

THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan®

We are not trying to convince anyone that the rapture will occur, or sell THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan® to anyone. We have no special knowledge of what the rapture will look like.¹ There is no guarantee that the rapture will happen in your lifetime, or that the rapture will be what we expect. Therefore, this plan is offered only to people who already hold a strong personal belief in the rapture, based on their view of world events and their own study, and who want to provide legally for their strongly held belief, even if it does not happen in their lifetime, or as expected. This is distributed free of charge. There should be a water mark at the top right corner of every page downloaded.

Problem: PROVISION DELAYED IS PROVISION DENIED.

If believers recognize a problem they can recognize a solution, presented here in THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan®.

Introduction to what we hope to accomplish:

Simon Peter realized he had denied Jesus three times when the rooster crowed the second time, and he wept bitterly in regret (Matt. 26:74,75) but he could not undo his denials. Jesus forgives us, and teaches us to forgive others, but the consequences of our mistakes remain.

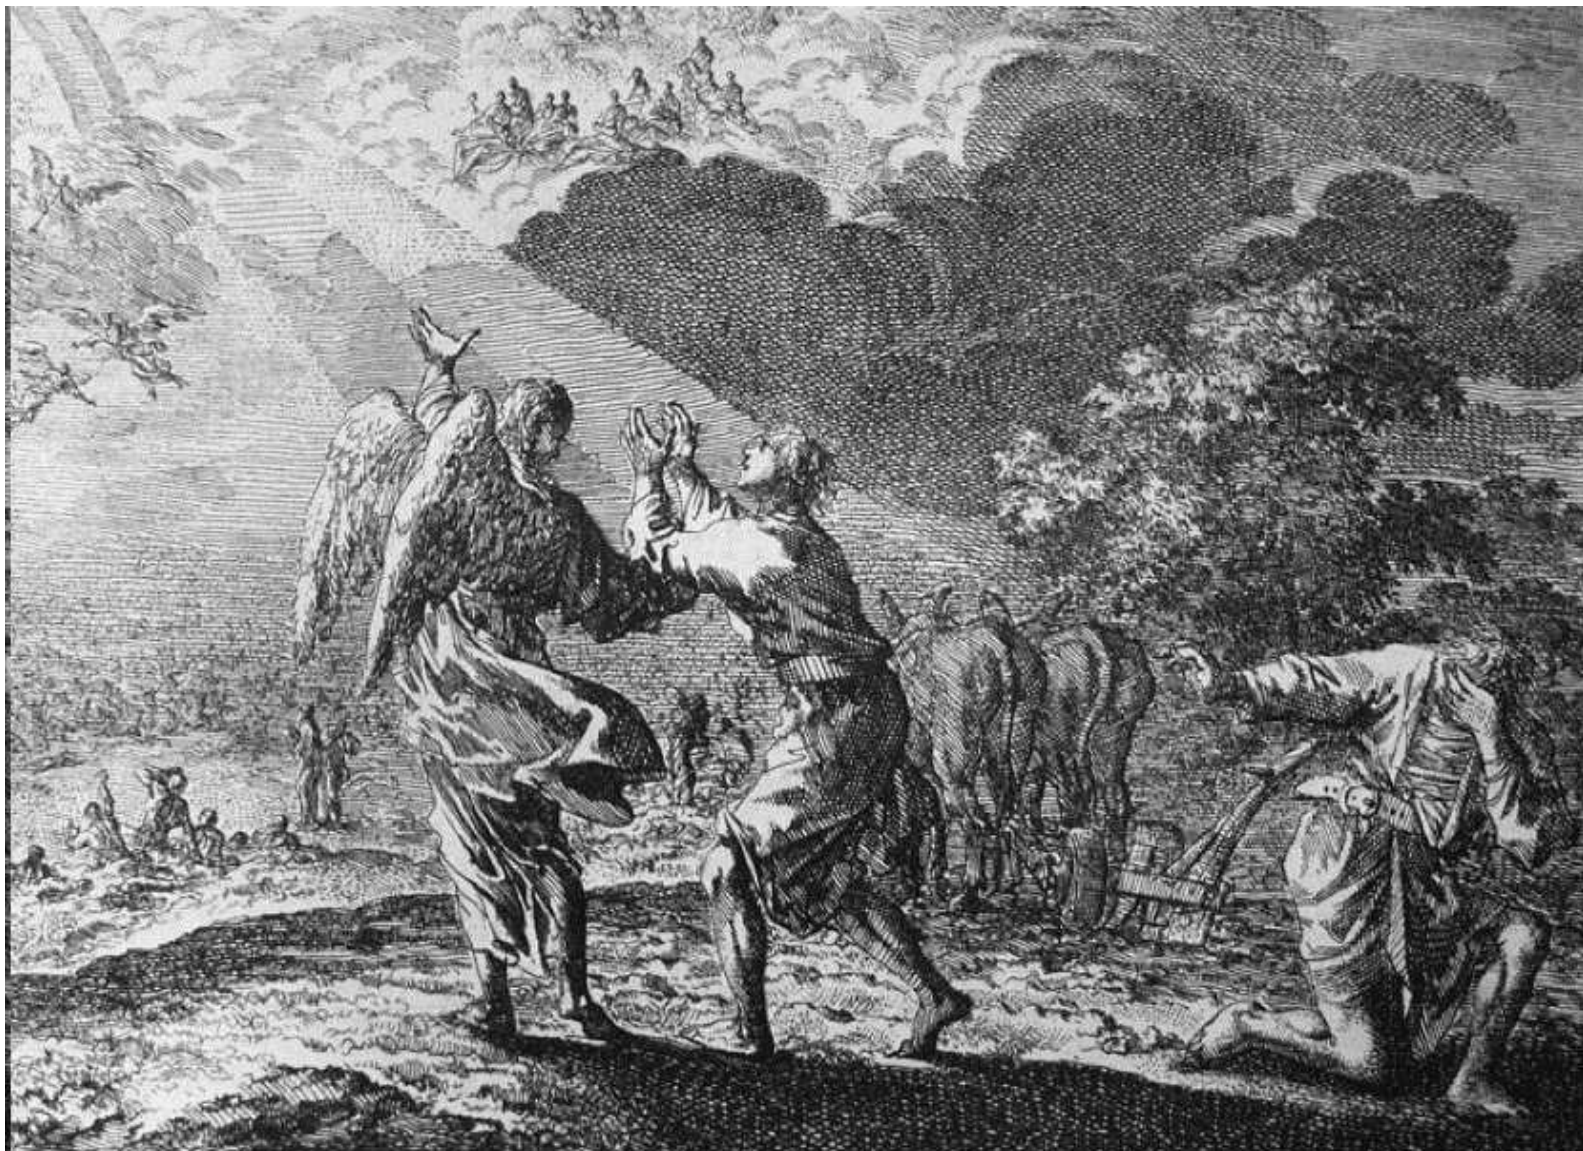

We all have regrets. Many people who grew up in Christian homes have denied Jesus for various reasons and lifestyles, and their Christian family and friends have talked and pondered, and witnessed and prayed with no apparent effect. But, God's mercy is everlasting. Jesus restored Peter after his denial (John 21:15-19).

As Christians we know that the Lord is able to keep us all from falling, and present us faultless (Jude 1:24) so we keep loving, and hoping that loved ones who have different lifestyles or maybe even denied Christ, may one day be restored like Simon Peter was.

Many Christians are generally aware of the rapture, although we do not know or necessarily agree on how Matt 24: 40-41, Luke 17: 34-36, 1 Thess 4:14-17 and 1 Cor 15:50- 53, will be fulfilled. THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan® is not designed to convince people there will be a rapture, or argue about details. For these purposes, the intention is to be as broad as possible. Sufficient to say that the Christians who do believe in the rapture want to be ready when Jesus comes, and if they can, benefit loved ones who may remain here. If the rapture comes before or during the Great Tribulation, there will be many people who will weep like Peter in regret for their denials ¹Jan Luyken created three etchings of how he pictured the rapture in 1795, 226 years ago. Jan Luyken's three-part illustration of the rapture was published in the 1795 Bowyer Bible. His etchings are excluded from the copyright of the Rapture Plan, as they are not the author's work. Also, the author certifies his appreciation to Dennis Fox, Esq., for his permission to use excerpts from his Fore Trust estate planning software in the material.

