

Keep your grantees safe and secure on the Frontline.

The struggle for human rights, democracy, and social and environmental justice demands that your grantees take risks. But in the face of attacks, harassment, and censorship, they need to take the right risks.

Frontline Policies is a secure platform for nonprofits to build, store, and share bespoke frameworks of policies, procedures, and resources to keep their people and programmes safe in restricted civic spaces or violent environments.

- 1 Promote best practice and a positive security culture among grantees
- 2 Built for human rights and social and environmental justice foundations
- 3 De-risk your portfolio and meet your duty of care obligations

Traditional approaches	Frontline Policies
Expensive	Value-for-money annual licences
Requires significant time and input	Grantees maintain complete control of the process
Designed for INGOs or large agencies	Built for human rights and social and environmental justice organisations
Needs in-house expertise or external consultants	Grantees guided through a detailed build process in the platform, with additional support when they need it
Multiple versions of documents in emails and on numerous devices	Approved versions of all documents always available in one secure cloud platform
Translation into local languages costly and time consuming	Grantees can share documents in English, Spanish, French, Portuguese, and Arabic via integrated machine translation
Additional frameworks cost more	Security, wellbeing, and safeguarding frameworks included
