

I'm not a bot

Marikina city postal code

Fortune marikina city postal code. Marikina city ph postal code. Concepcion dos marikina city postal code. Postal zip code of marikina city philippines. San roque marikina city postal code. Marikina city hall postal code. Marikina quezon city postal code. Postal code marikina city philippines. Postal code san antonio marikina city. Postal code concepcion uno marikina city. Nangka marikina city postal code.

Marikina City, known as the "Shoe Capital of the Philippines," has a rich history and cultural heritage. With a land area of 21.52 square kilometers, it is divided into two districts and 16 barangays. The city is home to various attractions such as the Shoe Museum and Marikina River Park. Marikina boasts of being the biggest shoe manufacturer in the country, producing 70% of the nation's footwear. It also has the Philippine International Footwear Center and the Shoe Museum featuring former First Lady Imelda Marcos' remarkable shoe collection. In terms of history, an earthquake with an intensity of 8 struck the area in 1655, resulting in damage to a Jesuit church. Prior to that, Marikina was called "Mariquina" and served as the capital of the Province of Manila from 1898. The city has its own unique festivals, such as the Ilognayan Festival which commemorates the significance of the Marikina River. For shopaholics, the Marikina Christmas Shopalooza is a must-visit event, offering affordable prices and numerous stalls selling various products. Notable individuals who hail from Marikina include PBA basketball player Paolo Taha, actress Christine Reyes, and star Julia Barretto of the blockbuster film "Vince and Kath and James." For more information on Marikina City, visit its official website at marikina.gov.ph. Marikina, a highly urbanized city, borders Mateo and Rizal to the north, Antipolo and Rizal to the east, Pasig and Cainta to the south, and Quezon City to the west. It's known for its various tourist attractions including parks, museums, historical landmarks, and more. # The city is home to 16 barangays with postal codes ranging from 1800 to 1811 and an area code of 02. Some notable areas include Calumpang, Sta. Elena, Barangka, San Roque, and Marikina Heights. # 1. **Calumpang** - Home to the iconic Marikina River Park, SM City Marikina, and Santolan Station. 2. **Sta. Elena** - Known for its historic Our Lady of the Abandoned Parish and Teatro Marikina, a cultural hub. 3. **Barangka** - An urban barangay situated on the southwestern border with facilities like a health center, gym, and police station. 4. **San Roque** - Hosts the Shoe Museum, dedicated to Marikina's shoe industry. 5. **Marikina Heights** - The largest barangay in terms of land area, featuring parks and the Book Museum. # - Its shoe industry - Local products - Culture # The city faces issues like flooding during heavy rains. However, its attractions include museums, parks, historical houses, shopping centers, making it a great destination for tourists with various activities such as food hopping and museum exploration. Marikina City in the Philippines has several zip codes for different areas. For general reference, the central post office and nearby Sta. Elena and Sto. Nino share the same zip code. If you want more precise information, here are the specific zip codes for each neighborhood: Bagong Nayon (1820), Barangka (1803), Cogeo (1820), Concepcion 1 (1807), Concepcion 2 (1811), Cupang (1820), Industrial Valley (1802), Jesus de La Pena (1804), Langhaya (1820), Malanday (1820), Mambagat (1820), Marikina Heights (1810), Mayamot (1820), Nangka (1808), and areas west of the Marikina River (including North/West, 1806), Parang (1809), San Roque/Calumpang (1801).