Metaphor refantazio social link guide

In Metaphor: ReFantazio, Follower Bonds serve as the equivalent of Social Links, providing an opportunity for the main character, Will, to learn more about his teammates and allies through event cutscenes. This system allows for character development without advancing the plot, while also unlocking new powers, items, and reduced shop costs. Unlike Persona 3 Reload's Social Links, the Bonds system in Metaphor: ReFantazio is more forgiving, with many events occurring automatically during the main story and fewer time-sensitive interactions. Correct answers to questions grant free Magla, a resource used for character upgrades or selling for money, making it beneficial to choose good responses to avoid future grinding. After completing Regalith Grand Cathedral, players can engage in conversations with party members and NPCs via the Follower Menu, where a red handshake symbol indicates a character's ability to rank up. Each character represents a class Archetype, and improving their rank unlocks new abilities. The six party members are the most direct Followers to interact with, making it easier to find them within towns. To maximize Bonds, such as the Warrior Bond with Strohl or the Knight Bond with Hulkenberg, players must participate in specific Rank Up Events, choosing responses that grant Maximum MAG Bonuses. By doing so, they can unlock new abilities, level up Archetypes like Swordmaster and Samurai, and enhance their gameplay experience. To strengthen bonds with certain characters in Metaphor: ReFantazio, follow these steps: Heismay (Thief): He joins on 7/4 and requires the Eloquence Virtue. Interact with him to increase your bond, which will also improve his skills as a Thief, Assassin, or Ninja. Junah (Masked Dancer): Complete the side quest "Save the Mourning Snakes" at Virga Island after the Dragon Temple Dungeon. This will unlock Junah's Bond scenes and allow you to access the Persona Master Archetype. Eupha (Summoner): Speak with Eupha on Virga Island to start her side quest, "The Trial of Malnova". You'll need to max out your Imagination and Wisdom Virtues to access later scenes. This will improve the Summoner and Devil Summoner Archetypes. Basilio (Berserker): Basilio is the last teammate you'll meet, and his Bond gimmick requires Gauntlet Runner Walker to travel to a location. He initially has the Berserker Archetype but also unlocks Destroyer. For each character, there are specific dialogue choices that will increase your bond with them, which in turn will provide bonuses to their skills and abilities. Make sure to follow these steps to maximize your relationships with Heismay, Junah, Eupha, and Basilio. In Metaphor: ReFantazio, players can earn Bond ranks for their playable characters and non-combat Followers. The process varies depending on the character, but most are obtained by completing side quests in different cities or through the main campaign. Some characters, like Gallica, automatically rank up due to her story progression. To maximize certain Bonds, players need to complete specific events or quests. For example, Seeker's Bond can be increased by participating in a tutorial event early on, while Healer's Bond is unlocked when Maria becomes a Follower on 6/10 of the main storyline. Brawler and Gunner Bonds are obtained through separate side quests or events, with Catherina providing Brawler and Martial Artist Archetypes. Neuras' Bond requires completing his side quest "Providing A Spark" during the main storyline. The text also provides a list of Rank Up Events for each Bond, detailing the required Virtues and MAG Bonus increases to reach higher ranks. In the game Metaphor: ReFantazio, players can form bonds with characters through a series of events called "Follower Bonds" or "Follower Links". These events allow the main character Will to learn more about his teammates and allies while advancing in the story. There are three types of bonds: Commander Bond, Faker Bond, and Merchant Bond. The Commander Bond is associated with Bardon, gained through a side quest where he provides the necessary archetype for the Warlord class. The event cutscenes provide insight into Bardon's personality and allow players to rank up his bond. Similarly, the Faker Bond is tied to Alonzo, who can be accessed after completing a specific quest on 6/29 or later. To do so, players need an Imagination Virtue rank of 2 or more and must meet certain conditions such as high Tolerance and Wisdom. The Merchant Bond is connected to Brigitta, gained through another side quest that requires a minimum Wisdom Virtue rank of 2. Completing this quest grants access to the Merchant and Tycoon archetypes in Metaphor: ReFantazio. Throughout these events, players receive MAG bonus upgrades, which can enhance their combat abilities. However, it's worth noting that completing Follower Bonds is not required to beat the game, but they do provide a unique experience and unlock special powers, items, or reduced shop costs. Magla and Bonding in Metaphor: ReFantazio In Metaphor: ReFantazio, Magla is a valuable resource that can be