

WHAT WE DO

Our organization provides a wide array of intelligence and protection services for their businesses, employees, and their families. We uphold the integrity of our clients lives. We value who they are and what they represent, while never compromising our foundational principles.

Armor Bearer Protective Services is a minority owned security solutions & consulting firm that provides companies, executives, and families with close protection.

We provide more than security. We ingrain ourselves with our clients, safeguard them, and their families across the globe. In turn, our clients entrust us to protect their life, their assets, and their reputation.

INTELLIGENCE DRIVEN

Social Threat Intelligence

Our social threat intelligence program combs the internet and dark web in pursuit of potential threatening posts, tracks accounts of interest, and alerts our teams of potential threats for further investigation.

With this program, we are equipped with information that allows us to provide you with the strongest protection possible.

Executive Protection

Executive protection, also known as close protection, is a form of personal security amenity that can be either overt, covert, or a combination of the two depending on the circumstances and objective.

We offer a proactive security solution with the purpose of preventing harm or loss to the client.

Personal/Family Protection

Our specialists possess the credentials and qualifications necessary to conduct countless personal security details across the globe, safeguarding all members of the family, from infants and children to teenagers and adults.

Corporate/Office Protection

Our specialists have provided services for corporate executives, government organizations, & Fortune 100 companies. Through our strategic partnering and extensive network of professionals, we can offer custom risk management services worldwide.
