

We accept many different types of insurance and will be happy to assist you with any questions you may have regarding your insurance coverage. However, you need to understand your insurance benefits regarding your care and treatment.

If your insurance requires that you get a referral before being treated, it is your responsibility to have that referral in place before any treatment cycles begin. If you do not have a referral in place before the day you start treatment, you will either need to cancel your cycle or pay out-of-pocket for the expenses.

Please be aware that each visit may consist of an ultrasound and blood work. Many treatment cycles require you to be monitored every couple of days, or every day in some cases. Depending on your protocol, you may be seen between 5 and 9 times. The cost of an ultrasound for each visit is $200 and each blood level drawn is $65.

Your blood levels must be drawn in the office during your treatment cycles, as your physician will use these results along with the ultrasound findings to determine your plan of care and dosing during treatment.

I have reviewed the above information and understand that I am responsible for any outstanding balance on my account.
