Inspire and Empower the Next Generation of Providers

Sponsor Our Student Action Network

The next generation of healthcare professionals plays a vital role in transforming primary care. It's critical that we engage them now.

Our national Student Action Network (SAN) comprises interprofessional, student-led teams from 15 to 20 institutions with more than 200 participants. This year, attendees will gather virtually in September 2022 to kick off the program at the Leadership Summit and will continue to receive training and support from Intend Health staff throughout the academic year.

With support from coaches and faculty advisors, students design and implement community-based projects. They also develop their Relational Leadership skills through quarterly workshops, ongoing coaching sessions, and large-scale community events.

Intend Health Strategies invests $10,000 per team each year at no cost to students or schools. Your sponsorship is critical for the success and continuity of this impactful program.
