Services

As a national leader in strategic communications and a Women-Owned Small Business (WOSB), we have a history of helping our clients achieve real-world impact with a mission-motivated approach.

Program and Project Management

Chatham has a track record of managing large-scale projects on time and on the mark. Our management approach combines attention to detail, clear lines of responsibility and communication, and agile responses.

Public Affairs

Chatham knows that successful advocacy requires planning, expertise, and adaptability. Our team brings decades of experience helping clients identify, engage, educate, and ultimately influence key stakeholders and decision-makers.

Strategic Communications and Outreach

At Chatham, we help clients tell stories that get results. Our data-driven approach, embodied in compelling content and award-winning designs, applies cutting-edge tactics to engage audiences and advance new ideas.

Recruitment

We understand that recruiting strategies must evolve as the environment changes. Our recruiting specialists bring clients experience with targeted recruitment campaigns that promote open positions, create candidate engagement, and move candidates to apply.

Web and Digital Marketing

Delivering the right message to the right audience through the right channel — that's our bread and butter. We create engaging marketing campaigns and websites that grab attention and drive action.

Multimedia Production

We create multimedia solutions that motivate and inspire. Our award-winning production team has expertise in delivering video creative, animation, motion graphics, and more. From developing compelling instructional videos to livestreams and webinars, we produce multimedia that breaks through the noise.

Training

At Chatham, we understand how to develop learning products that make the right information stick with learners. Our training expertise helps organizations develop a motivated and inspired workforce, influence change, promote best practices, and operate more efficiently.
