Disperse.io LTD COOKIE NOTICE

1 ABOUT US

This Cookie Notice applies to Disperse, 2 Stephen St, W1T 1AN, London ("Disperse"). It supplements Disperse's EU Privacy Notice.

Any questions or concerns relating to the use of cookies by our websites and the processing of personal data obtained through their use may be directed to:

support@disperse.io.

2 COOKIES – WHAT ARE THEY AND HOW DO WE USE THEM?

Disperse uses cookies and similar technologies to collect information about the use of our websites in order to make them function effectively and also to improve our website visitors' experience when they browse our websites. A cookie is a small file that is stored on a user's computer for record-keeping purposes. Disperse typically uses both session ID cookies and persistent cookies.

We use session cookies to make it easier for you to navigate our sites. A session cookie expires when you close your browser. A persistent cookie remains on your hard drive for an extended period of time and can be used when you return to our site to help identify you or allow you to log in, or on other third-party sites to communicate to you via online-marketing channels. If you reject cookies, you may still use our site, but your ability to use some areas of the site will be limited and you may need to re-enter your personal data when you register.

3 BLOCKING COOKIES

You do not have to accept all of the cookies used by our website. If you reject certain cookies, however, you may not be able to use some of the features of our websites. Your browser may be configured to allow you to refuse or delete cookies or to be notified when a cookie is stored on your device. To change your web browser settings for cookies, you can follow the instructions in the help section of your web browser or visit allaboutcookies.org <http://www.allaboutcookies.org/manage-cookies/>. You may also find information about how to disable specific cookies using the links provided in the tables in Section 4 below.

Please note that by deleting or blocking cookies that are strictly necessary for the performance of our website, it may not function correctly, and you may not be able to access certain areas of the website.

4 WHAT DO WE COLLECT?

We use the following types of cookies on our website:

(A) STRICTLY NECESSARY COOKIES:

These cookies are necessary for the website to function and cannot be switched off without impairing the functioning of our website. They are set to respond to actions taken by you to make a request for services, such as setting your privacy preferences, logging in or filling in forms. You can set your browser to block or alert you about these cookies, but some parts of the site will not then work. These cookies include the following:

Cookie	Purpose	Further Information/Links	Duration/Validity
RefreshTokenEncoded	Authorization	This cookie is created as persistent cookie but effectively expires in a day (duration is a parameter in Cognito and can be up to 3650 days), after which re-authentication takes place.	Persistent

(D) TARGETING COOKIES:

These cookies may be set through our website by partners. They may be used to build a profile of your interests and show you relevant adverts on other sites. They do not directly store your personal details but do uniquely identify your browser and internet device. If you do not allow these cookies, you will experience less targeted advertising. These cookies include:

Cookie	Purpose	Further Information/Links	Duration/Validity

5 LINKS TO OTHER SITES

Our privacy notice only covers the Disperse website. Our website and other digital communications may contain links to and from other third-party websites. When you click on these links, you are exiting our website, and the personal data that you provide through such third-party websites is not subject to our privacy notice. If you follow any link to a third-party website, please note that that website will have its own privacy notice(s) which set out how your information is collected and processed by them. We recommend that you check the privacy notices/policies of each website you visit. Some of these third parties may use applications that track your online activities across different websites and platforms over time.

6 OTHER INFORMATION

We retain personal data collected by means of cookies needed for personalised services for one year where you have consented to the use of cookies for those purposes, and otherwise only for as long as necessary to aggregate personal data that we use for website performance and audience measurement. If you are an EU resident, you have certain rights in relation to any personal data that we process about you. These rights are set out in our privacy notice.
