HYPER WELLNESS

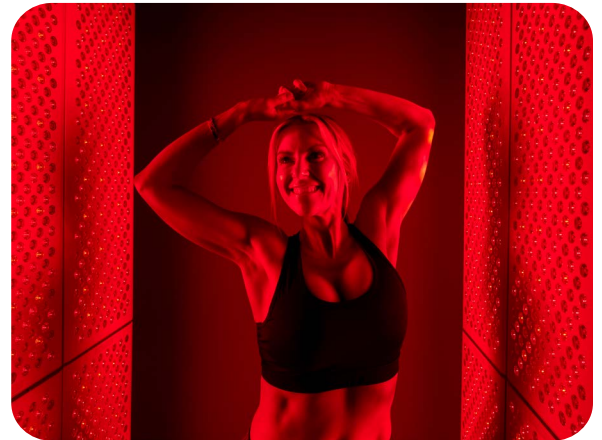

Media Kit

Personalized, science-backed therapies to help you do more of what you love.

Launched in Austin, Texas in 2015, Restore is the award-winning creator of an innovative new category of care—Hyper Wellness®. Restore delivers expert guidance and an extensive array of cutting-edge wellness therapies integrated under one roof, including Cryotherapy, Red Light Therapy, Infrared Sauna, Compression, IV Drip Therapy, Intramuscular (IM) Shots, Mild Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy, Cryoskin™, Hydrafacial™, and Circadia® Oxygen Facial.

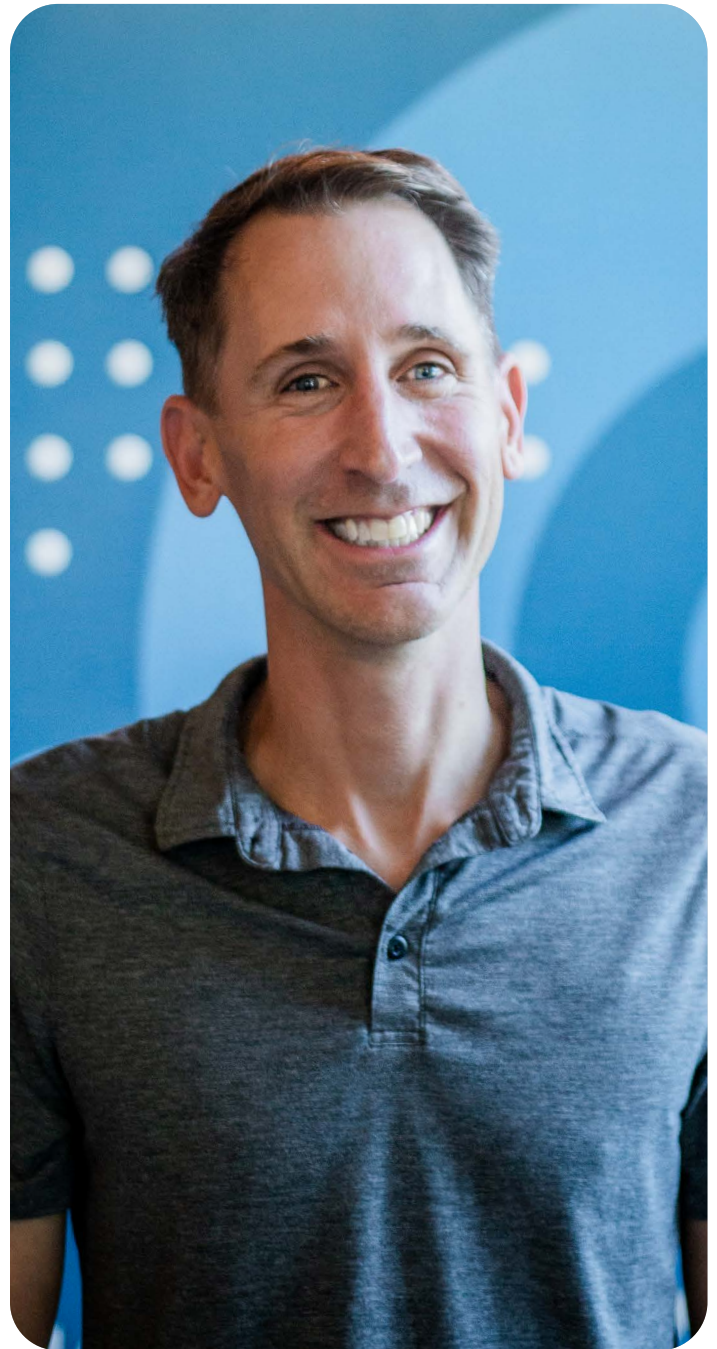

With 225+ studio locations nationwide, Restore has become the largest direct-to-consumer provider of proactive care. We empower clients to live better, healthier lives using science-backed therapies, and we provide an opportunity for business ownership that enables passionate people to bring these opportunities to their local communities.

Steve Welch

Co-Founder &
Chief Executive Officer

Steve Welch is the CEO and cofounder of Restore Hyper Wellness, the largest direct-to-consumer retail wellness company in the U.S. with over 225 studios. Steve's first entrepreneurial success started with Mitos, a global biotech manufacturing company that he founded and then sold to a Fortune 500 company at the age of 30. Following the sale of Mitos, Steve cofounded DreamIt Ventures, one of the premier accelerators and early-stage venture funds in the country. Over the last 10+ years, DreamIt has been the first place to invest and accelerate over 400 companies including SeatGeek, LevelUp, Octane Lending and many more. Steve spends his free time on the water with his wife and 4 children, sailing, kiteboarding, wing foiling and surfing.
