur on a rotational basis so that no Director (excluding any managing director) holds office without re-election beyond the third annual general meeting following the meeting at which the Director was last elected or re-elected. The Directors may also appoint a Director to fill a casual vacancy on the Board or in addition to the Directors, who will then hold office until the next annual general meeting.

Directors – voting

Questions arising at a meeting of Directors will be decided by a majority of votes cast and each Director has one vote. In the case of an equality of votes on a resolution where the number of Directors voting is more than two, the chairperson of the meeting has a casting vote.

Directors – remuneration

The Constitution provides that non-executive Directors are entitled to such remuneration as determined by the Directors but which must not exceed in aggregate the maximum amount determined by Shareholders at a general meeting.
