

The intelligent decisioning solution

Sudden market changes and volatility are making it increasingly important for lenders to have greater control of their lending operations.

Optimo's intelligent decisioning solution creates a streamlined change process by fundamentally changing the way products and pricing are structured. Within this flexible structure, lenders can rapidly adjust rates and adopt risk-based pricing for increased operational efficiency.

BENEFITS

- ✓ Increased pricing competitiveness
- ✓ Improve your lending risk
- ✓ Efficient product release management
- ✓ Improve choice and availability for borrowers

FEATURES

Agile pricing

Simply copy and paste rate changes. No need to manage pipeline, complex filtering rules or bespoke deals.

Collapse the catalogue

Set up a small number of core products and manage all variations dynamically using tables and formulae.

Self-serve capabilities

Independently make changes to configuration data and pricing rules within the product management interface.

Data-driven pricing

Improve underwriting quality by pricing based on rich data such as credit history, medical data, property characteristics etc.

Test driven design

Test environments where test cases can be run independently in the pricing solution using csv or Postman for high volume testing.

Simplified path to live

Effortlessly make changes, test and push changes live.
