Full transparency

---

Through the use of blockchain technology, all transactions are publicly visible, tamper proof and verifiable by everyone.

Free of intermediaries

Every interaction between two parties is based on a smart contract. A smart contract is codified law which increases the efficiency and removes the need for intermediaries.

Built on blockchain

Services are run by permissionless selfexecuting, automated contracts with open-source code.

DEFI Analysis

Users have control

---

The blockchain guarantees an immutable and traceable book of records for all transactions. Users retain full control over their assets.

No counterparty risk

Smart Contract only executes when both parties fulfill all requirements and therefore eliminate counter-party failure.

Open for everyone

Everyone can transact as decentralized finance has lower costs and doesn't prevent people from accessing the network.
