

From compliance to capacity building: how European biological resource centres pave the way for benefit sharing

Philippe Desmeth

presentation of the EMBRC approach "from sampling to data", solutions for biobanks and collections (including the TRACE platform with "passport"), the provenance model and traceability / open science approach (as envisaged in BlueRemediomics) - why harmonising / standardizing solutions and traceability help the global scientific community, the providing countries and the GBF - how European Research Infrastructures can support the DSI Scientific Network (rep. of international scientific community at CBD)
