The COMPANY agrees that the agreement entered into between the AUA and McCormick Place relating to the exposition premises, as reflected in the Prospectus and the Exhibitor Rules and Regulations, shall be fully binding on both parties hereto. The COMPANY has read and understands the AUA Exhibitor Rules and Regulations and Exhibitor Terms and Conditions, available online at AUAnet.org/AnnualMeeting, and agrees to comply with them and with any modifications and amendments hereafter.

Should McCormick Place be destroyed or damaged, or due to other forces beyond the control of the parties the fulfillment of this contract by the AUA becomes impracticable, the COMPANY agrees that AUA shall not in any case be held liable or responsible to the COMPANY for any damage caused thereby. AUA will offer a refund of the sponsorship fee, limited to the amount of the "Total Fee," in such cases.

Skills Enhancement Workshop Activities. The COMPANY agrees to provide to AUA a complete description of the proposed activities to be held in the Skills Enhancement Workshops during the sponsored times, no later than 45 days prior to official start date of the 2023 AUA Annual Meeting. AUA reserves the right to review and approve, and require amendments to proposed activities, should AUA consider that any proposed activity violates any part of the AUA Exhibitor Rules and Regulations, or any existing AUA policy or regulation, or those of any relevant regulatory body. Use of live models is only permitted with special AUA permission and may require special indemnity and insurance provisions. Skills Enhancement Workshop activities should be educational in nature and based upon generally agreed scientific principles. Skills Enhancement Workshop sponsors may not charge admission or any fee to participating attendees.

Licensure of Content. FDA Regulations and Restrictions. All medical devices or pharmaceutical products either exhibited or described in Exhibitor literature must satisfy U. S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) requirements—full compliance with applicable FDA approvals as well as with its guidelines regarding display, promotion and marketing of medical products. If an exhibited product remains under clinical investigation or investigational new drug application (INDA) procedures, that fact must be prominently disclosed. Also, if not licensed or approved by the FDA specifically for urological procedures, that fact must be prominently noted. (Information regarding FDA regulations and approvals may be secured from the Agency.) Additional constraints may apply pending further FDA guidelines and AUA-imposed regulations, and the Exhibitor agrees to comply with all then-applicable restrictions. The AUA reserves the right to terminate this Agreement and remove the Exhibitor's property should AUA Management determine, at its sole discretion, that the Exhibitor has violated these restrictions or is otherwise ineligible to participate. The Exhibitor agrees to indemnify, hold harmless and defend the AUA should any of its products or literature violate these rules, or transgress FDA requirements.

Additional information regarding FDA regulations may be obtained directly from the FDA (www.fda.gov). Additional constraints may apply. It is important that exhibitors comply with and remain updated on FDA guidelines for exhibits and promotions to U.S. physicians and health care professionals. The AUA is not responsible for monitoring or approving Exhibitor product displays, advertising or presentations as it relates to FDA compliance.