used to power up characters or sold for money, making it an essential tool for avoiding future grinding. Once the Regalith Grand Cathedral is completed, players can engage in conversations with party members and NPCs through the Follower Menu. The Bond system, inspired by Persona's Social Link, allows players to build relationships with their party members. Each character represents a class archetype, and improving their rank unlocks new abilities. However, not all Bonds are required for gameplay purposes, as the system also reveals characters' personalities and provides extra plot elements. ### How to Raise Party Member Follower Bonds The six most direct Followers can be interacted with in town, making it easy to find them. As they fight on the field, their Archetypes and improvement through ranks become apparent. ### Maxing the Warrior Bond with Strohl Strohl is one of the first playable Followers gained access to, starting on June 6th. This allows other characters to gain abilities as a Warrior. At higher Bonds, it also begins leveling the Swordmaster and Samurai Archetypes. He is a master of sneaking and ambushing targets, making him an excellent party member. Rank Up Event Maximum MAG Bonus: 2 - “You’re So Cool” +1 “Let’s Find This Place” +2 “It’s For Your Son’s Sake” +3 3 - “Shall We Look Somewhere Else?” +1 “Well In Metaphor: ReFantazio, there are various Bond options with each character, including Junah, Eupha, and Basilio. To maximize these Bonds, players must complete specific side quests or reach certain milestones in the game. Junah's Bond is primarily found on Virga Island, where players can start a side quest called "Save the Mourning Snakes." However, if players leave the island, they may miss out on Junah's later scenes and lock themselves out of the Persona Master Archetype. Eupha's Bonds are also located on Virga Island and require players to max their Imagination and Wisdom Virtues to access. Additionally, Eupha allows players to improve the Summoner and Devil Summoner Archetypes. Basilio's Bond is unique in that it can only be ranked up while Gauntlet Runner Walker is at a specific location. His Bonds are geared towards the Berserker Archetype. Players can also earn bonds with non-playable character (NPC) followers by completing side quests or progressing through the main campaign. One NPC, Gallica, gains automatic bond ranks throughout the story and reaches the maximum rank of 8 if players reach a certain milestone. To max out the Seeker Bond, follow these steps: - Reach Akademia and gain access to its main features. - Unlock Magic Seeker and Soul Hacker Archetypes. - Max out MAG Bonus by earning 2 "Who Are You Again?" +1 "You Might Be Right" +3 points. To max out the Healer Bond, follow these steps: - Meet Maria on 6/10 of the main storyline. - Increase her Bond to gain more experience and unlock new Archetypes. - Max out MAG Bonus by earning 2 "You're Not Weird" +2 "I'd Never Forget" +2 points. To max out the Brawler Bond, follow these steps: - Speak with Catherina during Regalith Grand Cathedral to start her side quest. - Complete the tutorial correctly and gain access to new Archetypes. - Max out MAG Bonus by earning 2 "You Too" +2 "I Didn't Know You Did, either" +2 points. To max out the Gunner Bond, follow these steps: - Start Neuras's side quest Providing A Spark during the main storyline. - Complete it to unlock his Bond and new Archetypes. - Max out MAG Bonus by earning 2 "Would He Really Mislead You?" +1 "I'm Definitely Motivated" +2 points. To max out the Commander Bond, follow these steps: - Gain Bardon as a Follower during the side quest Old Castle Town Kidnapper. - Complete the required event to access new main story scenes and unlock Archetypes. - Max out MAG Bonus by earning 2 "You're Popular" +3 "It'll Be Fine" +3 points. To bond with Alonzo and get his help as the Faker, you'll need an Imagination Virtue rank of at least 2. Next, visit Cuculus in Martia Thoroughfare Square on or after June 29th to do the side quest A Dragger, A Ring, And A Rake. There, Alonzo will give you access to the Faker and Trickster Archetypes, and also requires high Tolerance and Wisdom to rank up completely. To boost your MAG with him, you'll need to have conversations with him using specific dialogue options from his Rank Up Event, which has a maximum bonus of +4. You can only bond with Brigitta, the Merchant, after achieving a minimum Wisdom Virtue rank of 2. Then, visit her at Grand Trad Sunlumeo Street to initiate her quest A Bullish Embargo. Completing it will unlock access to the Merchant and Tycoon Archetypes in Metaphor: ReFantazio. Additionally, you'll need high Courage Virtue to fully complete her bond. Brigitta's Rank Up Event also has a maximum MAG bonus of +5, which is awarded during the event for free. In general, bonding with followers in Metaphor: ReFantazio allows you to not only learn more about them but also gain rewards and bonuses. You can find out how to unlock all followers and their respective guides on this Follower's guide page! Alongside the prince, although he was declared dead, she believed him to