But, missing the rapture is not the same as losing all hope of salvation through the everlasting gospel. Time-wise, the “rapture” comes before the “harvest” which is the very end of the world. Mt. 13:24-49. This parable says that the unbelievers and believers are allowed to grow together, right up to the “harvest” at the end of the world. Rev. 7:9-14 tells of a great multitude who are saved out of the great tribulation, and Rev. 14:6 tells of the “everlasting gospel”. So, as long as there is life, there is hope: including hope that those left after the rapture will receive the gift of Jesus and be forgiven and have eternal life, even though they experience tribulation as a consequence of their earlier denial.

If that happens, it would be wonderful for the remnant to find that their Christian family or friends have by foresight and faith made provisions for them. So their deep regrets will be soothed by their deep gratitude that even though they must endure great tribulation, the Lord caused provisions to be put in place for them. And the plan you put in place will be your testimony of hope for a chance for your family and friends to be pardoned, like Simon Peter was.

Understanding: How Provision Delayed Is Provision Denied. If you are caught up in the rapture, you won't be dead, but you won't be found on earth, either. As for your assets, titles and legal affairs, your official legal status will be "missing". Your Last will and Testament, your life insurance, your beneficiary designations, and your pay on death accounts won't operate, because there will be no proof of your death. The law establishes when a missing person is presumed dead.

Generally, to illustrate the problem, when a person is missing without evidence, countries set a number of continuous years of absence before the person is declared dead, to wit: Italy, 20; Germany 10; England, India, Ireland, and Scotland, 7; Poland, and Russia, 5; and in the United States, each state sets the time.² This presumption varies by state and can be four years up to seven years. Disappearing without proof of death creates a legal problem, but waiting for years is not a solution in the event of rapture.

Your loved ones would find that a delay of years in receiving provisions would be the same as being denied provisions. THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® wants to address that, and three other specific problems; (1) With a vast amount of assets suddenly unguarded, there could be a rush of adverse possession, fraudulent claims and confiscation of assets, in the absence of legally provable ownership. We want to help you avoid that. (2) Many normal estate planning documents such as trusts, wills and powers of attorney may have disinherited, limited, or denied authority over assets to family members who fell out of favor because of their current behavior or beliefs. This could tie all the assets up, and deny them financial assistance or a place to live at the worst time imaginable. We want to help you fix that. (3) Finally, if the laws on presumption of death are changed after the rapture, the results could be anyone's guess as to Christian estates. There is even a provision for that.

THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Solution:

The solution we propose will seem worthless to people who do not expect a rapture. So, this solution is for people who recognize a problem because they expect the rapture and they assign value to having their affairs in order for that unique event if it happens during their lifetime. We have created a special estate planning document for those unique circumstances, called THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan®. If the rapture comes during your lifetime, THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan® would amend your normal estate plan or state statutory succession plan with provisions that make sense to believers under rapture circumstances. A normal estate plan is not necessary for THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan® to work. However, we always recommend people should have a normal estate plan, because the rapture might not happen before you need a normal plan. A wise judge once said "Life is what happens when you are expecting something else." A lot can happen before tomorrow, and you should not have to worry that you are not legally prepared, regardless of the rapture.

Our idea is to make this freely available to people. If you are interested in receiving THE GOLDEN RULE LAW GROUP® Rapture Plan® without charge, please click the button below for the free PDF. We have tried to make it self explanatory, and a checklist is included to help you fill it out. We also provide general instructions and related forms. If you have related questions you should ask a legal advisor of your choosing in your jurisdiction.