have survived the attack and searched for him alone, using her family name during travels, as it had become second nature to her. Hulkenberg Bond Guide mentions that How to Unlock is on Start Date 07/04, with Archetype Lineage being Thief and How to Unlock Unlocked automatically at 7/4, Heismay Noctule. A eugief tribe member and former knight who the protagonist met outside Martira, a notorious man involved in a series of kidnappings before being set up. His tribe members are extremely sensitive to sounds, allowing them to detect subtle noises their companions can't. Heismay Bond Guide explains that How to Unlock is on Start Date 08/18, with Archetype Lineage being Masked Dancer and How to Unlock Complete Save the Mourning Snakes Juani Cygnus. A beautiful songstress from the nidia tribe whose voice is praised throughout the kingdom. She appears at major yearly events held by the royal family and the Crown Theocracy, gaining immense popularity outside the kingdom as well. Her relationship with Louis leads many to speculate about their romantic involvement, but she's actually more of an assistant to him. Junah Bond Guide mentions that although Junah joins early, they only bond with the protagonist after completing the Save the Mourning Snakes Side Quest. This can be unlocked in August by reaching Virga Island and completing the Save the Mourning Snakes Quest Guide on Start Date 08/20, with Archetype Lineage being Summoner and How to Unlock Complete The Trial of Malnova Euphausia Etoreika. A young mustari woman revered as a sacred priestess in the mustari village on Virga Island. She's entrusted with the divine relic, Drakodios lance, which represents the Dragon God itself. Her senses are especially keen due to her third eye allowing her to clearly perceive the flow of magla. Like Junah, Eupha will only bond with the protagonist after completing her related side quest. To start her bond, complete the Trial of Malnova, specifically after clearing the Obtain Drakodios Main Quest. The Trial of Malnova Quest Guide mentions that it can be unlocked on Start Date 09/14, with Archetype Lineage being Berserker and How to Unlock Speak to Basilio while traveling in the Gauntlet Runner. Basilio Magnus is a high-ranking member of Louis's faction and one of his closest aides. He trusts his older brother Fidelio absolutely and is known as nearly unstoppable on the battlefield when paired with him, as the brawn half of the Magnus brother partnership. To bond with Basilio, simply speak to him while traveling in the Gauntlet Runner. A genius engineer from the Ishkia tribe who can single-handedly manage all things gauntlet runners, from planning to maintenance to piloting. He was contracted to build the prince's gauntlet runner before he vanished and has no interest in social status or family prestige, leading his family to dismiss him as an unmanageable oddball. To bond with Neuras, simply head to Komero Village once you reach Martira. Neuras's bond quest "Providing a Spark" automatically unlocks at level 6/10. This character is Grius's daughter, with rhoag and ishkia bloodlines. She lives in the Hushed Honeybee Inn in Grand Trad, where Fabienne cares for her. Despite being cheerful and lovable, Neuras faces discrimination due to her half-blood heritage, making it difficult for her to form friendships. Maria, a Roussainte warrior, can be unlocked by completing "Apprehend the Real Kidnapper" quest, which features Elphas Bardon. As captain of the guard corps in Martira, Maria is known for her integrity and fair judgment, earning him the trust of the Lady of Martira. He traveled to Grand Trad to post a bounty for the kidnappings plaguing Martira. Catherina Grann, a paripus bounty hunter, can be unlocked at level 6/12. She's a candidate in the Tournament for the Throne and has garnered modest support from her tribe and some individuals who admire her skills and promise to place bounties on the rich. Alonzo Crotalus, a young nidia man with a talent for deception, can be met by speaking with him at Thoroughfare Square in Martira. He's adept at gathering information and using it to his advantage, often targeting wealthy and influential individuals. Brigitta, the rhoag proprietress of Lycaon Magic Association, can be unlocked after completing "A Bullish Embargo" side quest. She has a reputation for being unapproachable due to her frosty demeanor and alleged shady connections, but she evaluates people based on their abilities rather than their background. Eren, an enigmatic young man from Akademeia, can be met by sleeping at camp after beating Homo Gorleo at the Northern Border Front. He's an ally who possesses knowledge that igniters are not essential to magic and has expertise on Archetypes, but many mysteries surround him. As you advance through the story, early followers start becoming available in the Prologue itself, starting with More. Additionally, a list of main quest walkthroughs features Bonds as Confidants or Social Links for Metaphor: ReFantazio, representing interconnected character interactions that deepen your understanding of each individual over time.
